

WORLD PRESS FREEDOM DAY 2018

#WorldPressFreedomDay
 #PressFreedom

KEEPING POWER IN CHECK:
 MEDIA, JUSTICE AND THE RULE OF LAW

“Promoting a free press is standing up for our right to truth.”
 — António Guterres, United Nations Secretary-General

It is not usually the place of The BoZone to interject its opinion into politics but, as circumstances make us feel less comfortable with certain elements of the current administration, we can no longer keep quiet. With the recent release of the James Comey memos, we have learned that the man in the oval office had “floated the idea of jailing journalists to stop leaks from the White House.” As more and more non-American, non-presidential comments come out of 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue, are we, the American public, becoming desensitized to what is being spewed?
 In direct opposition to the First Amendment (Congress shall make no law respecting an establishment of religion, or prohibiting the free exercise thereof; or abridging the freedom of speech, or of the press; or the right of the people peaceably to assemble, and to petition the Government for a redress of grievances.), for the President of the United States to say “it may involve putting reporters in jail” is unconscionable!

 World Press Freedom Day was proclaimed by the UN General Assembly in December 1993, following the recommendation of UNESCO’s General Conference. Since then, May 3rd, the anniversary of the Declaration of Windhoek is celebrated worldwide as World Press Freedom Day.

It is an opportunity to:
 – Celebrate the fundamental principles of press freedom;
 – Assess the state of press freedom throughout the world;
 – Defend the media from attacks on their independence (262 jailed world wide in 2017);
 – and Pay tribute to journalists who have lost their lives in the line of duty (57 since 2017)
 The theme of 2018’s 25th celebration highlights the importance of an enabling legal environment for press freedom, and gives special attention to the role of an independent judiciary in ensuring legal guarantees for press freedom and the prosecution of crimes against journalists.

At the same time, the theme addresses the role of the media in sustainable development, especially during elections – as a watchdog fostering transparency, accountability, and the rule of law. The theme also aims to explore legislative gaps with regard to freedom of expression and information online, and the risks of regulating online speech.
 Journalists are not “the opposition party” or “enemies of the people” (a Stalinesque term used by Trump). The authoritarian rhetoric coming out of our White House labeling unfavorable but factual stories as “fake news” only weakens The United States’ once stellar reputation for Freedom of the Press and our Democracy. Valley's largest art class kicks off Give Big in support of Emerson, Sweet Pea & S.L.A.M.

The Emerson Center for the Arts & Culture, Sweet Pea Festival, and S.L.A.M. are making big hair, big fun, and big art a part of Give Big Gallatin Valley. Joining forces and embracing PBS icon Bob Ross' belief that anyone can paint, the three organizations are hosting "Give Big with Bob," the largest art class in the valley. Everyone in the community is invited to the Emerson Ballroom on Thursday, May 3rd to explore their creativity while supporting arts and culture.

The event is for friends, families, neighbors, and anyone with an interest in arts and culture, to come together to celebrate the "all for one, art for all" with S.L.A.M., Sweet Pea Festival and the Emerson.

"Give Big with Bob" will feature three fun sessions where participants paint their own masterpieces under the instruction of a local artist and are encouraged to wear big hair or come dressed as their favorite artist! Anyone can make a donation through Give Big Gallatin Valley during the class. Beer and wine will be available for purchase during evening "Give Big with Bob & Beer" sessions. Root beer will be available for the "Little Bobs Give Big" afternoon session. Pre-registration is requested. Class fee will cover cost of materials and ensure each participant a spot.

— Session 1 (kids): Little Bobs Give Big w/ guest instructor Angela Yonke from 4-6pm in the Emerson Ballroom

"Little Bobs Give Big" is a special after-school session for the youngest art patrons with their very own donations station and donor lounge. Young donors can make their very own contributions to the Emerson, Sweet Pea and S.L.A.M. in any amount. All young artists must be accompanied by a parent or guardian. This session is $10 per child.

— Sessions 2 & 3: Give Big with Bob & Beer w/

guest instructors Melissa Summerfield from 6-8pm and Noah Massey from 8-10pm, both in the Emerson Ballroom

"Give Big with Bob & Beer" officially launches 24 hours of Give Big Gallatin Valley. During each two-hour session, participants will paint 8"x10" masterpieces, be able to make donations through Give Big Gallatin Valley, purchase adult refreshments and make history by being a part of the largest art class in Bozeman. These sessions are $30 a piece.

And be sure to stop by the Rocking R Bar on Friday, May 4th to share support of the Emerson, S.L.A.M., Sweet Pea and community artists between 11:30am and 6pm.

To register and for more information about Give Big with Bob, please call (406) 587-9797 ext.106, email events@theEmerson.org, or visit www.theemerson.org/all-for-one-art-for-all-2018.

Paris Opera Ballet gold medalist performs title role in Giselle at Willson

Tickets go on sale May 1st for the dramatic classic ballet, Giselle, with Mathilde Froustey, Varna gold medalist, San Francisco Ballet principal dancer, and Paris Opera Ballet sujet (soloist). Miss Froustey will perform the title role of Giselle with dancers from Yellowstone Ballet Company and Raison D'etre Dance at Willson Auditorium in Bozeman on Thursday, June 14th at 6:30pm and Friday, June 15th at 7:30pm.

Yellowstone Ballet Company Artistic Director, Kathleen Rakela, says, "The role of Giselle is one of the most prized roles in ballet. To perform Giselle, a ballerina must have impeccable technique, outstanding grace, and great dramatic skills. Giselle is to a ballerina what portraying Hamlet is to an actor. The role puts huge demands on the ballerina, both as a dancer and as an actor. During the ballet, Giselle moves from innocent maiden in love, to a woman driven mad from the loss of that love, to an ethereal spirit in a world beyond death. It is a rare treat to have such a classic performed on the Willson Auditorium stage in Bozeman, Montana, with a dancer of the caliber of Mathilde Froustey."

Besides winning gold at the Varna International Ballet Competition, the oldest and the most prestigious ballet competitions in the world, Mathilde has received numerous awards and international recognition, including: an Isadora

Duncan Dance Award for her performances of Giselle with Tiit Helimets during the San Francisco Ballet 2015 Repertory Season; a Danza & Danza's best foreign dancer award in 2013; and the Ballet2000 dance prize in 2007.

She has also danced Giselle with Kremlin Ballet at the State Kremlin Palace in Moscow, Russia, in September 2016 and performed at Paris Ballet in Hanoi, Vietnam; with Compañía Nacional de Danza in Madrid; at the International Ballet Gala XX in Dortmund, Germany; and in Paris Opera Ballet's Don Quixote in Tokyo.

The French daily newspaper Le Figaro reported, "How can one overlook Mathilde Froustey, this charming and refined brunette, this stunning actress who dances like she breathes."

"She lights up the stage," says Helgi Tomasson, artistic director of the San Francisco Ballet. "What I love about her dancing is her joy. She feels music, and as an audience member, you connect with her."

Tickets go on sale May 1 at Eckroth Music in Bozeman and www.yellowstoneballet.info. Tickets range $25 - $75. Tickets will also be available at the door for an additional $2.

Park High students stage legend of King Arthur at Shane's Dulcie Theatre

The Shane Lalani Center for the Arts is pleased to announce its annual collaboration with Park High School, Camelot, playing in the Dulcie Theatre throughout the month of May.

Lerner and Loewe's fantastical masterpiece brings the legend of King Arthur to life. Camelot tells the story of Arthur, an idealistic young king who hopes to create a kingdom built on honor and dignity, as embodied by his Knights of the Round Table. But just as this utopian vision starts to become a reality, the world of human realities intrudes, and the fate of the kingdom hangs in the balance. This production is performed entirely by students of Park High School.

Camelot runs weekends from May 4th-20th. Showtimes are Fridays and Saturdays at 8pm, and Sundays at 3pm. Tickets are $18 for adults, $14 for seniors and college students, and $10 for youth 17 and under. Reservations are available at www.theshanecenter.org or by calling the box office at (406) 222-1420. The Shane Center is located at 415 E Lewis St.

Camelot is generously sponsored by Don and Marilyn Murdock, First Interstate Bank, SpecTec/TIC - Walter and Regina Wunsch, and Yellowstone Valley Lodge & Grill.

Come what May - at Verge Theater!

Spring is here! Verge has declared it, so it is so. And to back up that declaration, the community theater has a May lineup that'll bring some pep to your world!

The hilarious and irreverent Barbeque Apocalypse, by Matt Lyle, continues its world-ending run in May. Three couples gather on the back deck of a very modest suburban home for a mid-summer barbecue where the hosts, Mike and Deb, struggle with feelings of inadequacy about their home decor, their clothes, their careers, their culinary skills, and pretty much everything else. Throughout the first act, feelings are hurt over petty gossip, inconsequential concerns, physical slights, and pop cultural deficiencies. The superficial, neuroses-laden interpersonal squabbles bubble over to a flash of inept violence when one of the guests makes what we learn is just one in a series of passes at Deb. As the act closes, the group discovers the rest of the world has been literally falling apart during their little, terrible barbecue.

Act Two takes place on the same deck for another barbecue to celebrate their one-year post-apocalypse anniversary. In a year where the only way to measure success is survival, roles have reversed, and we explore how each character's basic nature has allowed them to adapt and thrive or has pushed them to the brink of extinction. Barbeque Apocalypse runs

Fridays and Saturdays at 8pm, May 4th-12th. Tickets are $14 in advance, or $16 at the door. Read The BoZone's interview with its Director, Kip Savoie, and Hilary Parker, Executive Director at Verge, by visiting www.BoZone.com.

The Bozeman Improverts are back in May with two very different shows. To open the month, The Improverts will perform their final Improv on the Verge Monday night show of the season. The Improverts give the biggest laughs for the fewest bucks! Guaranteed to be a hilarious start to your week, popular improv games are played in the style of Whose Line is it Anyway?, as well as long-form improv. Everything is created on the spot and based on audience suggestions. Come enjoy cheap thrills for your laugh hole! The final Improv on the Verge show of the season is May 7th at 7pm.

But then the Bozeman Improverts will be back on the Verge Main Stage with Random Acts of Improv to tackle a whole night of long-form improv, the tightrope walk of the theater world! For three nights in a row, each audience member will be asked to invent the name of a play. All play titles will go into a hat.

At the start of the performance, a random audience member will be asked to pick a title out of the hat and then the Improverts, with only a title and their steely-eyed skills, will create and perform that play before your very eyes. This is a wonder to behold! Random Acts of Improv runs Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, May 24th-26th, at 8pm each evening.

Tickets for Improv on the Verge and Random Acts of Improv are $7 in advance, or $9 at the door. Shows are recommended for ages 17+.

That's not all! Verge's middle school teens have been working hard at their Spring production! And so Verge Teen Theater proudly presents I Hate Shakespeare, by Steph DeFerie. This play is a hilarious theatrical debate on the merit of Shakespeare. It is a whirlwind of Shakespearean soliloquies, unconventional staging, witty banter, and talking cows.

Director Jaelyn Silvey has guided the teens through a 5-week rehearsal process that has not only given the teens an introduction to Shakespeare, but has also challenged their comedic skills, giving them experience breaking the fourth wall. I Hate Shakespeare runs for only two performances, Friday and Saturday, May 18th-19th at 7pm each night. Tickets are only $7 in advance, or $9 at the door.

Visit www.vergetheater.com for reservations and further information about these and other upcoming productions. Advance tickets are also available in store at Cactus Records. See you at "The Little Black Box on the Edge (of Bozeman)!"

Blue Slipper presents On Golden Pond

The Blue Slipper Theatre has announced its stage production of Ernest Thompson's On Golden Pond. Performances will be held May 4th-20th. Showtimes are Friday and Saturday evenings at 8pm, with Sunday matinees to follow at 3pm. Tickets are $16 for adults, $12 for students and seniors, or $10 for youth. The Dale Ruhd-directed tale is the love story of Ethel and Norman Thayer, who are returning to their summer home on Golden Pond for the forty-eighth year.

Norman, a retired professor nearing eighty, with heart palpitations and a failing memory but still as tart-tongued, observant, and eager for life as ever.

Ethel, ten years younger, and the perfect foil for Norman, delights in all the small things that have enriched and continue to enrich their long life together.

They are visited by their divorced, middle-aged daughter and her dentist fiancé, who then go off to Europe, leaving his teenage son behind for the summer. The boy quickly becomes the "grandchild" the elderly couple have longed for, and as Norman revels in taking his ward fishing and trusting good books at him, he also learns some lessons about modern teenage awareness and slang in return. In the end, as the summer wanes, so does their brief idyll, and in the final, deeply moving moments of the play, Norman and Ethel are brought even closer together by the incidence of a mild heart attack. Time, they know, is now against them, but the years have been good and,

perhaps, another summer on Golden Pond still awaits.

This slice of life play features Gary Fish and Donna Pace as the Thayers, Quenby Iandiorio as Chelsea, Tom Baskett at Bill Ray, Sean Devine as Charlie, as well as Jesse Gentry and Curran Devine sharing the role of Billy Ray.

Regional history, last call for Julius Caesar & MORE at Museum

There's a full calendar at the Museum of the Rockies as Southwest Montana is finally seeing some legitimate signs of the sunnier seasons. Here's a look at some upcoming events at your neighborhood museum.

Estate Planning For Everyone is first up on Monday, May 7th in Hager Auditorium at 6pm. Have you considered how to leave a legacy for your family, friends, and community... forever? If you have a will, and especially if you do not, you will learn from Marsha A. Goetting, Ph.D., CFP, CFCIS, and a professor at Montana State University. Come and learn how to plan your estate in this interactive seminar. Kindly RSVP by Monday, April 30th to Callie Hamilton at (406) 994-7460 or callie.hamilton@montana.edu. This event is free and open to the public.

The Gallatin History Museum Lecture Series' next edition, East

Gallatin/Hamilton Cemetery: Locating the Unmarked Component with Terri Wolfgram and Eileen Skinner-Hale, will take place Wednesday, May 9th in Hager Auditorium beginning at 6pm.

The East Gallatin (also known as The Hamilton) Cemetery was one of the earliest formal burial grounds in the Gallatin Valley, established in 1865 by the pioneer families settling the rich farm lands. These people were the first to enter the valley in covered wagons in 1864, headed for the gold fields of Alder Gulch while the Civil War was still raging and ravaging the lands to the east. Many left the deplorable, lawless conditions of Nevada and Virginia City and returned to farm the Gallatin Valley.

The cemetery has 260 marked graves and many unmarked burials including a "Pauper Section." Some family have four generations buried there, starting in the 1860s and through the present. After the droughts hitting the farmers hard from 1919 on, and then the desperation of the Great Depression of the 1930s, many of the families moved away. The cemetery was left untended, becoming overgrown with sage, thistles, and other weeds – the existing tombstones barely visible.

In 2016, a group of locals decided to clean up and revive the historic cemetery. Funds were solicited to record graves and identify unmarked burials, of which there are over 200. With help from the Montana Archaeological Society's Conservation Fund, along with assistance from the Historic Preservation Board of Gallatin County and other funding and labor sources, the work of research, magnetometry, Ground Penetrating Radar and individual documentation of each marked grave began with the final goal of providing an accurate map of the burial locations. This talk will take attendees through the process.

An Adventures in Conservation event is set for Friday, May 11th in Hager Auditorium at 7pm. Panasonic LUMIX Ambassador and founder of the Arctic Documentary Project, Daniel J. Cox, and Geoff York of Polar Bears International, will share stories and pictures from their many years documenting and studying the world's largest terrestrial carnivore. Nature photography and science come together for this presentation about changes affecting the first animal ever listed as a threatened species due to predicted transformations in the Arctic. This event is open to the public.

Gallatin History Museum lectures

focus on the dynamic and lively history of the Gallatin Valley. These presentations are free and open to the public.

The next edition of the Science Inquiry Lecture Series, A Revolution in Astronomy with Dr. Neil Cornish, will take place Tuesday, May 15th in Hager Auditorium beginning at 7pm. This presentation is open to the public.

At each month's Science Inquiry Lecture, explore cutting edge science topics, their latest developments, and their relevance to society through speaker presentations followed by a Q&A session.

MOR is pleased to host the Extreme History Project Lecture Series, encouraging public understanding of the way our history has shaped our present. Speakers take a fresh look at interesting historical topics. The Story Cattle Drive with John Russell is next up on Thursday, May 17th at 6pm. This lecture will be held in Hager Auditorium and is open to the public.

Nelson Story's prominence in Bozeman and Southwest Montana emanated from his historic 1866 cattle drive from Texas to the Yellowstone Valley. Russell will discuss the drive and how Story and his men overcame opposition from Kansas Jayhawkers, the U.S. Army, and the Sioux Nation to bring 1,000 head of longhorns into Montana territory.

Catch it before it's gone! The Museum's featured exhibit, Julius Caesar: Military Genius & Mighty Machines, is open during regular hours and closes Sunday, May 13th. The array was born from the desire to recreate a fascinating period of history, as realistically as possible, to explore and experience the mighty machines, gadgets, and clever technologies of the Roman Empire. Showcasing over 100 interactive machines, virtual reality displays, reconstructed scaled models, recreated artwork and frescoes, the exhibition is presented covering four themes: Military Genius, All Roads Lead to Rome, Building Rome, and Entertainment & Lifestyle.

Journey back in time 2,000 years to discover the life, culture, and engineering genius created by the Roman Empire. Handcrafted by Italian artists, this exhibition contains interactive models that integrate science and history. Museum guests are encouraged to explore the innovative machines that continue to influence the technologies of today. Julius Caesar: Military Genius & Mighty Machines is included with Museum admission.

Looking ahead, a brand new exhibit for summer! GUITAR: The Instrument That Rocked the World comes to the Museum on Saturday, May 26th following a members-only preview the night prior. Explore the history of the world's most recognized musical instrument. Experience diverse genres of music and discover the science of pitch and tone. Crossing over cultural boundaries, the guitar has made a significant impact on a wide variety of groups from gypsies to cowboys to teenage rebels.

For more information about these events and exhibits, visit www.museumoftherockies.org or call (406) 994-5257. • events venue just outside of Bozeman. The Grand Hall is an elegant and versatile indoor space reflective of Montana's unique charm. It can accommodate trade shows, conferences, parties, weddings and intimate concerts. A few decorating touches can create any atmosphere, from a natural country setting to a sophisticated, modern affair.

Human/horse bond subject of new photo exhibit at Old Main Gallery

Old Main Gallery is pleased to present the work of acclaimed Bozeman photojournalist Louise Johns in the upcoming exhibition:

"For the Love of Horses," a photographic journey that celebrates the bond between people and horses. An Opening Reception will take place Friday, May 4th from 5-7pm. This event is free and open to the public.

"People have all kinds of relationships with horses," says Johns. "For many, horses are a necessity for work on the land. For others, they are performers, athletes, a source of pride. For some they are therapists and healers. And for most, they are a source of wisdom, purpose, and comfort. For me, they are the root of my being, my most trusted friends and my greatest teachers."

Johns is a freelance photographer and a National Geographic Young Explorer living in Bozeman. Her current work concentrates on the relationship between people and wilderness in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem. She has explored these issues in India, Chile and Botswana. Johns tells stories in an intimate, sensitive and respectful way. Through photography, video and writing she studies and looks for stories about people who are doing work for the common good of humanity and wild landscapes.

Old Main Gallery & Framing is located at 129 E Main St. in Downtown Bozeman. Hours are Monday through Friday from 10am-5:30pm, Saturday from 10am-5pm, and Sunday from 11am-5pm. Learn more about the space and framing services at www.oldmaingallery.com. •

Support emerging local artists at MSU's HEC Gallery

The School of Art at Montana State University is pleased to announce the 2018 Spring BFA Thesis Exhibition at the Helen E. Copeland Gallery, located on the second floor of Haynes Hall. The show will be on exhibit through Friday, May 4th, when an artists' closing reception will be held from 6-8pm. Hors d'oeuvres will be served and cash bar will be available. This event is free and open to the public.

On view will be the thesis works of 12 emerging artists graduating with their Bachelors Degrees in Fine Art. All disciplines and concentrations the School offers will be represented: drawing, painting, ceramics, printmaking, sculpture, and metal-smithing.

For BFA graduates, the thesis exhibition represents an important transition period from student to working artist. It marks an end to academically-assigned work, and the beginning of their individual research and artistic maturity. The exhibited works synthesize the growth of each artist over their years spent at MSU.

The following students will be included in the exhibition: Jason Baide, Brian Bigelow, Christy Brown, Emily Ferguson, Florence MacDonald, Catherine Schroeder, Kailey Slem, Alisha Fisher, Kenzie Kvalsten, Alexander Peters, Megan Horner, and James Hogan. The subject matter will be as diverse as the students' trades, discussing topics such as the archaic methods of cataloging old museums and Wunderkammern, Native identity, endangered species, the victories and losses of war, and anthropomorphism in jewelry.

In combination, these students have received grants, taken home places in national competitions around the country, and have had their own solo or participated in group shows during their time at Montana State University. This cohort exemplifies some of the best work that the MSU School of Art has to offer.

The Helen E. Copeland Gallery is located on the second floor of Haynes Hall. Hours are Monday through Friday from 9am-5pm. For more information on this exhibition or the gallery, please visit hecgallery.com or follow them on Facebook (@msuhecg). •

VERGE THEATER

Ellen hosts Comedian Pat McGann, film classics & more!

The Ellen Theatre, a Downtown Bozeman institution, is your source for some of the area's best big screen entertainment and stage performances. It also houses some great musical acts, both local and those coming through town. Here's a look at what's happening downtown.

First up, join Intermountain Opera Bozeman for a FREE screening of BBC's Henry IV: Part I – The Hollow Crown on Thursday, May 3rd at 7:30pm. Starring Jeremy Irons, Simon Russell Beale, and Tom Hiddleston, this masterful adaptation of Shakespeare's historical play will introduce viewers to the hilarious character of Falstaff, the title character in Giuseppe Verdi's opera (to be performed by Intermountain May 11th and 13th). This is a perfect opportunity for families to venture into the world of Medieval England. The evening, part of Give Big Gallatin Valley, will include raffle tickets, children's activity guides, and other treats. This event is open to the public. Give Big activities begin at 6pm, with the screening to follow.

On Friday, May 4th, Beartooth Vanworks and Sovereign Woods present Fight Club on The Ellen silver screen. A man suffering from insomnia meets a soap salesman and the two form an underground club and fight other men who are fed up with their mundane lives. Rated R, the Brad Pitt/Edward Norton-starrer runs 2 hours, 30 minutes. Tickets are $5 and the film starts at 7:30pm.

Comedian Pat McGann visits The Ellen on Saturday, May 5th at 8pm. McGann is a stand-up comedian and television host from Chicago. In 2015, he made his second appearance on the Late Show with David Letterman. McGann created and hosted the Emmy-nominated television show The Chicago Stand-Up Project. He's been invited to The Great American Comedy Festival, Laugh Fest, The Lucille Ball Comedy Festival, and has been heard on the nationally syndicated The Bob & Tom Show, as well as seen on AXS-TV's Gotham Comedy Live. His debut comedy album, Sounds Good, can be heard on SiriusXM radio. Tickets are $26.

Check out Silent Sunday Shorts on Sunday, May 6th, a side-splitting lineup of Keaton and Chaplin short films. Celebrate two comic geniuses of the silent era with an afternoon of laughs! Tickets are only $2 at the door – no ticket needed, just show up! The afternoon will elapse approximately two hours, including a short intermission. The laughs begin at 2pm.

TATE Academy, the education wing of The Ellen, presents its Spring show Alice in Wonderland on Saturday, May 19th at 7pm, and Sunday, May 20th at 3pm. The all-student production is a one-act stage adaptation of Lewis Carroll's books Alice in Wonderland and Alice Through the Looking Glass. More information is available at www.TateAcademy.org. The play runs one hour, with no intermission.

Directed by Stanley Donen, Charade is an Academy Award-nominated film screening Friday, May 25th at 7:30pm. Known for combining elements of suspense, comedy and romance, Charade stars Audrey Hepburn, Cary Grant, Walter Matthau, James Coburn, George Kennedy and Ned Glass. All seats are $5 and the film runs 1 hour, 55 minutes.

Screening Sunday, May 27th at 2pm, 1925 silent comedy The Gold Rush was written, produced and directed by Charlie Chaplin, who also stars in the film as his Little Tramp persona. One of Chaplin's most celebrated works today, the film was nominated for multiple Academy Awards. Tickets are only $2 at the door – no ticket needed, just show up! The Gold Rush runs 95 minutes.

Wine, beer, and other refreshments will be sold in the lobby beginning one hour before all showtimes. Ticketing and further information about these and other upcoming events is available at www.theellentheatre.org. For additional inquiries, please call (406) 585-5885 or stop into The Ellen box office. Hours are Wednesday through Saturday from 1–3pm, as well as two hours prior to any event. See you in historic downtown! •

Upcoming BFS titles inspire & entertain at downtown venues

Bozeman Film Society (BFS) is back on screen at the Rialto and Ellen Theatre in May with critically praised new releases and indies. First up, Lean on Pete screens at the Rialto on Sunday, May 6th at 6pm. Writer/director Andrew Haigh's drama is based on the beloved novel by Willy Vlautin.

Fifteen-year-old Charley Thompson (Charlie Plummer) arrives in Portland, Oregon with his single father Ray (Travis Fimmel), both of them eager for a fresh start after a series of hard knocks. While Ray descends into personal turmoil, Charley finds acceptance and camaraderie at a local racetrack where he lands a job caring for an aging Quarter Horse named Lean On Pete. The horse's gruff owner Del

Montgomery (Steve Buscemi) and his seasoned jockey Bonnie (Chloë Sevigny) help Charley fill the void of his father's absence – until he discovers that Pete is bound for slaughter, prompting him to take extreme measures to spare his new friend's life. Charley and Pete head out into the great unknown, embarking on an odyssey across the new American frontier in search of a loving aunt Charley hasn't seen in years. They experience adventure and heart-break in equal measure, but never lose their irrepressible hope and resiliency as they pursue their dream of finding a place they can call home. Rated R, Lean on Pete runs 121 minutes.

"It's hard to imagine anyone watching Lean on Pete and not rooting hard for Charley's wish to come true." – Chicago Sun-Times

Armando Iannucci's The Death of Stalin follows on Wednesday, May 9th at The Ellen Theatre beginning at 7pm. The one-liners fly as fast as political fortunes fall in this uproarious, wickedly irreverent satire directed by the Emmy-award winning writer/director and creator of Veep.

Moscow, 1953: when tyrannical dictator Joseph Stalin drops dead, his parasitic cronies square off in a frantic power struggle to be the next Soviet leader. Among the contenders are the dweeby Georgy Malenkov (Jeffrey Tambor), the wily Nikita Khrushchev (Steve Buscemi), and the sadistic secret police chief Lavrentiy Beria (Simon Russell Beale). But as they bumble, brawl, and backstab their way to the top, just who is running the government? Combining palace intrigue with rapid-fire farce, this is a biting funny takedown of bureaucratic dysfunction performed to the hilt by a sparkling ensemble cast. Rated R, The Death of Stalin runs 107 minutes.

"The laughs come in jolts and waves in 'The Death of Stalin,' delivered in a brilliantly arranged mix of savage one-liners, lacerating dialogue and perfectly timed slapstick." – New York Times, Critics' Pick

In recognition of Mental Health Month on Sunday, May 20th, a special Science on Screen presentation of Infinitely Polar Bear will unfold at the Rialto at 6pm.

The autobiographical film by Maya Forbes stars Mark Ruffalo as Cameron, a man who suffers from bipolar disorder. After a breakdown forces him to leave his family and move into a halfway house, he attempts to rebuild a relationship with his two daughters, and win back the trust of his wife Maggie (Zoe Saldana). When Maggie decides to go to business school in New York, they decide that he will move back in and take care of the day-today care for the kids. Due to his mercurial nature, this leads to a series of quirky, funny, and sometimes frightening episodes. Rated R, Infinitely Polar Bear runs 90 minutes.

"Delivers an effectively heart-tugging family story without sentimentalizing mental illness" – Chicago Reader

Back at The Ellen on Wednesday, May 23rd, the Montana premiere of BAFTA-nominated director Jennifer Peedom's Mountain will light up the screen at 7pm.

A unique cinematic and musical collaboration between the Australian Chamber Orchestra and Peedom, Mountain is a dazzling exploration of our obsession with mountains. Only three centuries ago, climbing a mountain would have been considered close to lunacy. The idea scarcely existed that wild landscapes might hold any sort of attraction. Peaks were places of peril, not beauty. Why, then, are we now drawn to mountains in our millions? Mountain shows us the spellbinding force of high places – and their ongoing power to shape our lives and our dreams. Co-produced by North Face. Not Rated, Mountain runs 75 minutes.

RUSSIAN DOCUMENTARY The Road Movie thrills, lulls with YouTube clips

by Joseph Shelton

It was inevitable that YouTube, with its millions of bite-sized videos that require very little investment, either of time or of thought, should come to influence the grand old art forms that it threatens to supplant. Anyone who has ever sat and watched a compilation of "epic fails" or "oddly satisfying" videos can appreciate how their images run together, how it begins to be difficult to tell where one ends and another begins. Soon the entire universe seems to be composed of nothing but short, similar episodes – the world reduced to a thirty-second loop.

Dmitrii Kalashnikov's documentary The Road Movie, composed entirely out of footage shot with dashboard cams on the streets and highways of Russia, captures that not-wholly pleasant feeling by presenting an hour and ten minutes of some of the worst impulses that transportation can engender. Here are hammers and flails smashing through windows, cars sailing over bridges and, in one truly terrifying clip, through a raging forest fire. Several videos happen to capture the fiery arc of a comet's descent to earth, and another the moment a nervous thief runs off with a few sausage links stolen out of a delivery truck. Some of the clips linger on the aftermaths of the accidents, as onlookers appear seemingly out of nowhere and mill around the debris like some kind of nightmarish swarm.

All of which makes for a terrifically entertaining movie. You watch it white knuckled, waiting for whatever horrible thing is about to happen to happen. And you're rarely let down; at some point in almost every clip some or another automobile's vector goes horribly wrong to the tune of crunching metal, Slavic profanity and Russian pop music. It might be a good thing, therefore, that as you watch it you don't really have a moment to stop and think.

That is, because even though the film is stylish and well-edited, with a wry undertone to it all, it never seems to have much of a point beyond that, well, Russian traffic is hell. There might be something there about the ubiquity of cameras, or how driving seems to make us our worst selves, or maybe even something about the national character of the country. But, for better or worse, the audience is left to derive their own conclusions. And like someone who has watched a few Youtube "fails" in a row, that conclusion is likely to be, simply, "wow, that * is fed up, dude".

For those brave or perverse enough, The Road Movie will be available stateside on DVD and Blu-Ray May 29th.

Annual Gem & Mineral Show returns to Fairgrounds

and more. The event will include a spectacular raffle, silent auctions running all weekend, and a Garnet sorting table. Twenty-five display cases will present gems, minerals, and specimens collected by Club members, including "Best of Montana" and those from all over the world. Free polished rock for kids at the door!

This event is a great opportunity for families to view and/or purchase world class mineral specimens. It's also a great chance to learn more about and join the club. If attendees have a rock or mineral specimens that need identifying, they are encouraged to bring them in for identification.

The Gem and Mineral Show is a fundraiser for the Bozeman Gem and Mineral Club, a nonprofit organization and oldest "rock club" in Montana. Organized in 1939, the club is meant for anyone interested in rocks, fossils, gemstones, field trips, and learning lapidary and rock cutting skills. It also has its own lapidary shop for cutting, polishing, and capping rocks.

The Bozeman Gem & Mineral Club has announced its annual Gem & Mineral Show will take place Mother's Day weekend, Saturday and Sunday, May 12th-13th. The event will unfold at Gallatin County Fairgrounds on Saturday from 10am-6pm, then again on Sunday from 10am-4pm. A $3 admission will gain entry for both days - only $2 for mothers on Sunday! The show is free for those 12 and under with an adult. Come stock up on unique gifts for graduation, holidays, and all other occasions!

The weekend will feature eighteen vendors selling gems, minerals, fossils, beads, jewelry

If you have a curiosity for gems and minerals, the Bozeman Gem and Mineral Club is a great organization to develop wonderful friendships of all ages and interests. Visit www.bozemangemandmineralclub.com to learn more and don't miss the Gem Show & Sale, May 12th-13th!

Blacksmith Italian open for Mother's Day dinner

Looking for delicious food, refreshing wine, and a great place to spend Mother's Day? Blacksmith Italian offers a quaint space for family gatherings on the south side of Bozeman, just off Kagy and Willson.

Blacksmith is now accepting reservations for Mother's Day dinner on Saturday, May 13th, with seatings beginning at 4pm. Please call (406) 577-2585 to make yours!

Blacksmith's traditional-meets-modern Italia is sourced locally and made with fresh ingredients. They hand-craft pasta with the best Montana ingredients, organic Semolina, Durum wheat flours and farm-fresh eggs. Gluten-free pasta is also available. Dishes are made with Montana pork, lamb, and beef, as well as seafood sourced in sustainable regions.

But don't forget to start off your meal right with libations! The folks at Blacksmith update their wine and beer menu regularly to match the season. Their extensive selection features the best wines from Italy as well as some great domestic choices. There are also plenty of brew options for the less wine-savvy.

And when the messy spring weather decides to clean itself up, enjoy the privacy of Blacksmith's relaxing outdoor patio as you experience Italy right here in the Gallatin Valley. The fire pit and view of the Bridgers sets the right atmosphere for a romantic evening or gathering with friends.

Blacksmith Italian is open for lunch Tuesday through Friday from 11:30am-2pm, and dinner, Monday through Saturday from 5pm-close. Located at 290 West Kagy Blvd., please visit www.blacksmithitalian.com for a peek at the menu and further information.

GVLТ's Discovery Walks return in May and June 2018

The Gallatin Valley Land Trust (GVLТ) has worked hard for almost three decades to build an extensive 80-mile trail system that connects Main Street Bozeman to the Mountains that surround us. The Main Street to the Mountains trail system has trails for all abilities and they are accessible from neighborhoods all over town. However, the trail system can be daunting and confusing to the newcomer or novice user. And even the experienced trail users in Bozeman are probably unaware of all the trails right here in our backyard.

In order to help people explore the great community trail system, GVLТ presents its 2018 Discovery Walks, a trail exploration series, throughout May and June. Join GVLТ volunteers to walk, talk, and explore on the trails while meeting locals and learning something new along the way. These one-hour, guided, educational walks are totally FREE and open to the public. Volunteers and local experts will be hosting short talks and activities during the walks.

Here's a look at some of the May walks to kick off this fun and outdoorsy series.

The Wild World of Insects gets things started on Sunday, May 6th. Join an MSU Entomology student and learn all about the insects that crawl and fly around our trails. You'll love being able to name them next time you're hiking with friends. This walk meets at the base of Peets Hill (at the bridge near the parking lot off Church Ave.) at 12pm.

Nature Journaling follows Tuesday, May 8th. Grow your relationship with the natural world through a nature journal. Between drawing and taking notes, you'll notice the detail in the plants, animals, mountains, and landscapes that surround you. Great for families! This walk meets at Sourdough Trail (trailhead at Tuckerman Park off Goldenstein Rd.) at 5:30pm.

Next up, a Wildflower Walk will take place Saturday, May 12th. Come check out the spring wildflowers! Whitney Tilt, a local wildflower expert and author of Flora of the Yellowstone, will lead an exploration of the local flora. This walk meets at Mt. Ellis Trail (at the end of Mt. Ellis Lane off Bozeman Trail Rd.) at 9:30am.

On Monday, May 14th, Roots Family Collaborative presents Walk with Baby. Be a part of our community of new and expecting mothers! Join to explore the trails around Bozeman, feeling the benefits of nature with no judgments or expectations. Strap a baby on your back or let your toddler stop to smell the flowers – turn around whenever you like. This walk meets at Sourdough Trail (trailhead at Tuckerman Park off Goldenstein Rd.) at 9am.

Walk with a Doc is set for Wednesday, May 16th. Join a Bozeman Health provider to learn about health topics while you walk at your own pace. This walk meets at the base of Peets Hill (at the bridge near the parking lot off Church Ave.) at 5:30pm.

Discovery Walks do not require an RSVP, but please arrive a few minutes early to join the groups. Dogs are not allowed on walks for safety reasons. A full schedule may be found at www.gvlt.org/events/-/discovery-walks. Meeting locations and complete descriptions are also located on the website.

Gallatin Valley Land Trust connects people, communities, and open lands through conservation of working farms and ranches, healthy rivers, and wildlife habitat, as well as the creation of trails in the Montana headwaters of the Missouri and Upper Yellowstone Rivers. For more information about GVLТ and these walks, visit the aforementioned website. •

J. Drew Lanham presents on 'Diversity & Ornithology' at Elk River

Conservation ornithologist J. Drew Lanham, author of The Home Place: Memoirs of a Colored Man's Love Affair with Nature, will give a reading at 5:30pm on Thursday, May 3rd, at Elk River Books.

Lanham's book is a memoir of his relationship to his family's homestead in South Carolina, where he fell in love with the natural world. The Home Place explores what it means to find joy and freedom in the same land his ancestors were tied to by forced labor, and the challenges of being a black man in a profoundly white field.

"The Home Place is a groundbreaking work about race and the American landscape, and a deep meditation on nature, selfhood and the nature of home," writes Helen MacDonald, author of H is for Hawk.

Lanham holds an endowed chair as an Alumni Distinguished Professor at Clemson University. His essays on the intersections of culture and conservation, ethnicity and place, are widely anthologized and have appeared in The New York Times, USA Today, Slate and National Geographic Online.

Lanham's presentations, "Connecting the Conservation Dots" and "Coloring the Conservation Conversation," have been delivered internationally as calls for increased focus on inclusion, diversity and passion in the environmental movement.

The free, public event will take place upstairs at Elk River Books, located at 120 N

Main St. in Livingston. During his visit – which is made possible by a grant from Humanities Montana – Lanham will also meet with students at Park High School.

Elk River Arts & Lectures is a nonprofit organization that seeks to bring writers to Livingston for free public readings, and to provide opportunities for those writers to interact with local public school students. For more information, call (406) 333-2330 or visit www.elkriverarts.org. •

Select Yellowstone roadways now open to automobiles

From Yellowstone Public Affairs

Select roads and services in Yellowstone National Park [are now] open for the season. The opening of a five-mile stretch of road between Mammoth Hot Springs and Norris may be delayed until it is safe to drive on. Plan accordingly and stay informed.

Open Roads

- West Entrance to Madison
- Madison to Old Faithful
- Madison to Norris
- Norris to Canyon Village
- Norris to Roaring Mountain
- Mammoth Hot Springs to Willow Park

- North Entrance to Mammoth Hot Springs to Northeast Entrance (open year-round)
- Mammoth Hot Springs to Norris (anticipate 30-minute delays)

Open Services

- Visit Operating Hours & Seasons online for area-specific services.
- Stay Informed

Find updated road status on the park website, at Old Faithful, Mammoth Hot Springs, Canyon Village, and West Yellowstone visitor centers, and by calling (307) 344-2117. To receive Yellowstone road alerts on your mobile phone, text "82190" to 888-777 (an automatic text reply will confirm receipt and provide instructions).

Each spring, Yellowstone National Park clears snow and ice from approximately 320 miles of park roads as well as the Beartooth Highway outside the park's Northeast Entrance in preparation for the summer season.

Springtime in Yellowstone means fewer crowds, opportunities for hiking at lower elevations, and skiing or snowshoeing at higher elevations. Wildlife viewing highlights this time of year include bison calving, bears recently emerged from dens, bull elk antlers in velvet, and the arrival of migratory birds.

The park is pleased to offer a new, alternative method for purchasing digital annual and seven-day entrance passes online at www.YourPassNow.com. In addition to the traditional method of paying fees in-person upon arrival, visitors can use a personal device to purchase entrance passes at no additional cost. Once purchased, passes are emailed and can be used immediately, stored on a personal device, or printed for future use.

Since 1916, the National Park Service (NPS) has been entrusted with the care of America's more than 400 national parks. With the help of volunteers and partners, NPS safeguards these special places and share their stories with millions of people every year. •

Words from the Hive: The boys are back in town

Please join us for our next monthly Gallatin Valley Beekeepers club meeting on Wednesday, May 16th from 6-7:30pm at Bozeman Public Library. Doors open at 5:30pm for networking. The event is FREE and open to all. Topics will include member discussion on recent experiences installing new colonies, a swarm team update, what to look for in your spring hive inspections, best practices for splits and hive management, as well as spring feeding and nutrition.

May and June are swarm season in Bozeman, so be on the lookout. See a swarm? Who you gonna call? SwarmBusters! Call Tom Braccini at (360) 798-4024 for swarms from Big Sky to Belgrade and east, or call Lynn at (808) 753-4752 for Bozeman to Livingston and Paradise Valley. A club member on our swarm team will then collect and relocate the swarm. Take a photo and text us with the location so we know what equipment to bring.

Honeybee swarms are Mother Nature's way of reproducing a healthy colony – approximately half of an existing colony leaves the hive and swarms in a temporary location until the scout bees find a new permanent home. Even when in transit, the swarm is gentle since there is no food or home to defend – they're just focused on relocating. So please call as swarms are easiest to collect when they are in transition. And enjoy the moment, a rare opportunity for a magnificent sight. More on swarms in June.

For up-to-date information on local beekeeping events, see "Gallatin Valley Beekeepers" on Facebook or email the group at gallatinvalleybeekeepers@gmail.com.

What the honeybees are up to...

Last month, the queen and her all-female workforce went back to work full-time for the season: laying eggs, raising the young, cleaning the hive, gathering food, and policing the homestead. In May, the male bees – a.k.a. drones – are back in town.

The reappearance of the boy bees was timed by the queen, who (male bees). So by definition, all male bees are fatherless – they only have maternal-side grandfathers. Not quite the "birds and the bees" that you learned in your youth, right?

So if the male bees do zero work and have no dad to play with while mom is super busy holding down the fortress, what do they do all day? Play video games? Nope. Watch sports? Nope. Fraternize with their buddies and hope to get lucky? Bingo. The sole activity of the male bee is to visit drone congregating areas and attract a virgin queen for a mid-air rendezvous.

Queens have only one mating flight in their 3-4 year lifetime, so they make it worth their while by mating with numerous males in order to diversify their gene pool. The same is not true for the drones. They mate with literally explosive force, and then fall to their death having fulfilled their life's mission. The "unlucky" males return to their hive, eat some food, sleep, and try again the next day.

What the beekeepers are up to...

Building our hives and apiaries. Installing new colonies. Splitting old colonies. Feeding the bees. Checking the queen. Looking for swarm cells. Reversing the hive. Inspecting for pests and disease. Treating for mites. Collecting swarms. Adding honey boxes. Whew – May is busy!

What the non-beekeepers can do...

Be a lazy gardener. Let your dandelions bloom – this is one of the earliest carbohydrate sources for honey bees. Let your greens bolt – the flowers are lovely and provide yet more food for the pollinators. Ask your nursery for bee-friendly options for your plants and lawn, or go treatment free.

For more ambitious gardeners, plant a pollinator garden with a sequence of blooms throughout the summer. Visit www.montana.edu/pollinators/resources.html or www.bigskybees.org/BeeFriendlyFlowers.html for more info.

Gallatin Valley Beekeepers is a nonprofit whose objective is to serve as a resource to local beekeepers, to educate the members and community about the science, art, and benefits of beekeeping, and to foster communication and cooperation between beekeepers and the community at large. •

Celebrate World Migratory Bird Day with family-friendly events

Sacajawea Audubon Society invites the public to a number of free events celebrating 2018 World Migratory Bird Day in this "Year of the Bird," recognizing the 100th anniversary of the Migratory Bird Treaty Act.

First up on Thursday, May 10th, gather at the Emerson Center for the Arts & Culture for a screening of the award-winning film The Messenger at 7pm. Imagine a world without birdsong!

On Saturday, May 12th, World Migratory Bird Day proper, hikers will find GVLTA ambassadors to assist with birding and trail information at local trailheads from 7-9am – including the Trident Peregrine Trail. Then, celebrate with a Family Festival at the Bozeman Public Library from 10am-2pm. Educational fun for all ages! Join later at The Ellen Theatre for two additional films: Fly Away Home (Rated PG) at 4pm, followed by Winged Migration (Rated G) at 7pm.

World Migratory Bird Day is a united, global effort by the partnership of Environment for the Americas, The Convention on Migratory Species and the Agreement on the Conservation of African Eurasian Migratory Waterbirds. World Migratory Bird Day is officially the second Saturday in May in the United States and Canada. Like events are held on different schedules throughout the world.

The mission of the Sacajawea Audubon Society is to build on an interest in birds to promote the conservation of our natural environment through enjoyment, education and action. Further details and schedule for World Migratory Day's Bozeman celebrations can be found by visiting sacajaweaudubon.org. •

Poetry & storytelling at Virginia City's Elling House

On Sunday, May 6th at 3pm, the Elling House Arts & Humanities Center will host Favorite Friends, Famous Poems, a beloved annual event of poetry readings. Each friend is invited to read his/her favorite famous poem. Favorite friends for the 2018 event include Patti Henry (artist and scenic designer from Butte), Dave Walker (musician from Virginia City), Karl Marcus (stone mason and poet from Sheridan), Chris Harris (woodworker from Butte), and others.

Following on Thursday, May 10th at 7pm, the Elling House presents "Me & Martha: Intimate Reflections of Dora DuFran About the Real Life of Calamity Jane," a portrayal by Mary Jane Bradbury.

The name Calamity Jane brings to mind an iconic character of the American West. Accounts of Calamity – whose real name was Martha Canary – are legion and she has achieved mythical status in the lore of the frontier. She lived and traveled throughout Wyoming, Montana, and the Dakotas from 1867 to 1903, during some of the West's wildest days. The voracious Victorian press sensationalized her activities, and as a flamboyant character in popular dime novels, Calamity Jane's legend grew until the person behind the character all but disappeared.

Who better to give insight into the real story than madam Dora DuFran, a Black Hills pioneer, entrepreneur and close friend of Calamity's. Ms. DuFran built a successful red light business during the rambunctious early days of the western frontier in Deadwood, South Dakota, and has a unique perspective about how wild it really was. Ms. DuFran knows better than anyone the life of Martha Canary and Calamity Jane, two quite different women, one legendary, one all but forgotten.

Admission to these events is by donation and open to the public. Additional financial support is being provided by Humanities Montana and the National Endowment for the Humanities.

The Elling House, with its historic architecture and location in Virginia City, Montana, is an ideal setting for a cultural resources center. As a nonprofit organization, Elling House Arts & Humanities Center operations serve a variety of educational, entertainment, and hospitality purposes. Presenting programs in the arts, sciences, and humanities, the Elling House encourages active and enthusiastic participation from its members, its audiences, as well as its performers and presenters. Learn more at www.ellinghouse.org. The Elling House is located at 404 E Idaho St. in Virginia City. •

Medicinal Plant Walks explore Paradise Valley's Deep Creek area

Edible medicinal plants are everywhere, local, free, abundant and they can be a sustainable source of plants for healing. Paradise Permaculture Institute presents the seasonal return of Medicinal Plant Walks with instructor Bev Axelsen, Herb and Plant Medicine Specialist.

Let nature act as the classroom! Participants of these walks will identify 10 to 20 wild medicinal plants growing in the proximity of the Deep Creek Trailhead (some hiking required). The purpose of the class will be identification of plants, followed by observation and study of their cycles of growth, medicinal qualities, flowering, seed production and moving into dormancy.

The first Medicinal Plant Walk is set for Saturday, May 10th, from 9am-noon. Additional walks are scheduled for Saturdays, June 16th, July 7th, August 11th, and September 15th. Cost is $25 per registrant, per walk. Advanced notice and payment required to have materials for each attendee.

Bev Axelsen is an herbalist, instructor of plant medicine and herb classes, and Habilitation Services Specialist at Counter Point. Many great teachers have influenced her over the years, the most respected and knowledgeable being the plants themselves. She has studied in the mountains and prairies of Montana, the jungles of Belize, Costa Rica and in Bali. As a teacher and guide for others, Bev promotes direct experience with plants.

Register for the Medicinal Plant Walks and other upcoming workshops at www.paradisepermaculture.org. Call (406) 222-9999 with additional questions. •

MSU to host symposium on how positive culture improves health & safety

From MSU News Service

The Center for Health and Safety Culture at Montana State University will host a symposium June 20nd-22nd at the Baxter Hotel in Bozeman on how growing positive shared values and beliefs can reduce vehicle crashes, drug use, and violence.

Attendees of the 2018 Center for Health and Safety Culture Symposium will discuss how culture is represented by shared values and beliefs as well as recent findings about promoting healthy and safe behaviors in families, workplaces and communities, according to Nic Ward, director of the center and a professor in the Department of Mechanical and Industrial Engineering in MSU's Norm Asbjornson College of Engineering.

"Our goal is for attendees to represent diverse roles, including practitioners, policy-makers and academics, and diverse issues in health and safety," Ward said. "The symposium format will create extensive opportunities to exchange ideas and ask questions."

The symposium is intended for those working at the community, state and national levels improve traffic safety, address substance abuse, and reduce violence and the mistreatment of children.

Ward said the three-day event will focus on themes stemming from the center's research and discuss best practices. The center is located within MSU's Western Transportation Institute.

"Much of our work is about trying to understand the factors that influence how people make healthy and safe choices and then exploring how we can grow those factors," Ward said of the research being done at the center.

Livingston Depot Museum opens season w/ Western photo exhibit

The Livingston Depot Museum will open for the year starting Saturday, May 12th at 10am with its railroad and Yellowstone history displays, as well as a new special exhibit for the 2018 season, “Pure Quill: The Photographs of Barbara Van Cleve”.

The expression “pure quill,” in the language of the West, means “authentic; real, through and through,” and Van Cleve’s gripping photos of the West lend the expression a vivid authenticity that spans years.

Born and raised on a working cattle and horse ranch in Montana’s Crazy Mountains, Van Cleve has focused her lens across decades on the land, people, and animals that animate it. In bold compositions and captivating textures, her photographs give a sense of the West’s vibrant personalities and real spirit. The “Pure Quill” exhibition was generated by the Sweet Grass Arts Alliance in Big Timber, under the auspices of the Montana Art eries through 2019. In connection with the exhibit, the Depot will also host a variety of special events including a presentation and book signing by Van Cleve.

Depot Museum Director, Laura McCarthy Cota, said, “Barbara’s works are not just well-taken photos but give the viewer an insight into the Western experience and Van Cleve’s rich Montana legacy.”

Additionally, the Depot will host a variety of special exhibit-related events including an artist’s reception on Thursday, June 14th at 5:30pm and a special Depot Days with free family activities, August 18th–19th. The Depot also hosts other events during the summer including the Festival of the Arts, July 2nd–4th, and the Roundhouse Roundup, among others.

The Depot Museum exhibits in 2018 will be open from May 12th through September 23rd. The Depot’s popular ongoing main exhibit “Rails Across the Rockies: A Century of People and Places” introduces visitors to the rich history of railroading in Montana. It gives special attention to the Northern Pacific and its central role in the opening of Yellowstone, America’s first national park, through Livingston beginning in the 1880s. In addition to its main and special exhibit, the museum also presents “The Livingston Depot in History and Architecture,” and “Film in Montana: Moviemaking Under the Big Sky.”

Operated by the Livingston Depot Foundation and located at 200 West Park, the Depot is open Monday through Saturday from 10am–5pm, and Sunday from 1–5pm. There is a nominal admission, and group visits are also welcome by special arrangement. Additional information can be obtained by contacting the Depot office at (406) 222-2300 or visiting www.livingstondepot.org.

HRDC creates new housing opportunity in Belgrade

HRDC has completed the Menicucci Square Cottages development. The result of a year-long process, the cottages will provide 20 units of affordable housing to Belgrade residents.

Using new, small modular homes, the development will consist of 16 two-bedroom units and 4 one-bedroom units. Rents range from $798 to $958 per month, and units come fully furnished. The development is conveniently located within walking distance of HRDC’s new Early Childhood Education classrooms, Belgrade elementary, middle and high schools, parks, and shopping. HRDC is currently accepting applications from interested parties at this time with occupancy planned for May 15th, 2018.

To celebrate the completion of this project, HRDC is holding an open house and community beautification day on Thursday, May 10th. In partnership with Keller Williams and community volunteers, HRDC will be completing landscaping and painting of units. Join us between 2–3pm for an Open House and neighborhood cook-out to celebrate the completion of this project. Catering provided by Fork & Spoon Homestyle Kitchen, owned and operated by HRDC.

For additional information on the cottages or to submit an application visit www.thehrdc.org or contact Mike Scheibel, RPM Programs Assistant, at (406) 585-4849.

HRDC is a nonprofit Community Action Agency dedicated to “Building a Better Community.” The local organization oversees essential resources like the Gallatin Valley Food Bank, Streamline bus system, Warming Center, Head Start and other youth development programs, Galavan transportation service, VITA tax assistance, and so many more. To learn more about these programs and HRDC’s efforts to address affordable housing, visit the aforementioned website.

Bozeman Makerspace hosts weekly Open Builds & a Spring celebration

What would you make if you had the tools, the space, and the know-how? Perhaps a table of reclaimed wood, or how about an electronically-controlled watering system for potted plants? Bozeman Makerspace is the perfect place to bring ideas like these to life, and their Thursday night Open Builds are great opportunities to get started. Bring a project to work on or just come hang out and talk shop. Open Builds are a weekly celebration of the joy of making things. It’s a time when those who love to work with their hands and minds share their latest projects with each other, give and receive advice, and discover new ideas. Upcoming Builds are set for Thursdays, May 3rd, 10th, 17th, 24th and 31st from 6–9pm each evening

On Saturday, May 19th, the annual Makerspace spring grill-out will be held from 5–8pm. “Bandsaw Barbeque” will celebrate the incredible half year the organization has had since moving to its new Four Corners location. The BBQ will include delicious grilled foods, awesome veggies, and refreshments. The event will also feature creative activities for all ages, demonstrations of fire-crafts, live music and a raffle of donated items. Tickets are $10 and available at the door or through the Makerspace website.

The Makerspace is constantly striving to improve its offering of tools, with this year’s grill-out specifically supporting the purchase of a new bandsaw. Makerspace staff is so excited to thank everyone for the unbelievable community support they’ve shared during the move and at the many events since. So, be sure to join the celebration to help support continued access to facilities and programming!

Bozeman Makerspace believes it’s important not just to have access to tools and facilities, but also to have a community of others who share a curiosity about the way the world works. Whatever your age or experience level may be, the Makerspace provides resources for all kinds of awesome projects.

Facilities at the Makerspace will let you explore processes including woodworking, electronics, 3D printing, CNC milling, sewing, art-making, and more. If you have an idea on the back burner, there’s no better time and place to start working than NOW at the Makerspace!

If you’re ready to get started on some serious making, consider joining the Makerspace as a member. Members have unlimited access to the facilities, free attendance of select classes, and a role in helping to shape this valuable community resource.

Find the Makerspace at its NEW location, 7647 Shedhorn Drive, Unit A. Bring your ideas and get ready to turn them into reality! Learn more at www.bozeman-makers.org.

Children’s Museum offers engaging youth activities, STEAM & Suds

It’s springtime and the Children’s Museum of Bozeman (CMB) is abuzz with activities for area kids – and even adults! Here’s a look at some of the upcoming happenings.

Music Monday with Chet Leach is first up on May 7th at 11am. On the first Monday of the month throughout the school year, the Children’s Museum hosts a series of fun, family-oriented music-making experiences. These gatherings feature singing, rhythm, movement, and improvisation, and are designed for families with children ages infant to 6.

Family Science Day: Mother’s Day Crafts takes place Friday, May 11th from 10am–noon. Stop by the museum to make a craft for mom! From potted plants, unique handmade flowers, salt dough handprints and other great crafts, the kids will be ready to spoil mom, grandma or auntie with a cute project. Included with museum admission.

Also on May 11th, the next FREE Friday Night will unfold from 5–8pm. The public is invited to enjoy the museum’s exhibits free of charge during this monthly event. Pizza will be available for $1 per slice, courtesy of Tarantino’s Pizzeria. Bring the whole family down for some educational fun! This event is held the second Friday of every month.

Teacher Appreciation Day is Saturday, May 12th. In honor of the community’s hard-working and devoted teachers, the Children’s Museum is offering free admission for any current teacher. Just show your school ID at the front desk.

An adults-only STEAM & Suds follows Thursday, May 17th from 5:30–8pm. Ever wanted to design on a 3D printer? How about putting a robot to use? Now’s your chance! Join CMB’s resident tech expert to create and play in the lab. Suds will be provided by Mountains Walking Brewery. This event is $20 and only for those 21+. Registration required.

Also at the Children’s Museum... Open STEAMlab Hours with events recurring weekly. Connect with Bozeman’s community of youth makers. All available tools will be at your disposal with Arduinos, Raspberry Pis, 3D printers, and more – plus, a resident expert on-hand to help out. Drop off kids grades 6–12 on Mondays from 3–5pm, Tuesdays from 4–7pm, and Fridays from 10am–noon through the school year. Additional open lab hours vary and some school holidays may affect these hours.

The innovative STEAMlab program offers personally relevant project-based learning opportunities to kids with the aim of bolstering interest and expertise in 21st century skills. Come enjoy the STEAMlab as part of your museum experience. Included with membership or admission.

The Children’s Museum of Bozeman is a lean organization, and more than 85% of money earned or raised is used to directly fund its programs, exhibits and services. The Museum is committed to reaching as many children as possible with high-quality educational enrichment activities – and your support is vital to that mission. Join the CMB family!

Call (406) 522-9087 or visit www.cmbozeman.org for further information. You can also follow them on Facebook and Instagram for the most up-to-date info.

Located at 202 S Willson Ave., the Children’s Museum offers hands-on exhibits, summer science camps, after-school activities, and educational programs throughout the year. Because children make profound meaning from direct experience, Children’s Museum programs facilitate pathways for hands-on exploratory play.

Heart of the Valley ANIMAL SHELTER

Pet of the Week: Abby

Hi! I'm Abby, and I'm a sweet 3 year old who loves laps, attention, and chatting. If it were my choice, I would snuggle into a cozy lap all day! I've lived with kids in the past, and we got along great, so I'd love to meet your family. I'm pretty outgoing and would love a family where I can socialize and be the center of attention. If you are looking for a lap buddy, I would love to apply for the job. Stop on down to Heart of the Valley and meet me.

Ale Works beer pairing dinner benefits GVLT ahead of busy outdoor season

Celebrate Bozeman Craft Beer Week with a Beer & Food Tasting at Montana Ale Works on Tuesday, May 8th with seatings at 5:30pm and 7:30pm. In fitting with this year's theme, "Bold Beer, Big Sky, and Beautiful Places," the Gallatin Valley Land Trust (GVLT) will be the beneficiary of the week, and this Ale Works beer pairing event.

Taste the GVLT-inspired Bozeman Craft Beer Week Collaboration Beer and other local beers alongside carefully curated appetizers and small plates featuring local food grown on conserved open land. With six stations of options and pairings, you'll get filled up for a good cause.

Tickets are $40 and the entire ticket price will go to GVLT, supporting their work to build community trails and protect the open landscape that we all love. A limited number of tickets are available for each seating so get them early before they sell out!

Following Saturday, May 19th, take part in the inaugural Open Lands Bicycle Tour. Guided group ride options of 8 and 26 miles will take participants through the beautiful Gallatin Valley countryside, much of which is protected open land. One of GVLT's first of many events this season, the tour is free and open to all ages and abilities.

The event will kick off at Sacajawea Middle school, 3525 S 3rd Ave., with registration starting at 9:30am, and rides at 10am. Group ride opportunities will vary in length and pace, all with the goal of enjoying beautiful views and learning about Open Lands! No registration necessary prior to the event. Whether you are an avid biker, novice, or a family looking to dust off your bikes and loosen your legs – this is the perfect event for you! The tour will take

Registration now open for MSU's youth summer writing camp

From MSU News Service

Registration is now open for Montana State University's Youth Writing Camp, which will be held on the MSU campus from July 9th to 13th.

The program, hosted by the Yellowstone Writing Project, is a multi-day, creative writing workshop complete with walking field trips, writing games, guidance and feedback throughout the writing process. Participating students will write in multiple genres in an "unschooling," informal setting, sharing their writing within a supportive community of peers and certified educators.

The camp runs from 9am-3pm each day and is open to students entering grades 5 through 12 in the fall. It is led by teachers and junior counselors from the Yellowstone Writing Project. Based in MSU's Department of English, the Yellowstone Writing Project is comprised of teachers who write and writers who teach.

An evening reception to be held from 6:30-8pm, Friday, July 13th, will allow parents to join their campers and the Yellowstone Writing Project team to celebrate the students' creative writing.

Registration is now open and will remain open until the camp is filled.

For more information or to register, visit ato.montana.edu/ywp or contact Nicole Soll, MSU Continuing, Professional and Lifelong Learning, at (406) 994-6550 or Nicole.soll1@montana.edu.

Library gathering aims to encourage efficiency & low carbon alternatives

For decades, economists proposed pricing carbon as the best way to cut carbon pollution and encourage renewables. What used to be thought of as a political long shot in the U.S. has recently come into its own, with 7 states now pursuing carbon tax proposals, and California teaming with Canadian provinces in cap and trade pacts, while Virginia contemplates the same with the northeast states.

Anne Ready, co-leader of the Bozeman chapter of Citizens' Climate Lobby, thinks the public should know about this important way to encourage efficiency and low carbon alternatives. She will be presenting "Carbon Pricing 101" on Thursday, May 3rd at 6:30pm at Bozeman Public Library.

Ready says, "Not all carbon pricing plans are the same. I want to explain the differences in everyday language. For instance, some plans actually put money in your pocket with a 'dividend' to help when oil, gas, and coal prices slowly rise.

creating jobs and boosting the economy."

Big Sky 55 launches new organization & announces focus of platform

In April, community leaders, retired legislators, educators, and activists gathered in Great Falls to announce a new organization for Montanans 55 and older, Big Sky 55+, an organization to advocate for progressive policies such as health care and economic security for all.

"Montana needs a strong voice to engage Montanans 55 and older to advocate for progressive policies," said Ken Toole, Vice Chair of Montana 55+ and a former Montana State Senator and Public Service Commissioner. "Protecting Medicare and Social Security are primary concerns for older Montanans. Simple truth, if Medicare and Social Security are cut, millions of us will have re-think when, how, and if we can retire."

The group plans to organize and mobilize Montanans 55 and older on a multi-issue program advocating for a broad range of critical issues of concern to Montana seniors. Big Sky 55+ sets out to win on progressive policies and elect progressive candidates, Toole said.

Toole outlined a range of progressive policies the group supports, including:

- Economic security for all,
- Health care for all,
- Protecting and defending our Democracy,
- Providing quality education for all,
- Right to a clean and healthful environment,
- Native American communities and their issues,
- Rural communities, and
- A fair and balanced tax system.

"We will include the rural voice in our organizing and work on policy that works for all Montanans, not just the urban areas," said Founding Board member Terry Minow, retired educator and long-time political director. "We hope to increase voices speaking out from rural areas and increase the political power from those areas."

Minow said Big Sky 55+ supports the 6 Mill property tax levy to help keep tuition low for state colleges and university students.

Pat Sweeney, senior advisor and former Director of WORC and longtime environmental justice leader, noted Montana's aging population. "Montana is the third oldest state as a percentage of population," Sweeney said. "Thirty percent of Montanans are 55 and older. For many Montanans, life is becoming more insecure. Many of us wonder if we will outlive our financial resources. We need to preserve and protect Social Security and Medicare."

Sweeney said the organization intends to work to safeguard Montana's environment. "Big Sky 55+ believes in protecting the environment and in our responsibility to leave our kids and grandkids and all future generations a 'clean and healthful environment.' It is our Constitutional right and our responsibility to see we pass it on to future generations," Sweeney said.

MUSIC IN AND AROUND THE BOZONE

Live from the Rialto: Mike Love, Zoso, Guy Davis & Freak Out!

The historic Rialto theater has reopened its doors in the heart of Downtown Bozeman. This brand new event venue promises to bring an exciting lineup of top-tier talent from around the country. Here's a look at some of the upcoming happenings.

Bozeman Doc Series will present a special screening of Gimme Shelter on Sunday, April 29th at 6:30pm. Tickets to this event are $10. Doors at 6pm.

Called the greatest rock film ever made, this landmark documentary follows the Rolling Stones on their notorious 1969 U.S. tour. When three hundred thousand members of the Love Generation collided with a few dozen Hells Angels at San Francisco's Altamont Speedway, Direct Cinema pioneers David and Albert Maysles and Charlotte Zwerin were there to immortalize on film the bloody slash that transformed a decade's dreams into disillusionment.

Kicking off a new month, Mike Love performs with Cas Haley on Thursday, May 3rd at 8pm. Tickets to this all ages show are $16. Doors at 7pm.

With a foundation rooted in the spirituality and message-based music of Reggae and Rastafari, Mike Love blends the sounds of progressive and classic rock, pop, R&B, soul, blues, flamenco, jazz and so much more. Love's songs take you on a journey, one of healing and inspiration. One designed to help you on your path to knowledge, wisdom and understanding. Love's latest release, Unleash the Love, is available now.

Mike Love has shared the stage with artists like Stephen Marley, Don Carlos, Trevor Hall, Nahko and Medicine for the People, John Butler Trio, Groundation, Steel Pulse, Dave Matthews and Jack Johnson.

The Waiting follow with special guest Jason Wickens on Friday, May 4th at 8:30pm. Tickets to this 18+ show are $12. Doors at 7:30pm.

Bozeman-based roadhouse rock n' roll band The Waiting celebrates the music of Tom Petty. Not exactly a "cover" or "tribute" band, they're, in the spirit of The Heartbreakers, first and foremost a BAND: a motley mix of musicians and friends interpreting the songs of one of rock's greatest legends.

The band's motto is "We bring the Petty to your town," and since 2013 they've been doing exactly that all across the Treasure State.

Whether it's one of Tom Petty's smash hits with the Heartbreakers, a sampling from his solo albums, or even a collaboration with the Traveling Wilburys, The Waiting runs the gamut, performing each tune with undeniable, fiery live energy and a devotion to showing each person in the crowd a damn good time.

On Saturday, May 5th, The Rialto joins forces with Alter Cycles, Summit Bike and Ski, and Sklar Bikes to present Cycle De Mayo: A Bicycle Fiesta beginning at 8:30pm. Tickets to this all ages show (with parent or guardian) are $6. Doors at 7:30pm.

Beginning in the afternoon with a critical mass-style bike gathering, this event will give everyone a reason to pull out their wheels in anticipation of another biking season. Hit up some area favorite bike palaces along a winding, twisting path through town, ending at The Rialto with a night of information, short films, a local slide show, and live music to send you off into a Cycle-Shangri-La. Celebrate post-graduation and party down to some sweet sweet rock n' roll from Wire Rider and The Salamanders, as well as some curated tunes in the Burn Box from one of Bozeman's best DJs, Mr. Dave Hollier. See website for further event details.

The Rialto presents its second cabaret-style Songwriter's Roundtable on Thursday, May 10th featuring Claire Kleese, Jessica Joyce, Katherine Taylor and Madeline Hawthorne Kelly, with Elaine Kelly on violin, beginning at 8pm. Tickets to this event are $5. Doors at 7pm. Come early and snag the best seats in the house for another evening of storytelling, songcraft, and maybe even a few tunes!

Zoso: The Ultimate Led Zeppelin

Experience makes its triumphant return to Bozeman on Friday, May 11th at 8:30pm. Tickets to this 18+ show are $25. Doors at 7:30pm.

Zoso embodies Page, Plant, Bonham, and Jones in their spirit, tightly wound talent and authenticity. Each band member has been carefully selected to portray both the appearance and playing styles of their Led Zeppelin counterparts. Zoso's live shows are not about simply playing the right notes, they are about stealing and crediting from him everything that he could, and that man is the legendary Sonny Terry.

Guy's latest album, Sonny & Brownie's Last Train - A Look Back at Brownie McGhee and Sonny Terry, is an homage to these two hugely influential artists, not only on Guy's career, but to thousands of musicians around the world. One such artist is the Italian harmonica ace, Fabrizio Poggi, who collaborates with and produced this recording. The album is available now.

Finally, the Rialto will present a limited run of Freak Out!: The Musical on Friday and Saturday, May 18th-19th. Friday night's performance begins at 8pm with doors at 7:30pm. On Saturday, an early show will get the evening started at 6pm, followed by a late show at 9pm. Doors at 5:30pm and 8pm, respectively. Tickets to these 18+ shows are $20.

Freak Out! tells the story of two counter-culture bikers in the late 1960s on a voyage of self-discovery who accidentally find themselves embroiled with a devilish cult trying to take over the world! The all-original psychedelic musical is performed with larger than life puppets and a live four-piece rock band. Equal parts Easy Rider, Rocky Horror, Duck Soup, Hair, and Rosemary's Baby, Freak Out! opened in 2017 to audience acclaim and a sold out run.

Written by Ryan Cassavaugh (Jimmy's First Christmas on Pavole, Three Glorious Weeks) and Joe Knapp (of SlomoJoe Trio, The Salamanders) and directed by Sadie Cassavaugh (Row After Row, Three Glorious Weeks) Freak Out! stars Ryan Lawrence Flynn, Pol Llovet, Steven Harris-Weiel, Ty Gardner, Wren Garverick, Leandra Hill, Leyla Osman-Kirschner, and Harry Jahnke. Knapp, Garrett Robinson, Ryan Cassavaugh, and Dan Haywood perform the production's live musical accompaniment.

Freak Out! is a truly unique theatre experience unlike anything you've ever seen before - a singular blend of puppetry, lights, sound, and music. Check it out!

The Rialto is located at 10 W Main St. in the center of historic Downtown Bozeman. Get further acquainted with this exciting new event space at www.rialtobozeaman.com, where you can also peruse current happenings and buy advance tickets. Follow the Rialto on Facebook for the most up to date event announcements, @therialto. • aura and feeling, harkening back to the unique atmosphere Led Zeppelin created. It's in the way they play: each band member's mastery of authentic vintage instruments, coupled with spot on vocals, guitar, bass, drums, and keyboards, their compelling stage persona, and distinct Led Zeppelin sound, with astounding visual imagery recreates the music, magic, and mystery of a Zeppelin concert.

Enjoy An Evening of Blues with Guy Davis on Saturday, May 12th with shows at 6pm and 9pm. Doors at 5:30pm and 8:30pm, respectively. Tickets to these shows are $10.

Davis has had his musical storytelling influenced by artists like Blind Willie McTell and Big Bill Broonzy, and his musicality from artists as diverse as Lightnin' Hopkins and Babatunde Olatunji. However, there's one man that Guy most credits for his harmonica techniques, by

Heralded pianist George Winston to play benefit concert at Emerson

Renowned pianist George Winston will perform a benefit concert in support of Hopa Mountain, a Bozeman-based nonprofit organization, on Friday, May 25th at the Emerson Center for the Arts & Culture beginning at 7pm. This solo piano benefit performance will feature melodic folk piano songs from his recordings, Vince Guaraldi's Peanuts pieces, as well as songs inspired by the New Orleans R&B piano and Harlem stride piano traditions.

George Winston grew up mainly in Montana and spent his later formative years in Mississippi and Florida. During this time, his favorite music was instrumental rock and instrumental R&B, including Floyd Cramer, the Ventures, Booker T & The MG's, Jimmy Smith, and many more. In 1971 he switched to the acoustic piano after hearing recordings from the 1920s and the 1930s by the legendary stride pianists Thomas "Fats" Waller and the late Teddy Wilson. In addition to working on stride piano, he also, at the same time, came up with his own style of melodic instrumental music on solo piano called "folk piano."

Tickets are $24 per person and can be purchased in advance in-store at Cactus Records, www.cactusrecords.net, and at the door. George Winston will also be holding a food drive for the Gallatin Valley Food Bank before the concert. Non-perishable food will be collected at the door. For more information about this event in benefit of Hopa Mountain, please email info@hopamountain.org or call (406) 586-2455.

Hopa Mountain invests in rural and tribal citizen leaders, adults and youth, who are working to improve education, ecological health, and economic development. Learn more at www.hopamountain.org.

Shane Center announces open auditions for Cabaret

On Tuesday, May 15th at 7pm, Director Russell Lewis will hold open auditions for Cabaret at the Shane Lalani Center for the Arts in Livingston.

Kander & Ebb's Cabaret explores the dark, heady, and tumultuous life of Berlin's natives and expatriates as Germany slowly yields to the emerging Third Reich. Cliff, a young American writer newly arrived in Berlin, is immediately captivated by English singer Sally Bowles. Meanwhile, Fräulein Schneider, proprietor of Cliff and Sally's boarding house, tentatively begins a romance with Herr Schultz, a mild-mannered fruit seller who happens to be Jewish...

Roles are available for ages 15 and up. No prepared audition material is required. Rehearsals for this production will take place weekday evenings from May 21st through June 28th. Cabaret runs weekends from June 29th through July 22nd.

Located in the heart of Livingston, the Shane Lalani Center for the Arts is dedicated to fostering creativity and building community through various arts programming, classes and events. The mission of the Shane Center is to strengthen community through participation in the arts. For more information, please visit www.theshanecenter.org.

Bozeman Classical Guitar Fest to be held at MSU's Reynolds Hall

The Bozeman Childbloom Guitar Program, a method and rubric for teaching classical guitar to local youth, will present the first Bozeman Classical Guitar Festival on Saturday, May 19th at Reynolds Recital Hall on the Montana State University campus beginning at 7pm. Featuring Stuart Weber, Michael Videon, Craig Hall, Michael Steele, Lori Marx, Kearen Samsel, Max DeFanti and other musicians, the performance will showcase solo and ensemble classical guitar from the standard repertoire.

Teenagers Lori Marx, Max DeFanti and Kearen Samsel, as well as other young performers on the ticket, are Bozeman Childbloom students taught by Craig Hall and Michael Steele. Michael Videon is a seasoned guitarist and teaches classidoor and free to families of Childbloom students. For more information and to reserve a ticket, please email craig@craighallmusic.com or call (406) 551-3496.

Developed in Austin, Texas, and now taught throughout the country, the Childbloom Guitar Program provides fun and rewarding guitar instruction for students age 5 through 12 and beyond. This training, taught in Bozeman by nationally recognized guitarist Craig Hall and classical guitarist Michael Steele, emphasizes lifelong fundamental music skills in a positive and low-pressure environment. The entices diligent practice habits, strong listening skills, persistence and ensemble teamwork. For more information, visit www.bozemanchildbloom.com.

Admission to the first Bozeman Classical Guitar Festival is $15 at the

Bozeman Symphony musicians featured in Symphony at the Shane

Bozeman Symphony Far Afield ensemble, The Bozeman Trail Chamber Players, and the talents of Lukas Graf (tenor) alongside Jessica Graf (soprano) and Sandra Stimson (oboe) will be featured as part of Symphony at the Shane, a concert series presented by the Bozeman Symphony, on Thursday, May 17th at the Shane Lalani Center for the Arts in Livingston beginning at 7:30pm.

Symphony at the Shane performances feature the very best of the Bozeman Symphony Orchestra and Symphonic Choir. Each performance showcases two diverse soloists and ensembles. You'll be wowed by these fantastic musicians and proud to know they are your neighbors!

The Bozeman Trail Chamber Players features wind instruments with the dynamic addition of percussion, playing concerts around Montana for delighted audiences of all ages since 2015. Drawing from a rich chamber music repertoire, the ensemble will present music ranging from the majesty of the High Baroque, to the playfulness of ragtime and original jazz-influenced works. The group's performers include Mary Ann Jacobson (clar-

Rockies, and Sun-Dappled Riverflow, a recent composition that is a picture in sound of flowing water with sparkles from the sun on the rippling surface. Alan

Leech is a long-time member of the orchestra, recently celebrating 46 seasons with the organization.

Lukas Graf will perform a program of musical theater and opera with guests Jessica Graf and Sandra Stimson. The ensemble will present works by J.S. Bach, Vaughan Williams, Rossini, Bernstein, Gershwin, and more.

Symphony at the Shane would not be possible without help from concert sponsors Sal and Carol Lalani and Donald B. Gimbel. Tickets are $15 for adults or $10 for students and seniors, available in advance at www.bozemensymphony.org or by calling (406) 585-9774. Tickets will also be available at the door, based on availability.

inet), Alan Leech (bassoon), Karen Leech (flute), Greg Notess (French horn), Sandra Stimson (oboe), and Jeff Vick (percussion).

The Bozeman Trail Players' May 17th performance will include classical works by Telemann and Mozart, popular music including Mancini's The Pink Panther and Joplin's The Cascades (A Rag), and several original compositions written for the group by Alan Leech. These original compositions will include A Cretaceous Zoo, originally written for and presented at the Museum of the Intermountain Opera Bozeman, Montana's most widely acclaimed opera company, wraps its 40th anniversary season with Giuseppe Verdi's Falstaff. Performances will be held Friday, May 11th at 7pm, and Sunday, May 13th at 3pm. Both will unfold at Willson Auditorium, located at 404 W Main in Downtown Bozeman.

Intermountain Opera presents Falstaff, Birthday Bash

Noted as the "crowning glory" of Verdi's magnificent career, this comic masterpiece brings Shakespeare's classic Elizabethan buffoon to life. The boastful, lustful and portly knight of Windsor cannot resist his favorite vices – food, wine, woman and song. Finding himself broke, Falstaff hatches a plot to improve his love life and coffers by courting two married women and launches a flood of comic chaos.

Octavio Cardenas directs, with Conductor David Neely leading Intermountain Opera's well respected and magnificent orchestra. The opera will be sung in Italian with English subtitles provided.

Reservations are strongly recommended with ticket prices ranging from $25-$75. Remaining tickets will also be on sale at the door beginning one hour before each performance.

And before the season finale, on Thursday, May 10th, celebrate 40 seasons of opera in Bozeman with Intermountain Opera Bozeman's Birthday Bash at Riverside Country Club beginning at 5:30pm. This hosted event will feature cocktail hour, hors d'oeuvres, gourmet dinner, and a special birthday dessert with champagne toast to top it all off! Dance the rest of the night away to the music of Jeni Fleming. Tickets are $75 per person and seating is limited.

Learn more about Intermountain and purchase tickets for Falstaff and the Birthday Bash at www.intermountain-opera.org. Call the Intermountain office at (406) 587-2889 with additional questions.

The mission of the Intermountain Opera Association of Bozeman, established in 1979, is to promote and share the joy of opera in Montana and surrounding areas by providing affordable, high quality opera performances to audience members of all ages and to provide educational outreach to area schools and communities.

Sugar Daddies, www.TWANG & The MAX at Sac Bar

The Sacajawea Hotel in Three Forks is a place to wine, dine, and enjoy some of Montana's best live music. Hotel guests, locals, and people from all around are welcome head out and enjoy everything the Sac has to offer. Here's a look at some of the upcoming music.

The Side Effects open a new month with some excellent live entertainment on Friday, May 4th. Round up some friends and head out for dinner, drinks, and plenty of dancing!

Sugar Daddies return with all the favorites on Saturday, May 5th. This Montana-based trio is comprised of Richard Riesser (guitar, vocals), Oscar Dominguez (keyboards, bass and vocals), and Ron Craighead (drums, vocals). The band has been successfully performing in various venues throughout Southwest Montana since its inception in 2012. While the gist of their material is popular rock n' roll, country, oldies, R&B and blues, they also have an extensive arsenal of original songs, all of which are palatable, as well as an array of lesser-known but still great songs by both obscure and well-known artists/songwriters. Their main focus is variety, and they half-jokingly have a motto of "No request left behind."

Sunrise Karaoke will test your vocal abilities on Friday, May 11th. Bring your favorite songs and get ready to impress — or at least give it your best shot! You haven't done karaoke until you've done it with Sunrise.

www.TWANG brings the party on Saturday, May 12th. Their name says it all. The truck drivin', heart breakin', honky-tonk dance band has been offering up real country music to their fans since 1998. No smarmy, plastic hat-wearing, Nashville pop from these guys. Classic country and seamless TWANG originals set this band apart from all others in the Western U.S. The band features the combined talents of bass player and vocalist Russ Olsen, drummer Mike Gillan, fiddle and stand up steel guitar player Mike Parsons, lead guitarist and songwriter Marcus Engstrom, as well as rhythm guitar player and songwriter Buck Buchanan. These guys take no prisoners and leave nothing but happy dancers in their wake. Don't miss a chance to take in one of their "real deal, premium country music" shows. You won't be sorry.

The MAX is back on Friday, May 18th. The popular band has entertained and delighted audiences nationwide since the mid-80s, calling Montana home since 1993. With Kyle Brenner (guitar), Mike Young (drums), and Bobb Clanton (bass), The MAX plays spot-on renditions of a wide variety of choice danceable rock n' roll covers and has two original albums, Shadows in the Shade and Vinyl Valentine. The MAX has opened for Styx, REO Speedwagon, and The Fabulous Thunderbirds.

Comstock Lode pop in for a lively performance on Saturday, May 19th. Bozeman's best classic rock n' roll and country western band plays covers from the '60s through the '00s. Creedence, Eagles, Green Day, Grand Funk, Elvis, Skynard, Beatles, Nirvana, Cash, George Strait, Garth Brooks, Vince

Gill, Merle Haggard — just wait a couple minutes and you'll hear an old or new favorite.

ALL Sac Bar music begins at 9pm. The Sacajawea Hotel is located at 5 N Main in Three Forks. For more information about these events, visit www.sacajaweahotel.com or call (406) 285-6515.

Good eats, musical treats at Kountry Korner

The Kountry Korner Café serves a tasty breakfast and/or dinner, as well as local musician residencies throughout the month. Here's some upcoming events in Four Corners.

Rich Mayo performs every Tuesday at 6pm. Upcoming dates include May 1st, 8th and 15th. A multi-instrumentalist, Mayo plays the guitar, harp, and vocals. He performs an Americana mix you're sure to enjoy, and his wife, Tanna, often adds a flute and lovely female voice.

Claudia Williams performs every Friday night at 5:30pm. She'll be ready to entertain May 4th, 11th and 18th. Williams has been singing in the Big Sky Country most of her life. As the lead singer of Montana Rose, she's following her dream of songwriting and interpreting songs of others that speak to her soul. She enjoys telling the stories of life and love in the west, sharing tales that most just dream about. A true Montana icon, she was born and raised in the West and carries on the culture in music. Williams interprets standards like "Walkin' After Midnight," "I Fall to Pieces," "Sweet Dreams," and others, with an erotic tenderness that's less country than it is late-night hip. A little folk, country and blues, it's American roots music.

A local pianist and KKC fixture, Bob Britten brings Saturday performances May 5th, 12th and 19th at 5:30pm each evening. Britten studied piano and guitar as a youth growing up in New Jersey, but it was the guitar that brought him to Montana. He studied classical guitar and attended Christopher Parkening's master classes at Montana State University in 1981 and 1982. Bob played guitar and piano in various bands in Billings including the Gentlemen of Jazz and solo piano nightly at the Cellar 301 for several years.

For more information about upcoming events, call (406) 586-2281 or visit www.kountrykormontana.com.

Chico Saloon sees The Fossils, El Wencho & more

After a relaxing dip, catch some great live music at Chico Hot Springs Saloon. Live entertainment heads to Pray every Friday and Saturday evening so you can kick up your feet — and soak them too!

Under the Bleachers rock the house Friday and Saturday, April 27th–28th. The band consists of Scott Williams (guitar), Tim Borsberry (drums), and Pat Borsberry (bass). They have an intensely diverse song list, a result of their diverse origins. Tim and Pat hail from Helena, and Scott is a transplant from Los Angeles who grew up in Southern Arizona. A look over the band's song list will show they keep up with today's hits — and have been playing yesterday's hits since they were a "hit" the first time!

Celebrating their album release, The Wench return for a pair of lively performances, Friday and Saturday, May 4th–5th. For most people, the image of an "acoustic duo" conjures images of two soft spoken musicians singing folk rock and hippie jam songs. This is not the case with El Wencho. Two original members of The Clintons, John and Josh joke, "we're half the band, twice the party!" The guys are no strangers to throwing a rocking good time. Their show is a hotdish or "badasserole" of musical genres and style.

The MAX is back at the Saloon, Friday and Saturday, May 11th–12th. The popular band has entertained and delighted audiences nationwide since the mid-80s, calling Montana home since 1993. With Kyle Brenner (guitar), Mike Young (drums), and Bobb Clanton (bass), The MAX plays spot-on renditions of a wide variety of choice danceable rock n' roll covers and has two original albums, Shadows in the Shade and Vinyl Valentine. The MAX has opened for Styx, REO Speedwagon, and The Fabulous Thunderbirds.

The Fossils bring a couple shows, Friday and Saturday, May 18th–19th. Known around town for their authentic hippie music, The Fossils guarantee a rockin' good time. The members have been acquainted for years and are connected by their love of music. The band consists of Scott Boehler (harmonica), Rich Ruggles (keyboard), Jerry Mullen (guitar), and Rick Phillip (drums).

ALL Chico Saloon music begins at 9pm. Chico Hot Springs is located in Pray, 20 miles south of Livingston. Come sip, soak, and swing! For more information, call (406) 333-4933 or visit www.chicohotspings.com.

Hops-heavy Bozeman Craft Beer Week begins May 5th

Bozeman Craft Beer Week is fast approaching and adventurous beer-cationers and locals alike must begin contemplating which events to attend during the Gallatin Valley's biggest annual beer bash. A celebration of craft beer, open space, and trails in its second year, Bozeman Craft Beer Week will take place May 5th–12th.

To commemorate the week, 10 local breweries have worked together to create a special collaboration beer appropriately called "Gallatin Valley Lager." Brewed with locally-grown malt from Bridger Malt House and hops from Crooked Yard Hops, the beer is a refreshing, crisp Montana Pale Lager bursting with citrusy hop aroma. Craft beer week attendees can expect to find the collaboration lager available on tap and in cans at Bozeman Brewing Company, the host brewery for the beer project, as well as at participating sponsor businesses and retailers starting in late April through the end of craft beer week.

Proceeds from events throughout the week, as well as the sale of the collaboration beer, will be donated to Fermentana's craft beer week nonprofit partner, Gallatin Valley Land Trust, to support their mission of protecting open space and creating trails across the community.

Along with the robust events list (viewable on Bozeman Craft Beer Week's website), Fermentana has also released the official Bozeman Craft Beer Week Passport for 2018 to assist beer lovers with their craft beer week journey. This pocket-sized guide features a full schedule of events and over $100 in special incentives and discounts for passport holders at select sponsoring businesses throughout the week.

Additionally, the Passport serves as event-goers' entry into the Bozeman Craft Beer Week Giveaway which consists of over $2000 worth of prizes from participating sponsors, including a brand-new kegerator and YETI Tundra 50 cooler each branded to celebrate Bozeman's Second Annual Craft Beer Week. Craft beer drinkers can acquire their official Bozeman Craft Beer Week Passport and merchandise, as well as view complete event listings and ticketing info for the 8-day beer bash at www.bozemancraftbeerweek.com. Passports are also available at select sponsor retail locations including Sidewinders American Grill, MAP Brewing Co., and Dee-O-Gee.

'Spring Rendezvous' returns: unlimited samples of MT-made craft brews

Enjoy Montana craft beer while hanging out with brewers from across the state at the 2018 Montana Brewers Spring Rendezvous, Friday, May 11th at Haynes Pavilion in Bozeman. This annual brewfest features unlimited samples of only Montana-made craft beer as well as food vendors, live music from local group Hawthorne Roots, and a collectible glass with every ticket.

This year's Montana Brewers Spring Rendezvous will be part of the second annual Bozeman Craft Beer Week! Taste beer from the far reaches of the state, whether from long-established breweries in Montana or the newest breweries just starting to share their brews with the communities. Event organizers are proud to feature Montana's finest and introduce you to the brewers who are at the epicenter of this creative and tasty venture.

VIP Hour will run from 4–5pm. Gain early entrance and sample beers with Montana's brewers before the crowd arrives. VIP tickets are $35 in advance and $40 day of rendezvous. VIPs will receive unlimited beer samples in a special edition glass. General admission access runs from 5–9pm. Tickets are $25 in advance and $30 day of rendezvous. Admission includes unlimited beer samples and a commemorative glass. With unlimited samples, beer school, live music and more, this is the "Ultimate Montana Beer Experience."

All proceeds support the work of the Montana Brewers Association, an organization dedicated to promoting Montana craft beer and advocating in the policy arena for the interests of Montana beer lovers and the local craft brewing industry. Visit www.montanabrewers.org for tickets and further information.

'Come early, stay late': BZN Int'l Film Festival debuts in early June

The first BZN International Film Festival is fast approaching. The four-day event will welcome scores of filmmakers, special guests, and patrons to celebrate Bozeman with a weekend of films, panels, and special events. From Montana filmmakers to Bozeman businesses and restaurants, BZN is dedicated to making this festival as much a celebration of our home as it is a showcase of superb cinema from around the world.

In anticipation of the community-wide event, The Rolling Zone sat down with Beth Ann Kennedy, Managing Artistic Director of BZN, to talk (only a few) festival offerings and the conversation-starting power of film.

RZ: As part of the Bozeman Film Celebration, the BZN International Film Festival comes to town in early June. How are event preparations going?

BAK: Very, very well. The Bozeman Film Celebration is the umbrella company and BZN is the inaugural event, an international film festival spotlighting women, June 7th – 10th. Underneath the umbrella, the award-winning films will also be taken around the five-state region. For the festival itself, we have over 60 films from around the world, as well as 7 children's international shorts. We have documentaries, narratives, dramas and comedies, [in both] long and short formats. And, presently, 13 different seminars all led by a film.

RZ: Give us a peek into the film selection process. How were the BZN titles chosen?

BAK: When I was given the opportunity to produce this, I went to the office of Economic Development and asked Brit Fontenot, 'What does Bozeman need? What are the issues?' [He mentioned] domestic violence, the opioid and prescription drug abuse problem, and also housing. I looked for films that will address these issues, and therefore open up conversations to the community of Bozeman, the State of Montana, and whoever comes in from around the country or the world.

RZ: What are a few of the films BZN will showcase in regard to these local issues?

BAK: There's a film called Catching Sight of Thelma & Louise about how the original with Susan Sarandon and Geena Davis impacted people's lives – at that time, but also through the decades. After that film is screened, representatives from HAVEN will be speaking about women who have gone through domestic violence and how they've worked out solutions and strategies. We also have a beautiful film called A Different Script. It's about a child with Down syndrome who loves to act. His parents said go for it but were very clear [about] the things he would struggle with given the situation. Now he's been on stage in New York, he's in Orange Is the New Black, and he's done film work. After that piece, we have some people coming in from Eagle Mount and Reach Inc. to speak. We encourage anybody that works through disabilities – that's great – but this is also for the parents, or the children of parents who have disabilities, or the aunt that wants to have some clearer ideas of how to be supportive. We have a wonderful film called The Hungry Heart that's done extremely well with communities working with people who have opioid and prescription drug problems. We'll have several local people speaking on the support systems out there that don't lock people up, but that help people or help the aunt who has the nephew with this issue.

RZ: You also mentioned housing. That's a huge issue here.

BAK: We want Bozeman to grow. The worst thing that can happen to a city is that it dies. That it's growing is wonderful. But how about making it grow sustainably? How about making sure we're not just looking at the short-term growth, but that we're looking down the line. So, we have Jamie Redford's film Happening: A Clean Energy Revolution. He takes this extremely positive approach, showing the different things happening around the country that are helping people go into a more sustainable energy fashion with wind and solar. We also have Jeff Bridges' film, Living in the Future's Past, a film about energy and about the energy that each one of us has as human beings.

RZ: It seems as though the films are meant to entertain, but to also educate audiences on a variety of issues.

BAK: This film festival is about opening up conversations. We are not doing anything highly politicized. We're not going to go there, but we are absolutely offering the opportunity to recognize that films are tools. Sometimes the tool is purely for kicking back and having some popcorn, and that's great, but we're really looking at the educational components of films. What I think I've noticed so much in Bozeman that I adore, people want to be educated. BZN will give people the opportunity to discuss the films after the screenings.

RZ: There are likely many, but is there a film you're super anxious for people to see?

BAK: We have this wonderful film called It's Criminal about a Dartmouth course where [a group of] primarily young women are taken into this local prison facility. These women tend to be privileged and come into the course with all their opinions and attitudes and judgment and everything else. [The students and those incarcerated] talk through each other's stories and realize, over time, how they're really the same but have had very different experiences. The film is about how both groups are helped for different reasons. The director, Signe Taylor, is bringing one of the people who was in the prison and is now a student at Dartmouth. That's the impact it's had.

RZ: What other stories can attendees expect from the June festival?

BAK: We also have a film coming in from England called Whirlpool about Hellen Keller, one of the people that started the ACLU. We have some people coming from the Helena [branch], speaking about the connection and what the ACLU is doing right now for liberties. And then for our athletes in town, we have one about a biking team that cycled through all seven of the United Arab Emirates in 24 hours. The piece is about this team of basketball players in the mountains of Nepal, which is very similar to the incredible basketball culture in the Native American community. Then we have Kim Swims about this woman who had had some physical problems but started training as a swimmer, [then eventually completed] the Farallon Islands swim off the coast of San Francisco in shark-infested waters. There's also one about these young girls in Kathmandu who ride bikes – in their culture, they're not even supposed to be on a bike. The film is about how they found their liberty in riding these bikes, supporting each other, and helping make shifts in what is appropriate and inappropriate for women in their society.

RZ: There really is quite the range.

BAK: We have a film called Cortez about a musician that was involved with this woman – who's also the writer/director and stars – and their experience. We have Sami Blood, which is a narrative out of Sweden, and it's fabulous. The main character is a Laplander. The way the Swedes approach the Laplanders is very similar to things that happened here with the Native American culture. We have this wonderful film, Llyana, about these young children in Swaziland. Because of their experience and how they handle what is actually PTSD, they create this incredible narrative all in animation. It's absolutely gorgeous.

RZ: Are there any special events planned to supplement the many screenings and seminars?

BAK: Starting in May, our hub will be at the ERA Visitors Center building at 8 East Main. People will be able to come in, pick-up their pass and program, and also a scavenger hunt map. A big part of this is that we want to help people see all the wonderful things about Bozeman. Then during the festival we're having a free family night at the Willson, starting out with local filmmaker Sierra Fein. She did a movie a couple of years ago called Love-Stuck, which is a silent film involving two people [who] solve all their problems with all different colors of duct tape. It's very Chaplin or Buster Keaton. It's adorable. She's going to be speaking with the children and parents about why seeing a film on a cellphone, or even on an iPad or a computer, is very different than seeing it on the big screen. Then we'll go into this collection of shorts from the New York International Children's Film Festival.

RZ: Oh fun!

BAK: The evening will be more for adult family audiences after that. A local woman who graduated from the MSU Film School, Christi Cooper, will have the trailer for a doc she's working on called Youth v Gov. It's about a series of young people that are suing the government for their environmental rights. She's going to talk about the film and the progress being made in the courts around the country.

RZ: Very nice.

BAK: We're also hosting a free screening of The Long Shadow, which is a film about the abolitionist movement right up to today. It will certainly touch on a huge amount of issues because of what's going on around the country. I think we have to really pay attention to that. We're so protected here, but there are so many people that are not. We have to pay attention because if we don't, history comes back at us. Then we'll have Ken Burns' Not for Ourselves Alone: The Story of Elizabeth Cady Stanton & Susan B. Anthony. Stanton is the woman, back in the mid-1800s, that spoke at Seneca Falls – out of her mouth came 'and women should have the vote!' It's so full of great information. With the family night and [these screenings], we're offering ways for the community to take part even if they don't buy passes. Also, BZN will actually close with a big event where awards are given for the films, which are all being voted on by the audiences as they see them. We'll keep tally as we go.

RZ: BZN will host events at the Emerson, The Ellen, Rialto, and Willson Auditorium with additional gatherings at Old Main Gallery and on the Montana State University campus. Why spread things out as opposed to hosting the festival at a single venue?

BAK: During the day, we can throw some cool, avant-garde films in smaller spaces knowing that they'll be a good house for those screenings. Maybe not everyone wants to see something on domestic violence, but they can come over here and see Jacqueline Rieder Hud's piece on how a California producer is turning her book, Laundry for Strangers, into a film. Spreading it out has more to do with having that advantage.

RZ: In the past, the availability of independent film in Bozeman has been pretty limited. That appears to be changing with local film clubs and societies, the opening of new venues, and events like BZN.

BAK: There have always been a group of people that love film and that love independent film. That's growing because, unfortunately, we're not reading enough. We all know how long it takes to read a decent book. Any great book reader will say, 'It was a better book.' But, if the film is done well, a person is able to come in and be delivered a full story in a short period of time. We'll show a film called Mankiller about the first female chief. She lived a long and extremely full life, very active right down to getting the Medal of Freedom from President Clinton. That book takes a long time to read, but to be able to come in for less than two hours and learn that story, get that knowledge, is huge. Studio films are wonderful, but they are absolutely trying to deliver certain messages. Independent film comes in and hits the independent thought. I think, in some ways, through technology, we are developing many more independent thinkers. And because of that, we have more people that want independent film.

RZ: The BZN International Film Festival will spotlight women from all corners of the film industry. How did this theme come to fruition?

BAK: George Dorsey, BZN's founder and executive producer, loves Bozeman and MSU. He has a home in Middlebury, Vermont [where] there's a wonderful college. They started a film festival almost four years ago, and he watched how valuable it was. It was great for the community, great for the school, great all around. So, he looked at the situation in Bozeman. 'Here's this incredible film school, I love art [Dorsey also owns Old Main Gallery], what is something that I can offer?' He had the thought to spotlight women. Then, as we know at the end of the summer, things started getting pretty intense. With this shift that we need to have happen in the collective consciousness and conversation, we want to make sure we have as many men in the seats as we have women. How do we go forward? What is the correct behavior? What is the right way to treat my mother, my sister, my girlfriend, my daughter? What is the right thing, as a mother, to tell my son, to talk to my husband about, to tell my boss? As we looked at that, it definitely influenced which films we were going to take on. Our lead film, Happening: A Clean Energy Revolution, is about the woman in all of our lives that if we don't pay attention to, none of it makes any difference. It's about Mother Earth. So, we've got some films that have been done by men, but they're centered on women. Mark Gordon is the producer/writer/director of a film called Awakening in Taos about Mabel Dodge Luhan, the women who brought Georgia O'Keeffe and several other artists to the Southwest. She also was instrumental in saving the lands in that area for the Native Americans. Yes, it's a guy doing it, but he's sharing this wonderful female experience.

RZ: We've covered a lot, but is there a closing message you'd like to share?

BAK: Get your passes! It's so important for people to come out and really get into the experience. This is a regional film festival that encourages [attendees] to take this on and get invested in the information so the community, as a whole, can go forward. It's going to be Bozeman – the glitterati is the mountains. We want to recognize the beauty of what we have here, in the Bozeman area, Montana, and the Northwest. BZN is going to be its own thing. As we grow, it'll be remembered as being Bozeman. So, buy a pass for yourself or give one to somebody else. Mother's Day is coming up – what a great gift for the mother, grandmother, daughter, wife, sister, or aunt in your life!

RZ: And buying a pass is an investment in entertainment, education and the community.

BAK: We'd be a lot better off if our entertainment also helped us go into tomorrow with a greater understanding. I can't imagine anybody that doesn't go, 'Today was a great day – I wonder how I can make tomorrow better? I wonder how I can help better my community? I wonder how I can be better to the planet?' That to me is extremely entertaining.

Fox & Bones, "Beatles Sing-along" & much more at Wild Joe's

Wild Joe's Coffee Spot in Downtown Bozeman is a great place for a caffeine fix, but it also doubles as a live music venue for local artists and those passing through our not-so-little mountain town. Here's a look at what's coming up.

The next Open Mic Night will take place Friday, May 4th from 6-8pm. Come for an evening of music performed by local musicians. Bring your guitar, sitar, zither, poetry, comedy, or theremin and take a turn up at the mic. Show Bozeman what you're made of! Individual set lengths depend on the number of musicians who want to play. Sign-ups start at 5:30pm - first come, first served. Be sure to bring your friends and support live music in Bozeman! A modest contribution to the kitty will be divided by participating musicians at the end of the night. The more people who come, the more money in the pot.

An additional Open Mic Night is set for Saturday, May 19th from 6-8pm.

Woodsmoke Jazz is back on Saturday, May 5th from 6-8pm. Smokin' standards and original tunes since 2009, the horn-driven jazz combo plays a variety of music including classic jazz, funk, and latin standards. They also throw in jazzed-up versions of additional genres like classic rock and others.

Howard Beall & the Fake News follow with another afternoon show on Sunday, May 6th from genres. The band plays a blend of original compositions, standards, and modern songs with the intent of creating fresh sounds while still respecting the heritage and language of those before them.

Fox & Bones return to Wild Joe's on Friday, May 11th from 6-8pm. This conceptual folk collaboration between American songwriters Sarah Vitort and Scott Gilmore is based in Portland. The duo combines lush two-part harmonies and a complex, heart-warming lyrical landscape with soft-spoken yet rich musical accompaniment. Live, they draw their audience in with their quirky banter and adorable onstage chemistry, creating - and inspiring in their fans - an archetype for true love in the modern world. Their debut album, The Remarkable Adventures Of, is available now. There is a $5 cover for this show.

On Saturday, May 12th, people of all ages will gather for the KGLT "Beatles Sing-along"

Kate & the AlleyKats

1-3pm. The group is a collection of talented young artists from around the great state of Montana. They bring people together by playing groove-based music, specifically pulling from the jazz, rock, and funk Fundraiser from 7-9pm. The evening will include a wide variety of songs recorded into our collective memory after The Beatles detonated a cultural explosion of music and energy that still reverberates today! Songs chosen for the evening will be hand-picked from their many albums including, but not limited to, "She Loves You" (Meet the Beatles!), "Norwegian Wood" (Rubber Soul), "You've Got to Hide Your Love Away" (Help!), "Obladi Oblada" (The White Album) and "Eight Days a Week" (Beatles for Sale) to name a few.

Kate Bryan, Cliff DeManty and Ron Schimpff - members of Kate & the AlleyKats - will provide instrumental accompaniment and will lead attendees in song with the help of other Bozeman musician-friends. Lyrics will be provided for the Sing-along.

Raise your voice in song while simultaneously supporting KGLT Radio's legacy of informative and varied public programming, entertainment and music shared with Gallatin Valley and beyond. A suggested donation of $10 per person is requested at the door with 100% of contributions directly benefiting KGLT.

Jeremy Quick stops in on Sunday, May 13th from 1-3pm. He'll perform solo jazz guitar with a mix of jazz, pop, and rock instrumentals. Jeremy's a skilled musician and composer who's been performing since 2003, nationally and internationally, solo and with groups. While he enjoys playing guitar for a myriad of bands, he also finds time to compose and tour with his original project, The JQTrio. Jeremy's 2014 single, "Superhero," was an American Songwriting Award Nominee.

Justin Howl performs on Thursday, May 17th from 6-8pm. Following the maxim that the blues is a way of life, Howl specializes in suggestive innuendo and experiments with esoteric truth, seeking to capture and sustain a harmonious blend of sound from wood and metal and guts. Based in Chicago, he comes to Bozeman with guitar, harmonica, and stomp box. His album, Justin Howl and the Salty Dogs, is available now.

Finally, California-based Cristina Vane brings her unique blend of blues and folk to the coffee shop on Friday, May 18th from 6-8pm. Vane draws influences from country blues, delta blues, and folk. Whether on the Venice boardwalk busking by the beach or on a stage on the Sunset Strip, her signature silver resonator, slide guitar playing, and powerful vocals are unmistakable and unforgettable. Vane's latest EP, Troubled Sleep, is available now.

Wild Joe's Coffee Spot is located at 18 W Main St. in the heart of historic Downtown Bozeman. Learn more about these and other upcoming events at www.wild-joescoffee.com.

Camping opens at Norris to accompany the poolside acoustics

The Island of Norris campground is open for the year! If you haven't spent a night at the renovated campground, its full hook-ups and tent sites overlooking the natural wetland are ready for anxious campers. WiFi and showers are available, and for only $3 you can have unlimited soaks!

While strolling to the "Holy Bucket," take a moment to check out the extraordinary onsite garden. This oasis of nutrition is already prepped and ready for another record-setting year. All kinds of spinach overwintered and all the garden beds stayed protected, thanks to the genius gardener Kathleen Rauch.

In the No LoOsc Dogs Saloon, salad greens are fresh and the popular menu items are ready for you to enjoy. The 50 Mile Grill opens weekends starting in May! What is the 50 Mile Grill, you ask? A one of a kind opportunity to eat the freshest, organic, sustainable and locally sourced food in the area. Norris works with local farmers and ranchers to ensure the food on your plate has traveled less than 50 miles. Add a meal and a soak to your outdoor plans and visit soon!

Delicious food, regional craft beers, a wide selection of wine and the finest in acoustic music await at

Norris Hot Springs. Here's a breakdown of upcoming music, all beginning at 7pm:

Dan Martin kicks off a new month on Friday, May 4th. His music is influenced by the likes of Townes Van Zandt, Guy Clark, John Prine, and others. Dan's from Tulsa, but does not "live" anywhere. He considers his songs to be poetically telling of the nostalgic and inescapable human condition.

Charlie Denison follows Saturday, May 5th. The bluesy singer/songwriter will bring a mix of folk, rock, soul, reggae, a little country, and - his favorite - blues. Charlie performs a diverse repertoire of covers and originals.

Seldom Kings close out the weekend on Sunday, May 6th. The fun, creative pair of multi-instrumentalists will entertain with original music, spot-on covers and those barely recognizable, as well as some other great surprises. Note: the previously announced May 6th performance by Andrea Harsell has been cancelled.

Check out Billings-based singer/songwriter Jessica Lechner on Friday, May 11th. Bringing a folk sound driven by genuine, honest original songs as well as a few covers from acts like Grace Potter and The Beatles, Lechner is an amazing performer. Her originals are passion-filled stories from her life experiences and growing up in Montana, creating a musical portfolio that any audience can relate to.

Michael Hoffman performs on Saturday, May 12th. Bassist for Montana favorite outlaw country band The Dirty Shame, Michael steps in for a solo performance. He enjoys playing early country by the likes of Waylon Jennings, Willie Nelson, and Johnny Cash, as well as dipping into his growing repertoire of original songs that span several genres.

Kalyn Beasley brings the poolside entertainment on Sunday, May 13th. The talented Wyoming-based singer/songwriter recently returned to his Northern Rockies roots from Austin to pursue a solo career. He brings an acoustic show featuring Americana and Texas country, and also shares many of his originals. Kalyn was previously with the Bozeman-based Bad Intentions as frontman and bass guitarist.

Helena-based Taylor McCarl is set for Friday, May 18th. The singer/songwriter is inspired by all genres and not restricted to one. His thoughtful lyrics are combined with multiple instrumental styles, all surrounding the acoustic guitar and intricate finger picking. Taylor is ready to see the world and help others express themselves while being inspired by friends, family, and new experiences.

Enjoy the sounds of Todd Green on Saturday, May 19th. Originally from Michigan, Green has lived in the area for more than thirty years. He is known for his acoustic light rock musical style and passion for vinyl records. Expect to hear '60s-'80s rock classics including favorites from America, The Eagles to David Bowie, Pink Floyd and everything in between.

On Sunday, May 20th, Heather Lingle is back at Norris. Heather is a Montana-based singer/songwriter. She fronts a band comprised of a lead guitar player and upright string bassist both of whom spent a considerable amount of time playing professionally in Nashville. Heather is the lead vocalist and rhythm guitarist. Her new album, Wild Blue, is available now. Norris Hot Springs is a historic treasure in Montana, and has proudly offered locals and travelers a soothing place to 'Eat, Drink, Soak and Enjoy' for many years. Operating hours, menu items, as well as information about camping and the designated driver program is available at www.norrishotsprings.com. Call (406) 685-3303 with additional questions. Norris will be returning to summer hours in June.

Portland Cello Project, Cascade Crescendo & others at Filling Station

ChickenJam West will present Scott Pemberton Band on Saturday, April 28th at 9pm. Tickets to this 21+ show are $10 in advance and $12 at the door. Doors at 8pm.

Pemberton's sound is much like the vibe of his native Portland: freaky, fun, and just the right amount of weird. The best way to categorize his music is with the moniker "Timber Rock," also the title of his 2015 album. Pemberton naturally applies his own lens/stamp to the sounds of the Pacific Northwest, the region he has always called home. The deep jazz, NW rock/grunge, blues roots, and the West Coast funk. It's all there, and often all in the same song. The mastery of his guitar playing combined with the fun recklessness of his songwriting show that the rules of songwriting and playing the guitar no longer exist for him. Pemberton plays with the uninhibited joy and intensity of someone who recognizes that every time we make music is an honor and a gift.

Dodgy Mountain Men perform with help from Lazy Owl String Band and Semi-Precious Stones on Friday, May 4th at 9pm. Tickets to this 21+ show are $8 in advance and $10 at the door. Doors at 8pm.

Dodgy Mountain Men sling a home-brewed Montana stompgrass that goes down smooth but packs a bite, mixing the rhythms of bluegrass, the soul of the blues and the energy of rock n' roll with a plethora of other musical traditions to create a unique electro-acoustic experience. The group's genre-bending experimentation and passion for American roots traditions weave together to emphasize their lyrical storytelling, creating a musical frontier rife with empty mason jars, outlaws, gypsy women and cold Montana storms. Add three distinct front-men, a pension for sonic exploration and live performances that build to a fever pitch, and you've got a concoction that will make moonshiners proud and compel dancers to wear out the soles of their shoes.

The Portland Cello Project follows with a performance on Saturday, May 12th at 9pm. Tickets to this 21+ show are $12 in advance and $15 at the door. Doors at 8pm.

From classical to Jazz, pop to metal, transcendent to raucous, the group will be presenting a full evening of what has become their signature, genre-bending style of performance. Expect everything from Bach to Coltrane to Radiohead, including guest collaborations with a diverse assortment of songwriters and instrumentalists.

Special guests on this tour include ex-Montanian Maiah Wynne, a songwriter/multi-instrumentalist whose credits include the track used for the closing credits for the Montana-based film The Ballad of Lefty Brown. Also touring is trumpeter Farnell Newton, a staple of the Portland jazz and funk scene whose performance and recording credits include Bootsy Collins and Liv Warfield.

Cascade Crescendo is back in Bozeman on Tuesday, May 15th at 9pm. Tickets to this 21+ show are $8 in advance and $12 at the door. Doors at 8pm.

The Portland-based outfit has been crafting its own brand of bluegrass since 2013. Pulling from their vast range of collective influences, they play original, high-energy bluegrass, jamgrass, and Americana music with captivating lead vocals by Hunter White, blazing fast mandolin licks by Aden Beck, and creative, thumping bass lines by Taylor Skiles. Duluth, MN banjo player Harrison Olk joined the band in late 2015, bringing with him solid Scruggs-style banjo and high lonesome harmony vocals. Their album, Caught in the Rain, is available now.

Red Wanting Blue is next up on Tuesday, May 22nd with opener

Liz Brasher getting things going at 8pm. Tickets to this 21+ show are $12 in advance and $15 at the door. Doors at 7pm.

The tenured Columbus, Ohio rockers are touring in support of their just released new album, The Wanting. Produced by acclaimed singer/songwriter Will Hoge, the record showcases the band at its finest, with frontman Scott Terry's epic, heartfelt vocals soaring above the group's gritty, driving rock and roll. Alternately triumphant and melancholic, the songs are both muscular and nuanced, equally at home blasting from a car stereo as they are drifting through a pair of headphones late on some lonely night. Though the record draws on many of the band's traditional

Crusts & crescendos at Red Tractor Pizza in May

Red Tractor Pizza plays host to live music and other events throughout the week. Settle in with a slice, a Montana brew, and a seat! Here's a look at what's coming up.

Something & the Anything close out April on Saturday the 28th at 7pm. The high energy groove machine consists of guitarist Chris Cowan, bassist Nathan Bennett, and drummer Justin DiTienne. They pride themselves on creating a new and exciting show every time they play. With roots in funk and progressive rock, Something & the Anything is sure to entertain all night long!

Regular Red Tractor performer Larry Kiff will provide the tunes on Tuesday, May 1st at 7pm. Larry is an excellent guitarist and has been a country fan his whole life. He cites Buck Owens as his number one influence. Expect to hear Larry play mostly older country tunes with covers of George Jones, Owens, Johnny Cash, and Charley Pride, just to name a few.

The Dusty Pockets will step in for Bridger Creek Boys on Thursday, May 3rd at 7pm. The Bozeman band explores genres from blues and country, to folk and soul. They're most comfortably described as purveyors of American roots music. The fellas seek to tell meaningful stories, delivered with grit, wrapped in beautiful melodies and driven by powerful grooves.

On May 4th, Jazz Night comes to Red Tractor, as it does every Friday, at 7pm. Hosted by guitarist and composer Alex Robilotta, these evenings feature the music styles of jazz, funk, latin, and more. Come out, get ready to groove, and hear America's only original art form as it exists and evolves in the 21st century. Additional Jazz Nights are set for May 11th and 18th at 7pm.

The Latin Project stop in on Saturday, May 5th at 7pm. Grab a Montana brew to go along with your pie of choice and settle in for the show. Come check out the acoustics and show them some love!

Mike & Mike return with a show on Tuesday, May 8th at 7pm. With music ranging from folk and country western, to blues and rock, Mike Comstock of Bozeman band Comstock Lode and local musician Mike Doughery perform primarily cover songs with a few originals. You can expect to hear the duo play tunes from a variety of artists including Sam Cooke, Simon & Garfunkel, John Denver, Eric Clapton, The Rolling Stones, Merle Haggard and Garth Brooks.

Grab a seat for Comedy Night on Wednesday, May 9th beginning at 7:30pm. High energy comedy, improvised storytelling, and short scenes will keep you good and entertained. Red Tractor hosts one of Gallatin Valley's only regular live comedy shows every month. The stand-up comedy night takes place every second and fourth Wednesday. The show is all ages, so you can bring the whole family for some laughs.

Bridger Creek Boys return to their usual Thursday slot on May 10th at 7pm. The Boys are an acoustic bluegrass quartet steeped in old-time tradition, while also pushing the genre with newgrass. The band blends originals with covers of traditional bluegrass and more contemporary artists. Their style is confident, complex, and full of improvisation that will draw you in and get you shaking all over with bluegrass joy. Bridger Creek Boys will bring additional performances to Red Tractor May 17th and 24th at 7pm.

Juice Box Band perform Saturday, May 12th beginning at 7pm. Composed of Alan "Juicebox" Molyneux and Weston Lewis, this group has a fun, engaging sound that'll pair perfectly with pizza and hops. Come check them out!

Check out Lazy Owl String Band on Sunday, May 13th at 6pm. A diverse group of musicians, the Lazy Owls' influences range from jazz and blues to punk rock. However varied their influences, they're undeniably steeped in an old-timey traditional style. The group encapsulates an ethic of hard driving, whiskey drinking, boot-stomping music with infectious energy that's sure to get you moving. The band's repertoire is heavily rooted in original material that pays homage to the tradition from which it was begotten.

Dan Dubuque

Howard Beall & the Fake News follow on Saturday, May 19th at 7pm. The group is a collection of talented young artists from around the great state of Montana. They bring people together by playing groove-based music, specifically pulling from the jazz, rock, and funk genres. The band plays a blend of original compositions, standards, and modern songs with the intent of creating fresh sounds while still respecting the heritage and language of those before them.

Finally, one-man soul band Dan Dubuque is back on Sunday, May 20th at 6pm. Dan plays a Weissenborn lap slide guitar as a percussive instrument, as well as a rhythm and lead instrument. The son of a Native Aymara Indian from Bolivia and a Caucasian American from Montana, he brings a passion for all styles of music.

Red Tractor Pizza serves up New York-style, brick oven pizzas with a Bozeman, Montana spin! The eatery uses the freshest, most locally-sourced ingredients to bring you hand-tossed artisan pizzas in a comfortable, family-friendly environment. Join for live music and entertainment 4+ nights a week while enjoying twelve of Montana's best draft beers, juicy Italian wines, and the company of good friends, old or new! Red Tractor is the place where the Bozeman community comes together to eat, listen, relax, share, learn, and connect.

Red Tractor Pizza is located at 1007 W Main St. in Bozeman. Check out their menu at www.redtractorpizza.com.

You Knew Me When, Lazy Owl String Band at Bridger Brewing

If you're seeking the very best Montana craft beers and artisan pizza, look no further than Bridger Brewing. In addition to its fantastic menu items, the family-friendly brewer also hosts Music & Mussels every Wednesday and {Pints with Purpose} every Monday. Here's a look at some of the upcoming acts and nonprofits.

Wednesday nights from 5:30-8pm, Bridger Brewing hosts Music & Mussels! Come enjoy some live music and a half pound of succulent, steamed mussels with house-made sweet Italian sausage, tomatoes, garlic, and chili flakes, topped with parsley and tomato salsa.

Colorado-based You Knew Me When will provide the tunes on Wednesday, May 2nd. Outfitted with an array of instruments, the folk/rock duo present a full band sound. While blending their vocals, Karisa provides the piano, ukulele, glockenspiel, and percussive elements, as Cie supplies the guitar and other rhythmic nuances. The cumulative result is a musical style and live show that blends a singer/songwriter soul with a rock n' roll mentality. Into the Looking Glass is the duo's third studio album and is available now. At times upbeat and folksy, at times brooding and reflective, the album aims at introspection for the couple's continued journey while sharing experiences gained from over five years of nonstop touring.

Lazy Owl String Band bring a performance on Wednesday, May 9th. A diverse group of musicians, the Lazy Owls' influences range from jazz and blues to punk rock. However varied their influences, they're undeniably steeped in an old-timey traditional style. The group encapsulates an ethic of hard driving, whiskey drinking, boot-stomping music with infectious energy that's sure to get you moving. The band's repertoire is heavily rooted in original material that pays homage to the tradition from which it was begotten.

Latin fusion group BoZambique play for brewery patrons Wednesday, May 16th. The band performs percussive-centric melodies driven by world-infused rhythm and blues. They are a five-member band inspired by Afropop, Highlife, as well as Cuban and Brazilian song and dance. BoZambique is comprised of Loren Block (uke bass), Aaron Banfield (guitar), Matt Sloan (saxophone), Jelani Mahiri (percussion), and Doug Wales (congas).

Bozeman fiddler and songstress Chelsea Hunt performs on Wednesday, May 23rd. She's been gracing the stages of Bozeman venues with her sweet melodic musical presence for years, most recently as a member of Acony Belles. She'll be performing Americana tunes along with some musician friends.

Bridger Brewing not only takes pride in its stellar menu items, but also in the community it serves. The brewery hosts {Pints with Purpose} every Monday evening from 5-8pm where $1 of every pint sold will be donated to a featured local nonprofit. Here's a look at some of the nonprofits on the calendar in the coming weeks. Come enjoy a house-made brew and be charitable in the process!

Proceeds from Monday, April 30th will aid the efforts of the Gallatin Valley Skijoring Association (GVSJA). With its roots in Scandinavia, skijoring has transformed into an action packed competition where a horse and rider pull a skier at a fast pace through a course featuring gates, jumps, and rings. Modern skijoring combines Montana's signature ski heritage with its cowboy roots into a wild, fast paced, spectacular event. GVSJA works to bring one of the largest skijoring races to Bozeman. Learn more at www.gallatinvalleyskijoring.com.

Have a brew and help raise dollars for Wild Sheep Foundation on Monday, May 7th. The organization's mission is to enhance wild sheep populations, promote scientific wildlife management, educate the public and youth on sustainable use and the conservation benefits of hunting while promoting the interests of the hunter. Learn more at www.wildsheepfoundation.org.

Monies raised on Monday, May 14th will benefit Suffer Out Loud, a local nonprofit leading an effort to present hope to those struggling with mental illness and suicide ideation. The organization supports educational and informational activities to increase awareness of mental illness and suicide prevention. Learn more at www.sufferoutloud.org.

Learn about The Compassion Project on Monday, May 21st. The non-partisan, non-religious organization and project is designed to bring the Bozeman community and the greater Gallatin County together through education in and outside the schools around compassion – what it means, how to recognize it, how to practice it, and why it is important. Find out more at www.montana.edu/thecompassionproject.

Bridger Brewing provides the Bozeman community with unique hand-crafted brews, fresh artisan-style pizzas, and more. Locally owned, family friendly, and Bobcat proud, Bridger Brewing is the perfect place for lunch or an evening out. To learn more about upcoming events and daily specials, visit www.bridgerbrewing.com or call (406) 587-2124. Bridger Brewing is located at 1609 S 11th Ave. in the Town & Country complex, near campus and just across from the Fieldhouse. They're open for business from 11:30am-9pm daily.

Baroque Music Montana offers annual performance workshop

Are you curious what information is available about period performance? Do you love history, music, and the stories it has to tell? Baroque Music Montana offers a Period Performance Workshop, specifically for modern instrument performers hosted by First Presbyterian Church, August 24th-26th.

The workshop will explore:

- Original sources (manuscript scores and first editions, iconography, writing) and their clues for today's performers
- Varied articulation

- Rhetorical, communicative sound
- Ornamentation and improvisation
- Open, centered, relaxed physical approach to instrument

Working closely with Baroque Music Montana faculty, participants will use these elements to inspire fresh, invigorated, and uniquely personal performances! This year's workshop will feature a special faculty performance on Saturday, August 25th. Faculty includes Carrie Krause (violin), Adriane Post (violin), Paul Dwyer (cello), John Lentí (lute, guitar), Nate Helgeson (bassoon), and Benedict Williams (harpsichord).

The workshop is open to students, amateur, and professional players of string, wind, and keyboard instruments, as well as guitar or lute with at least four years playing experience and adequate reading skills. Must be 14 or older. Limited to 50 participants. Cost is $175. Registration deadline is May 31st. For further workshop details and to register, visit www.bozemansymphony.org. Contact info@bozemansymphony.org or call (406) 585-9774 with additional questions.

Bottom of the Barrel, Josh Moore at Bozeman Spirits

Bozeman Spirits in historic Downtown Bozeman is a great place to warm up with a drink or two! The distillery also hosts live music by great local artists every Tuesday from 5:30-8pm in their welcoming tasting room. Here's a look at the upcoming acts.

Helena-based Taylor McCarl is first up on Tuesday, May 1st. The singer/songwriter is inspired by all genres and not restricted to one. His thoughtful lyrics are combined with multiple instrumental styles, all surrounding the acoustic guitar and intricate finger picking. Taylor is ready to see the world and help others express themselves while being inspired by friends, family, and new experiences.

Bottom of the Barrel follows with a performance on Tuesday, May 8th. The honky-tonk country and rock band visits the big city from Big Sky. Formed in the summer of 2010 from the remnants of other local bands and open mic night regulars, Bottom of the Barrel features the rhythm section of Jon Parvin (bass) and Tom Casale (drums) and the vocal/guitar duo of Jeff Bellino and Lauren Regnier. The result is a steady rockin' country show with vocal harmonies and a danceable groove.

Josh Moore returns Tuesday, May 15th. A native of North Carolina, he is a vocalist and guitarist most frequently lending his talents to Laney Lou & The Bird Dogs. The band fuses old time folk songs with a rock n' roll attitude, pushing the envelope of what a string band would generally be described as. Come enjoy Moore's solo renditions!

Singer/songwriter Russ Chapman stops in with a show on Tuesday, May 22nd. Chapman brings a strong sense of wit and a weak sense of sentimentality to nearly every song he writes. From numbers like "Exercise Your Demons," where the narrator laments on aging and innocence, to "Jesus on the Beach," an exploration of immigration, identity, and mild-mannered hypocrisy, Mr. Chapman will only sing a love song if it involves his deep affection for metaphor. As he said in his TEDx Bozeman presentation on songwriting, "I never met a metaphor I didn't like." Indeed. Be prepared for a memorable evening of words and music.

Bozeman Spirits Distillery's tasting room offers a warm and welcoming environment. With the history kept alive in the reclaimed wood and metals throughout, you will feel the modern charm and history as you walk in. Your fresh cocktail is served upon wood from the 1930s, and the bar brings the atmosphere of the old saloon. The beautiful stills and production are seen through the back glass windows of the tasting room, and the mixologists will be happy to explain distilling techniques from the grains, mashing, blending, and bottling processes.

Learn more about their spirits, distilling processes, and other offerings at www.bozemanspirits.com.

You walk into a boutique and find an amazing piece of glass art that captures your imagination.

While sitting in a restaurant waiting for food, you look up and see a painting that takes you back to your childhood.

At your friends house, after dinner, you sit down for a cup of coffee and notice that not only is the mug cascading with vibrant glazes, but that it sits just-perfectly against your palm while you lift it up for one more warm sip.

Have you ever wondered, "How did they make that?"

Well, that's why SLAM is pleased to announce a great new lineup of demonstrations for its 2018 Summer SLAM Festival to help you make the unfathomable become understood.

Every summer, SLAM hosts a "Demonstration Tent" where local artisans and artists show how they make the impossible real. With 30 seats free and open to the public, you're invited to come watch a glassworker, chef, musician, writer, ceramicists, and more perform their expert trades.

Here are just a few the artists and creators who will be showcasing their skills:

Starting off the festival at 11:30am on Saturday, August 4th, Daniel Wendell from The Food Studio will give a culinary demonstration. Daniel, with his wife and partner Eva, own and operate the Food Studio on Kagy. Daniel began cooking at the age of 13 before getting his culinary training in California and has cooked and catered events throughout the West. With Daniel's fabulous team, the Food Studio hosts dinners, cater parties, and serve as private, in-house chefs. The Food Studio Team offers unique culinary experiences to the Gallatin Valley by highlighting local ingredients in fun and imaginative ways, creating an edible landscape where all senses are explored. Learn more at www.foodstudiomt.com.

Later that day, Keith McCafferty, author and travel journalist will talk about writing, Having grown up in the Appalachians, the trout fishing called him West where he has had a flourishing career writing about everything from mosquitoes to wolves, to mercenaries and exorcism. A decorated author for both his journalism and novels, Keith is the author of Royal Wulff Murders, The Gray Ghost Murders (chosen by Oprah's Book Club as one of "5 Addictive New Mysteries We Can't Put Down,") Dead Man's Fancy, and Crazy Mountain Kiss. Learn more at www.keithmccafferty.com.

On Sunday, August 5th, Darla Myers, encaustic artist will give a demonstration on encaustic painting – a method of painting in which beeswax and paint is melted and applied to the surface of the painting while hot. Each layer of paint is fused to the layer below with the application of heat, building up a surface of depth and narrative. Darla is a self-taught artist living and working in Bozeman. She has been painting in encaustic for over 8 years and teaches Intro to Encaustic Workshops. She is represented by Tripp Studio (Bozeman), B.Hive (Livingston), 1+1=1 Gallery (Helena), and Persimmon Gallery (Big Fork). Learn more at www.darlamyersart.com.

Also demonstrating this summer, among others, will be Verge Theater, Jake Fleming leading Yoga, the Skateboard Alliance of Montana, bookbinding with Bozeman Public Library, and the MSU Art Guilds including metalsmithing, printmaking, painting, and ceramics. Keep an eye out for a complete schedule as the festival approaches.

So, head down to the Demonstration Tent, tucked away behind the main stage, and learn how so many of your daily wonders came to be.

Finally, SLAM wants YOU! Those looking to volunteer during the 2018 Summer SLAM Festival can log on to www.slamfestivals.org and click on 'Volunteer' to peruse the complete shift schedule and sign-up based on individual interests.

Locksaw Cartel, MudSlide Charley at Eagles Bar downtown

Downtown Bozeman's Fraternal Order of Eagles draws a diverse crowd. Most commonly known to locals as the Eagles Bar, this watering hole is popular to everyone from cowboys to ski bums to college kids. Not only a popular spot for the happy hour crowd, the Eagles hosts weekly live music and karaoke. Here's a look at what's coming up.

Country rockers Bluebelly Junction return with the danceable entertainment Friday and Saturday, April 27th-28th. The group provides audiences with what they consider "rockabilly music" all over the state of Montana. The high-energy band tends to veer away from slow jams, other than the occasional tune. With an arsenal of originals and personalized covers, the guys will keep you on your feet until last call.

Missoula-based Locksaw Cartel visits the Downtown Bozeman tavern, Friday and Saturday, May 4th-5th. The high energy, hard-driving original ensemble features powerful vocals complemented by soaring guitar and piano leads. While the group's home base is danceable funk and R&B, Locksaw also navigates through multiple genres in tight-knit original compositions often blending one song into the next. They draw influence from Portishead, Ween, Billy Holiday, Clouddead, Miles Davis, Bill Frisell, John Scofield, Grant Green, Nirvana, McCoy Tyner, Les Claypool, Morcheeba, Bonobo, all of the music from the late '60s through the '70s, and much more.

Check out fellow Missoulians MudSlide Charley, whose house-rockin' roots music will be on full display, Friday and Saturday, May 11th-12th. From its first sparks in 2004, the band has continued to ignite and morph over the years into what is now a five-piece powerhouse. The band draws its inspiration from a more antiquated era, when Muddy Waters and John Lee Hooker first fused the rough and rural vibes of southern acoustic blues with modern electric instruments. MudSlide Charley weaves their blues foundation with Stax-era R&B, hip-hop, and indie rock to perform original songs that bristle with vital relevance, emotional fervor, and soul-drenched blues.

The Poison Lovers take the stage May 18th-19th, followed by the return of Andrea Harsell & Luna Roja, Friday and Saturday, May 25th-26th. Harsell is a Missoula native who's been honing her craft as a songwriter and solo artist by singing and stomping her way in brew houses across Western Montana for the last five years.

Andrea Harsell & Luna Roja are a potent quartet with a natural chemistry that can be felt as they blend elements of Americana, rock, and R&B into their own sound. Harsell's magnetic stage presence is supported by stalwarts who know their craft with life size personalities of their own. Filled with songs about the human experience, social issues, love and love lost, the show is high energy and feels good.

Luna Roja features drummer Antonio Alvarez, guitarist Nick Hamburg, and bassist Michael Rhead. Their new album, Something for the Pain, is available now.

Bridger Mountain Big Band performs regularly on Sundays from 7-9:30pm. The 17-piece jazz orchestra celebrates the music of Duke Ellington, Count Basie, and more, with original arrangements and music of all genres from the 1900s to today. Check them out on Facebook, @TheBridgerMountainBigBand, for performance announcements.

Always a blast, Sunrise Entertainment brings the fun of karaoke and DJ music every Thursday. Come sing your heart out and maybe even do a dance number between songs. Liquid confidence available upon request.

ALL Eagles Bar live music begins at 9pm, unless otherwise noted. Come play a game of pool, listen to some great local bands, or stop in for a cold one any day of the week! The Eagles is located at 316 E Main St., next to the Nova Café. For more information, call (406) 587-9996.

Live From The Divide features Mark Stuart, Erin Enderlin

Live From The Divide continues intimate performances in May, celebrating the lineage and contemporary voice of the American Roots singer/songwriter. Here's a look at just a few of the upcoming acts.

Singer/songwriter Mark Stuart brings a show on Wednesday, May 9th at 9pm. Tickets are $20 plus fees. Doors at 8pm.

After many years on the Americana/Folk circuit, Stuart has cultivated a very rounded performance. His show consists of storytelling, flashy guitar "chops," and songs that seem to draw from his rock, blues, country, and folk music roots. Mostly, this artist from Tennessee has toured solo or in a notable duo with his wife (Stacey Earle & Mark Stuart). He's also performed alongside the likes of Steve Forbert, Freddy Fender, Steve Earle, Joan Baez, Jason Ringenberg, Ray Wylie Hubbard, and Jimmy LaFave. Stuart's decade-spanning career has repeatedly taken him to all of the USA, Canada, Europe, and the United Kingdom.

Country artist Erin Enderlin follows with special guest Kayla Ray on Tuesday, May 15th at 9pm. Tickets are $25 plus fees.

Erin Enderlin with special guest Kayla Ray

Doors at 8pm.

Enderlin's voice is a force – smooth, strong, and rich, equally capable of barreling through a run, pulling more emotion out of a single note than seemed possible, or delivering subdued, almost spoken, quips. As a writer, she is interested in the motivation behind and aftermath of choices in all kinds of relationships, from romantic to familial to how we view home.

When Enderlin writes a song, more is born than melody and rhyme. Women and men leap from her music, as fully formed and real as we are, all blood and sweat, living, loving, killing, and dying. Enderlin's latest album, Whiskeytown Crier, puts all the sad souls she's grown so fond of singing and writing about in the same small, fictional city.

Enderlin is also the writer behind award-winning songs like "Monday Morning Church" by Alan Jackson and "Last Call" by Lee Ann Womack, critically acclaimed "You Don't Know Jack" by Luke Bryan, and a host of others for Randy Travis, Terri Clark, Joey + Rory, Tyler Farr, Tara Thompson, Muscadine Bloodline, and more.

Americana/folk artist Matthew Szlachetka performs Friday, May 25th at 9pm. Tickets are $20 plus fees. Doors at 8pm.

Named by Rolling Stone as one of the "10 New Country Artists You Need to Know," Szlachetka (pronounced Sla-Het-Ka) draws your gaze back to a simpler time when music was less about stylized production and more about its experiential nature. His songwriting finds inspiration in the threads that connect us, weaving a tapestry of familiar moments that pay homage to the past while leaning into a future that promises both wonder and grace. Szlachetka's sophomore album, Heart of my Hometown (produced by Grammy winning producer David Bianco), is set for release in early 2018.

Looking ahead, Animal Years is set for a show on Wednesday, May 30th at 9pm. Tickets are $25 plus fees. Doors at 8pm.

The band is touring in continued support of their 2017 EP, Far From Home. Produced by Ryan Hadlock – renowned for his work with The Lumineers, Brandi Carlile and Vance Joy – Home offers a consistently compelling distillation of the Brooklyn-by-way-of-Baltimore trio's irresistibly anthemic, unfailingly uplifting songcraft, which ranges from the fist-pumping infectiousness of "Caroline" to the introspective warmth of "Friends" to the bittersweet buoyancy of "Home (I Was Born)." Guitarist Mike McFadden's catchy, emotionally direct songwriting is matched by the band's exuberant performances, which combine McFadden's open-hearted vocals and surging acoustic guitars with the punchy rhythmic kick of bassist Anthony Saladino and drummer Anthony Spinnato.

Tickets are sold at the door, but these small shows are known to sell out quickly – so buy yours early! Tickets are available at Cactus Records or www.cactusrecords.net. Live is located at 627 E Peach St. in Bozeman. Visit www.livefromthedivide.com for a full lineup of performances and further information. •

Country Jam '18 – tickets on sale now!

Summer is on the horizon, which of course means festival season is also upon us! The 2018 Headwaters Country Jam returns to The Bridge near Three Forks, Thursday through Saturday, June 14th–16th. Headliners Gary Allan, Kip Moore, and Josh Turner are joined by featured performers Brett Young, Walker Hayes, Diamond Rio, Devin Dawson, Stephanie Quayle, Dylan Jakobsen, Sasha McVeigh, Elizabeth Lyons, Elana Jane, and Caroline Gray for this year's festival.

With the allure of a modern day outlaw, Gary Allan has won over fans, peers and critics with his signature blend of smoldering vocals, rebellious lyrics and raucous live performances. While becoming a force on the country music scene, Allan has remained true to his artistic voice each step of the way. He's described as "dark and dreamy" by Entertainment Weekly, "soulful and rough around the edges" by Playboy, and deemed a "maverick" by Rolling Stone. Allan has five #1 hits at country radio, fourteen Top 10 hits to his credit and amassed over 270 million total streams. He is currently finishing up work for his upcoming EMI Nashville release.

Kip Moore combines a raw and rustic voice with compelling lyrics of honesty to create a unique sound that's simultaneously hypnotic and edgy. His voice is weathered by life's detours and disappointments and strengthened by his dreams and determination. His music is infused with relentless intensity, both of passion and frustration. Moore is touring in support of his latest release, Slowheart, a warm and honest embrace of the country artist's rugged rock roots and a showcase for his innate poetic prowess. The collection is made up of enduring, sturdy songs, ones that showcase his knack for rich storytelling.

Josh Turner is one of country music's most recognizable hit-makers. With a rich, deep voice and distinctive style, he's sold more than 12.5 million units, is a disciple of traditional country music and one of the youngest members of the esteemed Grand Ole Opry. From his 2003 platinum-selling debut Long Black Train to his most recent 2017 Billboard No. 1 release, Deep South, Turner has garnered multiple Grammy, CMA, and ACM nominations. Turner's hits include "Your Man," "Why Don't We Just Dance," "Firecracker," "Would You Go with Me," "All Over Me," and "Time Is Love."

Country Jam tickets are on sale now. Secure your spot with weekend general admission tickets for $150, or $125 with valid military ID. A limited number of VIP weekend passes are also available, but will sell out quickly! Buy yours and learn more about the festival at www.headwaterscountryjam.com.

Held every summer since 2008, Headwaters Country Jam was created to bring live country music in a festival atmosphere to Montana and the Northwest.

The festival takes place at the venue known as The Bridge, an area near Three Forks comprised of 159 acres and is the final resting ground for the historic Sappington Bridge that once spanned the Jefferson River. Sixty acres are used for the state-certified campground, which holds 1,200 20x40 sites. Within the venue is a 12-acre arena where all the magic happens. Live music from national and local acts plays all day and into the night.

The three-day festival has brought in high caliber stars including Eric Church, Montgomery Gentry, The Charlie Daniels Band, Eli Young Band, Dustin Lynch, Chris Young, Tracy Lawrence, Trace Adkins, Clint Black, Randy Houser, Sammy Kershaw, The Bellamy Brothers, Pat Green, Blackhawk, Lonestar, Colin Raye, Emerson Drive, John Anderson, Joe Diffie, Mark Chesnutt, Mark Wills, Deana Carter, Little Texas, and many more.

Besides the live music, festival-goers can enjoy horseshoe tournaments, dance contests, mechanical bull riding, as well as food and merchandise vendors. •

Outdoor-focused courses continue at REI

REI Bozeman continues to host FREE outdoors-based presentations this wintry spring. Here's a look at some of the upcoming courses and other events.

Bozeman Backcountry Woman Series: Gourmet Cooking for Backpackers is first up on Thursday, May 3rd from 6-7:30pm. REI backpacking experts will debunk the myth that backpacking meals consist of only prepackaged freeze dried meals or bars. Learn insider tips on delicious meal preparation using items already in your pantry and how to dehydrate your own food at home. There will also be a brief discussion on stoves, fuel, and cook sets.

Women's Mountain Biking Basics follows on Thursday, May 10th from 6-7:30pm. Thinking about hitting the trail on your bike or maybe find out about what to look for when purchasing a new mountain bike or modifying your existing one? Join a REI mountain bike expert to learn about the bikes, essential gear and safety, responsibility on the trail, basic bike maintenance and more.

Bike Maintenance for Trail Riding rolls in on Tuesday, May 22nd from 6:30-8pm. Mountain bikes are made for the trails, but sometimes they still need a little care and attention to keep performing at their best. This class will cover critical maintenance tips that will help you get the most out of every ride, no matter the season. Topics covered include quieting a noisy drivetrain, checking and replacing brake pads, cleaning a dirty bike, experimenting with tire pressure, and the basics of setting up your suspension.

Finally, Prepare for Bear Country on Wednesday, May 23rd from 6:30-8pm. The Bozeman REI store offers monthly bear education classes throughout the summer. Taught by one of REI's nonprofit partners specializing in bear behavior, the goal is to reduce bear-human conflicts and injuries to both. Participants will have the opportunity to practice the proper use of bear spray with inert canisters.

Many REI classes and presentations are free and open to the public, but registration is required. Space is limited. Reserve a spot now at www.rei.com/learn, where you can find more information about these and other upcoming courses and events. •

Bobcat Football nabs a new trio

by Danny Waldo

The spring football season has come and gone, but work for the Montana State Bobcat football coaches never ends.

Paramount amongst that work is the desire to build a roster that gives the 'Cats the best opportunity to compete for a conference championship come the Fall. MSU made a big step in that direction recently with the addition of a pair of transfers and a freshman who will look to compete for playing time immediately under Jeff Choate's tutelage.

Sophomores Dante Sparaco and Daniel Hardy come to Bozeman as transfers, Sparaco from the University of Colorado, and Hardy by way of Siskiyou Junior College in California. Freshman Todd Payne comes to Bozeman out of Idaho Falls High School where he starred as a defensive end/long snapper.

Sparaco, whose father Dino played for the 'Cats from 1990-1992, saw action in seven games last season for the Pac-12 Colorado Buffaloes, playing both special teams and linebacker. He registered four tackles on the season before suffering a season-ending injury.

"Dante is a big, physical, athletic player," Choate said. "He has excellent size and length, is a strong player, can play multiple positions, and saw significant time in the Pac 12 at Colorado last season. Dante is a legacy and I think he's an excellent fit for our program."

Hardy, a linebacker originally from Beaverton, Oregon, registered 66 tackles and 12.5 sacks during the 2017 campaign for Siskiyou. He also forced three fumbles, recovering one. The 6-3, 205 lb. linebacker earned all-state honors in both football and basketball his senior year at Valley Catholic High School.

"Daniel is a tremendous athlete, 6-3 with a wingspan of almost 6-10, and he's explosive, fast, and has huge upside," Choate said. "He's a guy that we evaluated numerous times and we kept coming back to the fact that if we tried to wait a year we wouldn't have a chance. After his visit here he visited Fresno State, and when he called to let us know he's becoming a Bobcat we were pretty excited."

Payne, the youngster of the bunch, was a standout defensive lineman and wrestler at Idaho Falls High School, where he earned First Team All-Conference last Fall. Payne has the potential to contribute immediately as the team's long snapper following the graduation of Rocky Hogue.

Choate said. "Given time I think Todd can become a quality defensive end in our program, but he adds value as a long snapper. He gives us quality depth there."

Multi-course race returns to Bozeman in benefit of lung cancer research

Take part in the annual Running Lungs benefit race, set for Saturday, June 2nd! The event will go on rain or shine beginning at 9:30am in Lindley Park. The morning will include 10K, 5K Run/Walk, and 2K Fun Run course options. Snacks and beverages will be available by Cafe M. Also on hand will be a Mayo Clinic researcher to discuss the disease and sign interested parties up for the Longitudinal Lung Health Study.

Race registration is $35 for the 10K and 5K courses. The 2K is $15 for kids ages 12 and under. Log on to www.raceentry.com and search for 'Running Lungs' for further information, details on the First2Burst Lung Challenge, and to register. Race timing will be provided by Muddy Dog Sports. Online race registration closes on Friday, June 1st at 7pm. Finally, looking to summer, an additional Running Lungs event is set for Saturday, July 21st in Big Sky. Stay tuned for details.

Lung cancer is NOT just a smoker's disease. Presented by Wortman Lung Cancer Foundation, proceeds from this race will support lung health and lung cancer research at Mayo Clinic. Race participants will additionally support the foundation's objectives to support research need-

Linda Wortman, a healthy never-smoker, was shockingly diagnosed with lung cancer in 2008. After successful emergency surgery at Mayo Clinic, Linda battled through, and now is on a mission to break the stigma that lung cancer is only for smokers, while increasing awareness through Running Lungs events to raise desperately needed research funds for lung cancer. With most of her left lung missing, Linda completed a 5k race in all 50 states, completed a 10K race on four continents, and summited Kilimanjaro, the largest mountain in Africa and fourth tallest peak in the world.

The inspirational & beautiful Bonnie Addario. For global support & advocacy: www.lungcancerfoundation.org ed to obtain breakthrough discoveries, remove the stigma associated with lung cancer, and help create an awareness of the amazing cures when properly diagnosed and treated.

Lung cancer is the number one cancer killer, taking more lives than colon, breast, and prostate cancers combined. Every 2.5 minutes, another person is diagnosed with Lung Cancer - 20% never smoked, and 40% are non-smokers. The numbers are pretty surprising. But there's hope.

Most recently, Linda and husband Jerry co-founded Wortman Lung Cancer Foundation 501(c)(3) and Running Lungs Run/Walk events. As oncologists and donors point out, low funding levels for lung cancer are a negative cycle that results in fewer scientists focusing on needed solutions. Lung cancer is the least-researched major cancer due to unfair stigma.

It's time to blow lung cancer away. Learn more about Linda and Jerry's work at www.wortman-lungcancerfoundation.org. •

Yellowstone increases entrance fee – effective June 1st, 2018

From Yellowstone Public Affairs

The National Park Service (NPS) [recently] announced Yellowstone National Park will modify its entrance fees beginning June 1st, 2018 to provide additional funding for infrastructure and maintenance needs that enhance the visitor experience.

Effective June 1st, the park entrance fee will be $35 per vehicle or $30 per motorcycle. An annual park pass will cost $70.

The NPS last October proposed a plan to adopt seasonal pricing at Yellowstone and 16 other national parks to raise additional revenue for infrastructure and maintenance needs. The fee structure announced addresses many concerns and ideas provided by the public on how best to address fee revenue for parks.

Revenue from entrance fees remains in the National Park Service and helps ensure a quality experience for all who visit. Here in Yellowstone, 80 percent of entrance fees stay in the park and are devoted more than 1.5 billion visitors in the last five years. Throughout the country, the combination of aging infrastructure and increased visitation affects park roads, bridges, buildings, campgrounds, water systems, bathrooms, and other facilities. Maintenance deferred on these facilities amounts to an $11.6 billion nationwide backlog.

Entrance fees collected by the National Park Service totaled $199.9 million in Fiscal Year 2016. The NPS estimates that once fully implemented, the new fee structure will increase annual entrance fee revenue by about $60 million.

Yellowstone National Park has had an entrance fee since 1916. The current rate of $30 per vehicle or $25 per motorcycle has been in effect since 2015. The park is one of 117 in the National Park System that charges an entrance fee. The remaining 300 sites are free to enter.

The price of the annual America the Beautiful National Parks and Federal Recreational Lands Annual Pass and Lifetime Senior Pass will remain $80.

Yellowstone and Grand Teton national parks have not yet determined how this new fee structure will affect the combined parks' seven-day entrance pass.

The National Park Service has a standardized entrance fee structure, composed of four groups based on park size and type. Yellowstone is one of 10 sites in group 4.

Since 1916, the National Park Service has been entrusted with the care of America's more than 400 national parks. With the help of volunteers and partners, NPS safeguards these special places and share their stories with millions of people every year. •

Boys of summer finally able to hit the diamond

by Danny Waldo

Following what has seemed like the winter that will never end, first-year head coach Garrett Schultz and his Bozeman Bucks were finally able to get in some game action recently, as warmer weather allowed for the kick-off of the 2018 American Legion baseball season.

The Bucks' season was scheduled to begin with a home-opening doubleheader versus the Billings Scarlets on April 14th. However, Mother Nature had other plans, and Bozeman's season was postponed, meaning the Bucks officially opened 2018 play on the road at defending state champion Missoula, where the two teams split a pair of seven-inning contests. The Mavericks won game one, 4-2, before Bozeman came back to take the nightcap, 11-5. These two teams squared off in the 2017 American Legion AA tournament final, with Missoula earning the victory. Both teams advanced to the Northwest Regional in Missoula, where the Bucks bowed out after two straight losses.

Good weather held up for another week, and Bozeman was able to get two more games in the following weekend in Billings, splitting another pair of seven-inning contests with the Billings Royals. Again, Bozeman dropped Game 1, 1-0, before bouncing back to take a Game 2 victory, 6-4. Bozeman and Billings faced each other in the semifinals of last season's AA American Legion state tournament, with Bozeman advancing 10-8.

With good weather in the forecast, the Bucks look to get into full swing with three of their next four contests in the friendly confines of Heroes Park, beginning with Butte on Friday, April 27th and ending with a visit from the Belgrade Bandits on May 2nd before they set off on the road again, at Great Falls on May 5th.

For a complete schedule of all Bozeman Bucks baseball games, log onto their website at www.bozemanlegionbaseball.com.

Bobcat cagers land Florida transfer

by Danny Waldo

With Mr. Everything, Tyler Hall, exploring his professional options by declaring for the 2018 NBA draft, the Montana State men's basketball team has begun the process of preparing for life without the prolific shooter from Rock Island, Illinois.

Head coach Brian Fish and his staff recently secured the services of Russell Daniels, a 5'11, 160 lb. point guard out of Florida Southwestern State College.

Daniels, whom the Bobcats have been recruiting since January, had never seen snow prior to his campus visit to Bozeman, but the Baton Rouge, Louisiana native immediately fell in love with what he saw and committed. "I had never seen mountains before so it was pretty cool to me."

The sophomore contributed 4.4 points, while shooting 48 percent from the three-point line, in helping FSSC to a 30-3 finish and a quarterfinal berth in the NJCAA National Tournament.

Daniels boasted a 3.4 assist-to-turnover ratio, which ranked him 17th among all junior college players in 2017-18.

"They said they really needed a point guard," Daniels said. "They felt like what I brought to the table was perfect for what they see and what they need."

Daniels, who is the Bobcats' second JC commit this spring, along with Park High's Ladan Ricketts out of Sheridan College, will join Harald Frey and Lassi Nikkarinen in the Bobcat backcourt, providing another scoring option on the perimeter, and another facilitator to improve the 'Cats shooting percentage from last season where MSU ranked 11th in the league.

BUSINESS IN AND AROUND THE BoZONE

Give Big Gallatin Valley is 6pm to 6pm, May 3rd & 4th

Simplify your giving. Amplify your impact. Give Big!
On May 3rd and 4th from 6pm-6pm, The Bozeman Area Community Foundation will host the fourth annual Give Big Gallatin Valley initiative, a 24-hour celebration of giving to local nonprofits in Gallatin County! This year, the Bozeman Area Community Foundation's goal is to inspire 4,000 donors to raise $1,000,000 in 24-hours for 192 nonprofits from communities throughout Gallatin County. The participating organizations represent a wide variety of missions that support arts to trails, education to basic needs and much more. Since its inception in 2015, Give Big has helped our community raise over $1,370,000 for 168 nonprofits throughout Gallatin County. "We are humbled by the outpouring of support for our local nonprofit community during Give Big. Without our hard-working nonprofit partners, generous community members and local businesses, this initiative simply would not be possible! We have a big goal this year but we believe that with each of us pitching in, we can reach it!" said Bridget Wilkinson, Executive Director for the Bozeman Area Community Foundation. This year, Give Big will start the giving fun with a Kickoff Party at the Bozeman Taproom (101 N Rouse Ave.) from 5:30-7:30pm on Thursday, May 3rd and wrap up the initiative with a Finale Celebration to thank all participating donors from 5-7pm at the Baxter Hotel (105 W Main St.) on Friday, May 4th. Both events are free and open to all community members! Additionally, there will be Donor Lounges, live locations where donors can go and give, hosted by many local nonprofits during the 24-hour celebration. These Donor Lounges will be located throughout the county in coffee shops, restaurants, gyms, bookstores and more! To find a complete list of Donor Lounge events during Give Big, please go to www.givebiggv.org/info/events. "Nonprofit organizations play a vital role in building healthy communities by providing critical services that often fill the gaps where the business and government sectors cannot serve. Give Big is a celebration of all of the invaluable donors who support this thriving nonprofit community!" said Bridget Wilkinson, Executive Director for the Bozeman Area Community Foundation. Montana Gift Corral celebrates 25 years by giving back

Yearlong anniversary giveaway will donate $6,500 to charity
The Rocky Mountain West is the most generous region in America, and for the past 25 years, Montana Gift Corral, a much-beloved gift store staple, has felt that generosity in the form of its loyal, growing customer base. Owner Bert Hopeman explains, "We started with one store on Main Street in 1993, and thanks to the support from the local community and traveling visitors, we've grown to five locations across Bozeman, the Bozeman Yellowstone International Airport, and Lewis & Clark Caverns. It's amazing. We really love the people we serve and the beauty of Montana." In the early 90s, Montana Gift Corral's founder Sharon Hopeman was looking for souvenirs with local flavor to take back to her family in Virginia but came up empty-handed. Sharon and her husband Bert decided to open a store in Downtown Bozeman which centered on their love of the rocky mountain landscape, and a philosophy of sharing that love with visitors and locals alike. Twenty-five successful years later, Montana Gift Corral feels like a Main Street staple. Their decades spent serving area customers as part of the Big Sky Country community calls for a celebration, but for the Hopemans, that doesn't mean a sale or a party. Instead, they are holding a year-long giveaway, celebrating the Montana traditions of giving back, taking care of one another, and appreciating the world around us.

In March, Montana Gift Corral's giveaway completed its third month of bi-weekly drawings. Based on the philosophy that getting a gift feels good, and giving one feels better, Montana Gift Corral is helping its customers do both: each winner receives a gift card, plus the opportunity to make a financial donation – which matches their gift card dollar amount – to any nonprofit of their choice. Downtown store manager Mary Kenna has been making the phone call announcements to each winner, and says the response has been overwhelming. "People have been so positive and appreciative. But for me, the best part is when they get to pick the charity that the dollar-matched amount goes to. You really feel how much they care about their community." Thanks to Montana Gift Corral and their giveaway winners, donations have already been made to Warriors & Quiet Waters, Heart of the Valley Animal Shelter, Meals on Wheels, Right to Life (Gallatin County), and the Snake River

Animal Shelter. In a time when many nonprofits are facing budget cuts, Montana Gift Corral hopes to make a positive impact by putting money back into the charities that their customers care about the most. The company has been a longtime supporter of community events and organizations, donating monthly and annually to area causes. But the 25th anniversary celebration is a different animal, giving locals and visitors the chance to help fund dozens of nonprofits in need – and the people, environments, and wildlife those organizations support. By year's end, they will have donated $6,500 to charitable causes in this giveaway alone, a milestone for the whole community to celebrate. To learn more about how these donations have positively impacted nonprofits, or information on how to participate, please visit www.GiftCorral.com or visit one of its three Bozeman locations – downtown, in the Gallatin Valley Mall, and inside Walmart. •

Annual Women's Circle of Excellence Conference to be held at MSU

From MSU News Service
Montana State University's 10th annual conference designed to help develop and strengthen women's professional and personal success will be held Thursday, May 10th, from 8am-4:30pm in Jabs Hall on the MSU campus. The Women's Circle of Excellence Conference will include sessions on giving productive feedback and empowering a team, marketing, integrative negotiation for professional and personal success, and challenging decisions related to families and legacies. Presenters include Amanda Tebay, assistant director of MSU's Family and Graduate Housing; Jessica Burch of Betula Creative; Amber Raile, MSU associate business professor; and Marsha Goetting of MSU Extension. A panel discussion on women in the workplace will take place before lunch, and the Outstanding Woman Mentor Award – given to a woman in the business community who has demonstrated strong leadership and donated time, inspiration, expertise and friendship to others – will be presented prior to the keynote. A PechaKucha-inspired presentation focused on the theme of "She Inspired Me" will follow lunch. The conference's keynote speaker is Sherry Winn, who will discuss "Unleash the Winner Within You." The session is intended to equip attendees and their team members to become agents of change. Winn is a motivational speaker, coach, former handball player who competed in the 1984 and 1988 summer Olympics and author of five books, including Unleash the Winner Within You: A Success Game Plan for Business, Leadership and Life.

Regular registration is $99. Registration includes educational sessions, event materials and a networking reception with hors d'oeuvres and a silent auction. Proceeds from the silent auction help fund a scholarship to benefit a business student. Up to 7.9 CEU and CPE credits are available. For additional conference information and to register, visit www.montana.edu/business/wcoe or anna.reardon@montana.edu. The conference is hosted by the Jake Jabs College of Business and Entrepreneurship. Sponsorship support is provided by BlueCross BlueShield of Montana and Northwestern Energy, with additional support from Amatics CPA Group, PayneWest, Sky Federal Credit Union, First Security Bank, PrintingForLess.com and Foundant Technologies. •
