Willson houses annual return of Banff mountain adventure film fest

Join the Bridger Ski Foundation when the Banff Mountain Film Festival World Tour brings the spirit of outdoor adventure to Bozeman at the Willson Auditorium. Screenings are set for Friday and Saturday, January 13th and 14th at 7pm, as well as a Saturday matinee at 1pm.

Banff Centre Mountain Film and Book Festival is the largest, and one of the most prestigious, mountain festivals in the world. Hot on the heels of the festival held every fall in Banff, Canada, the Banff Centre Mountain Film Festival World Tour hits the road.

This year's tour features a collection of the most inspiring action, environmental and adventure films from the festival. Traveling to remote vistas, analyzing topical environmental issues, and bringing audiences up-close and personal with adrenaline-packed action sports, the 2022/2023 World Tour is an exhilarating and provocative exploration of the mountain world.

From the over 400 entries submitted into the Festival each year, award-winners and audience favorites are among the films that are carefully selected to play in theatres around the world.

Tickets for all screenings are $20. For purchase details and further information, visit www.bridgerski-foundation.org/banff. Proceeds from the Bozeman event benefit the host nonprofit organization. •

Friday showings include;

Colors of Mexico
Discover Mexico from the tops of its most active volcanoes to the steep and colorful streets of historic villages with rider Kilian Bron and his team.

Eco-Hack!
Biologist Tim Shields has watched desert tortoise populations in the Mojave Desert plummet since the 1990s. The latest threat?Ballooning populations of ravens. Tim quits traditional observational biology in exchange for direct intervention.

Fabric: A Documentary Series

Embracing identity and tradition to empower future generations of Indigenous youth, Hawaiian surfer Mainei Kinimaka preserves ancestral tradition through stewardship of language and tradition.

Balkan Express

Freeskiers Max Kroneck and Jochen Mesle of Ice and Palms reunite for another adventure – a 2,500 kilometre journey by bike and ski, exploring the mountains of the Balkans.

The Process

Climber Tom Randall is known for his commitment to training and outrageous challenges he sets himself. This time, he has set his mind on fell running and a link-up of 15 classic Lakeland rock climbs, 42 summits, and 142 kilometres in 24 hours.

Clean Mountains

During the pandemic there were no foreign climbers in the Himalaya. A Sherpa family decides to climb Mount Everest and clean up the garbage left behind – restoring the holiness of the mountain and calming the gods.

Sheri (Tour Edit)

Sheri Tingey started a company at age 50 that has revolutionized the outdoor industry. This is a film about the hurdles she overcame to launch the company and about the ways she hid from view so that people would judge the boats, not her role in creating them.

Walking on Clouds

In the city of Praia Grande, Santa Catarina, Brazil, Rafael Bridi attempts the highest highline record in the world by setting his line above the clouds.

Saturday Mantenee showings include;

Alta

A team of high-performance riders travels to Alta, Utah for a spring freeskiing session that delivers all styles and conditions of skiing.

REEL ROCK 16: Bridge Boys

A horizontal big-wall adventure on the longest, most ridiculous crack climb ever attempted.

Continuum

Everything is connected. Each ride is an extension of the one before and each re-entry is a transition to the next launch. Each experience builds toward a flow state of endless progression.

Before They Fall

A decades-long battle to protect old-growth forests in British Columbia escalates when conservation groups, First Nations, scientists, and land defenders block a logging company from accessing the last unprotected watershed on southern Vancouver Island.

A Baffin Vacation

Erik Boomer and Sarah McNair-Landry set off on a 45-day expedition through Baffin Island in search of stunning cliffs to climb and unexplored rivers to kayak.

Wood Hood

DeVaughn (15) from New York City craves a “quiet place” to escape the chaos of his home, the city, and kids that steal from him. On a weekend-long group camping trip, we witness the joy and growth that is possible when kids have an opportunity to find that “quiet place”.

Doo Sar: A Karakoram Ski Expedition Film (Tour Edit)

Andrzej Bargiel and Jedrek Baranowski set off to the Karakoram for an adventure full of passion and love that has them freeriding at over 6,000 meters above sea level!

North Shore Betty

Betty Birrell picked up mountain biking at age 45, in the misty forests above North Vancouver, after a career as a mountaineer and professional windsurfer. Three decades later, she is proof that you're never too old to send.

Saturday Evening showings include;

Flow

An aerial and symphonic journey with skier Sam Favret, in the heart of a closed resort during the winter of 2021, rediscovering a playground in its wild state.

The Fastest Girl in the Village

As a girl growing up in Lesotho, Khothalang Leuta never imagined she could become a bike racer. From teaching herself how to ride a bike to becoming “faster than the boys”, see what can be accomplished when opportunity is provided.

Nuisance Bear

Churchill, Manitoba, is famous as an international destination for photographing polar bears. We've seen the majestic images and classic wildlife series captured here, but what do these bears see of us?

Wild Waters (Tour Edit)

Discover the incredible life of Nouria Newman, the most gifted kayaker of her generation.

Creation Theory

Nature's raw elements converge in the Westfjords of Iceland, taking us on a journey from the interstellar birth of gravity and rhythm to their ultimate human creative expression: surfer on wave, snowboarder on peak, and musician on stage.

REEL ROCK 16: Cenote

A young papaya farmer discovers the pure joy of climbing in the crystalline limestone sinkholes of Mexico's Yucatán Peninsula.

Free to Run

UN human rights attorney and mountain runner, Stephanie Case, struggles to find a way forward for the Afghan women of her NGO, Free to Run, while taking on her most challenging ultra-race yet.

Danny MacAskill's Do a Wheelie

Join Danny MacAskill and a host of friends as he pushes the boundaries of the humble wheelie and learns a thing or two from friends old and new. •

Doc Series portrays world's teens during their formative years

On Thursday, January 12th, at the Emerson Center for the Arts & Culture, the Bozeman Doc Series continues with the Montana premiere of the critically acclaimed new documentary, Dear Thirteen. The film screens at 7pm.

Far from the unfavorable images often espoused in pop culture, today's teens are some of the most engaged, thoughtful, creative, courageous, and self-aware of any era. A portrait of a new generation, Dear Thirteen is a cinematic time capsule of coming of age in today's world. With tenderness and candor, the film chronicles the lives of nine thirteen-year-olds from across the globe as they navigate the joys and complexities of that seminal age.

The film world-premiered this

“Equal parts funny and emotionally affecting [a] fantastic array of subjects... [and] a product from a team of artists attuned to the power of images.” – Film Threat

“Offers poetic evidence that humanity is indeed universal and borders are truly artificial.” – Women Make Movies

Doors open at 6:30pm. Tickets are available at the door or before the show online at www.bozemandocseries.org, where you can also buy Season Passes and 7-film punch cards, learn more about the series, and view trailers for upcoming films. The series will continue every other Thursday through April. Masks are optional in the theater. •

BFS kicks off new season with Montana-based tale of redemption

Bozeman Film Society kicks off its 2023 season with a screening of the award-winning independent feature, The Year of the Dog. The event will be held at Downtown Bozeman's Ellen Theatre on Wednesday, January 4th at 7pm.

Matt, a loner alcoholic at rock bottom, struggles to maintain sobriety for 30 days so he can honor his mother's dying wish: to visit her in hospice, sober. His book-thumping AA sponsor, Fred (Michael Spears), offers him refuge at his farm, where Matt (Rob Grabow) finds Yup'ik, a stray Husky with a unique talent. The man and dog relationship is precarious at first, but with the help of a close-knit Montana community, the two strays find a connection and discover what it takes to pull through to the finish line.

Rob Grabow, the film's writer, producer, co-director and lead actor is a fourth generation Montanan who lives in Bozeman, and is a Park High School graduate from Livingston (like his grandfather). Grabow says, “Having this screening in Bozeman, at such a historic theatre as the Ellen Theatre, is not only an opportunity to share this film with the community but more importantly to have our local cast and crew members who worked on the film, on location in Bozeman, recognized for their amazing work. Making this film in Montana with so many Montana locals who made the film possible and then to have this chance to share our film, which we think is special, with our Montana family means a lot.” Grabow, who is also an award-winning screenwriter says that “The Year of the Dog is more than a feel-good dog film; it's a heart-warming journey of forgiveness, finding purpose, being vulnerable, making connections, and ultimately healing.” In addition to being a well-acted, interesting film with great music and an abundance of cool dog moments, Grabow hopes that his movie “inspires people to continue to open themselves up emotionally and to connect with those they love.”

The film is rated PG-13 with a runtime of 97 minutes.

Following at 7pm on Wednesday, Jan. 18th, Cannes Jury Prize Winner Eo screens at the Ellen.

Eo, a gray donkey with melancholic eyes and a curious spirit, begins his life as a circus performer before escaping on a trek across the Polish and Italian countryside in a journey marked by absurdity and warmth in equal measure. Legendary filmmaker Jerzy Skolimowski directs one of his most free and visually inventive films yet, placing the viewer directly in the heart and mind of the four-legged protagonist.

“Eo is an astonishment and so too is this wild, boldly expressionistic movie.” – Manohla Dargis, The New York Times

Starring Sandra Drzymalska, Lorenzo Zurzolo, Mateusz Kosciukiewicz and Isabelle Huppert, the film is presented in Polish and Italian with subtitles. Not rated with a runtime of 86 minutes.

The Year of the Dog and Eo screen at 7pm at the Ellen Theatre. Reserved tickets are $9.25–$9.75 (plus fees) and available at www.theellentheatre.org, by calling (406) 585-5885, or by visiting the Ellen box office. Proceeds from Year of the Dog ticket sales will be donated to Heart of the Valley Animal Shelter. Wine, beer and concessions will be available in the lobby prior to each screening. CC devices available.

'We belong to the communities'

MSU's Montana Shakespeare in the Parks celebrates 50 years of bringing the Bard to the Big Sky by Meaghan MacDonald-Pool, MSU Mountains & Minds

On a sunny afternoon in late July, folks from Hamilton begin to gather on the lawn of Sapphire Lutheran Homes. They come with picnic baskets, blankets and chairs. They take out wine, soda, charcuterie boards and PB&Js. Some show up hours before the performance begins to grab the perfect spot.

Meanwhile, members of Montana Shakespeare in the Parks diligently put together the stage and set for the night's performance of "King Lear." The upper-90s temperatures are brutal; the actors, wearing tank tops and shorts, are covered in sweat. But an hour later, they are fully costumed in dress coats and hoop skirts, looking fresh, energized and ready for another prime performance.

"There's always something weather related with these performances," audience member Diane Myers, a Hamilton resident of 42 years, said about the heat. "We were blown off the map last year and had to be in the fairgrounds building because of thunderstorms or smoke. It's always something, but it's always a fabulous experience. It's the middle of the summer and we get to bring our picnic dinner. It doesn't get any better than this." Myers, like many in the audience, has been coming to Montana Shakespeare in the Parks performances for decades. Now celebrating its 50th season, MSIP has been a focal point in the lives of Montanans for generations – a source for high-quality theater right in their backyards.

"We belong to the communities," said Kimberly Helms, general manager of MSIP, which is an outreach program of the College of Arts and Architecture at Montana State University. "The only reason we got to 50 years is because of these individual towns. The ownership the communities have taken on is what helped us grow the way we did." MSIP opened its first season in the summer of 1973. The amateur acting company comprised a mixture of students and community members and was founded by Bruce Jacobson, a former theater professor at MSU. The company performed select scenes from Shakespeare's plays, and the season consisted of 13 performances in seven cities across Montana. The goal was to bring Shakespeare directly to Montanans, especially in rural communities, where residents would not otherwise have an opportunity to see such performances locally.

The following summer, a paid, professional company and staff performed two full productions. The season schedule doubled to 26 performances in 18 cities, thus establishing the format for seasons up until today. This year, in its 50th season, the troupe traveled nearly 7,000 miles throughout Montana, Idaho, North Dakota, Wyoming and Washington and performed nearly 80 shows in more than 60 towns.

As MSIP's popularity has grown over the decades, the program has expanded while also staying true to its mission of engaging and enriching Montana communities through its productions and educational outreach. In 1993, MSIP added Shakespeare in the Schools, a 10-week tour of middle schools and high schools in communities throughout Montana and northern Wyoming. It's the only professional theater company that brings an educational Shakespeare program directly into the state's schools, according to Helms. She said the program serves more than 10,000 students, teachers and community members each year.

What started as a small tour with a first-year budget of less than $15,000 now has seven permanent staff members, free performances and an annual budget of $1.3 million. The program is funded through grants and donations.

"As an outreach program, Montana Shakespeare in the Parks is a critical outlet for MSU's College of Arts and Architecture to connect the state of Montana with world-class theater," said Royce Smith, dean of the College of Arts and Architecture. "We strive to give people in communities of the Intermountain West opportunities they might not normally have. We believe the arts belong to everyone no matter where you live, and it is part of our long-standing, land-grant mission to continue this storied tradition."

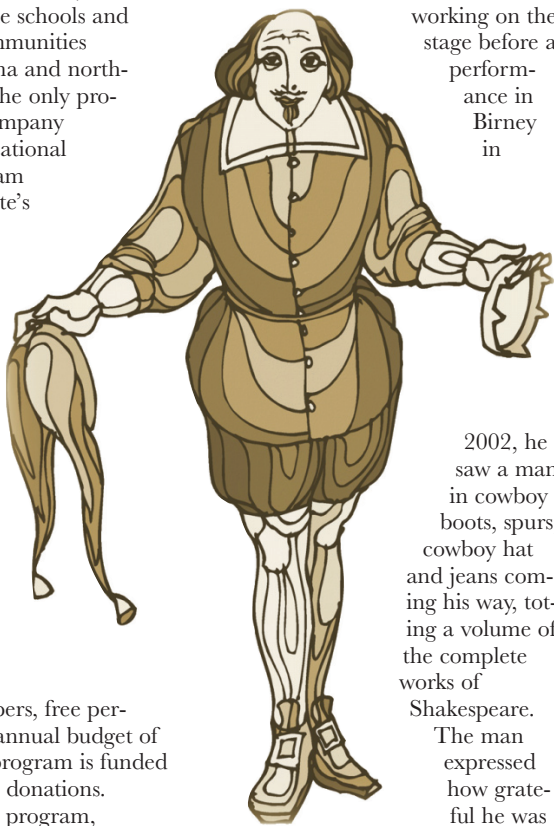

For 20 years, Kevin Asselin has dedicated his career to Montana Shakespeare in the Parks. He was hired in 2002 as an actor for summer performances, found the work invigorating and stayed on to do fall performances for Shakespeare in the Schools. For the next 13 years he returned to Bozeman to act in shows, and in 2014 he was hired as executive artistic director of MSIP, the position he still holds.

"I just kept finding ways to come back out here and was particularly drawn to going out to these amazing communities in Montana and beyond, as well as the work that we do in terms of the quality and effort put in to create these professional productions the best we can," Asselin said.

Asselin said many of the actors come back each year to perform because of the connections they make with audiences. Asselin had community members show off a folder of 20 years' worth of MSIP programs, he said. Program alumni from the 1970s and 1980s will come to performances and reminisce with the cast about their time in MSIP

As Asselin was working on the stage before a performance in Birney in 2002, he saw a man in cowboy boots, spurs, cowboy hat and jeans coming his way, totting a volume of the complete works of Shakespeare.

The man expressed how grateful he was that MSIP came to his community and how he had attended the performances for many years with his children. He also talked about how "As You Like It" – which the troupe was to perform that night – was his favorite play because of its reference to living off the land and the importance of the human connection to nature. The man then recited one of the most iconic monologues from the play verbatim, stunning Asselin.

"I just sat there as a young actor from Chicago feeling so moved," Asselin said. "The level of inspiration you have as a result of that is so much more amplified because you know that you are giving this gentleman, his family and others a gift that they wait annually for. The familiarity of Shakespeare in Montana is off the charts." In Hamilton, the popularity of MSIP has grown over time. Thanks to its regular 500-person-plus attendance, the town has been given a coveted two-show stop on the tour.

Dominic Farrenkopf, who is serving his second term as Hamilton's mayor, has contributed to that popularity. A native of Hamilton, he has been the town's MSIP tour coordinator for nearly a decade and helps set up housing, food, activities and an after-party for the troupe.

The shows are hosted on the lawn of Sapphire Lutheran Homes, a nonprofit retirement center serving senior citizens and people with disabilities. Farrenkopf is also Sapphire's director of community life and sees MSIP as a way to bring together townspeople and center residents, groups that otherwise might not have a chance to connect.

Before the troupe performed "King Lear," Farrenkopf – a charismatic, boisterous, self-described enjoyer of the limelight – took the stage to read off a list of community events, commanding the audience's attention. To Farrenkopf, MSIP is not just another event: It's the epitome of Hamilton's neighborly character and an example of a community event where he loves to engage.

"It's a really unique cultural experience for Hamilton and Ravalli County," Farrenkopf said. "It's an opportunity to fundraise, to engage the community and bring people onto our campus so they can get to know us a little better and create those networks and make those connections that are necessary to continue to make MSIP and other events grow."

People from Ravalli County came as early as two hours before showtime to grab a prime seat on the lawn. Some came alone. Others came with members of their book clubs. Some came for their first show, others for their 40th. Many felt a special connection with MSIP or Shakespeare in general, whether they dabbled in acting and loved performing or were avid readers of the Bard's work.

Denelle Pappier has lived in Hamilton for 30 years and said she has been attending MSIP performances for just as long. Pappier was involved in theatrical activities in college and makes the yearly MSIP performances a priority in her summer schedule. She has been a long-time donor to the program.

For Pappier, the shows are not just about the performance or seeing friends – they're about bonding with her son, Jordan. Pappier has been taking him to MSIP to open his mind and broaden his horizons since he was 4 years old. Jordan is autistic, and Pappier said that he was "able to tune his ear to Shakespeare, was advanced vocabulary-wise and it was wonderful to see him apply his abilities to it." Having theater come to Hamilton gave Jordan – and the rest of the young attendees – a glimpse of a possible career path or passion in life.

"It was just so much fun to be able to expose him to things that were potentially his interests. Just watching him grow and experience life, it all brought it back to feeling new for me, too," Pappier said.

After Hamilton, the troupe headed to Philipsburg, where the actors were greeted by another eager crowd and comfortable beds. Scott Lyons, owner of the Broadway Hotel, hosts the troupe for free each year. The avid Shakespeare fan and a self-proclaimed Anglophile says it's the least he can do – he understands that the troupe runs on a tight budget, and that small towns like Philipsburg have limited lodging options. Giving the actors a place to stay will make it easier for the troupe to come back for future performances, Lyons said.

In his fifth year of college, Lyons took freshman English and understood the relevance of Shakespeare's work. That same year, the actor Kenneth Branagh starred in the movie version of "Henry V," which Lyons now owns on DVD in addition to a number of other Shakespeare movies.

"A lot of the themes you hear in his comedies and tragedies are things that we as a species have been talking about for eons – things that you can find in the Old Testament, and themes we teach our children truisms with," Lyons said.

For those reasons, Lyons believes it is important to make cultural outlets available for all, and he hopes MSIP will never stop coming to towns like Philipsburg.

Philipsburg tour coordinator Cathy Smith understands the value of art in her community. Smith, who owns Philipsburg Brewing Co., grew up in Corvallis and has taken her family to MSIP shows for 30 years. She said she believes that MSIP is important to younger audience members because it shows them a creative way to understand works that are centuries old.

"My grandson is in high school, and his English teacher taught Shakespeare but let them learn it in their own words," Smith said of his assignments. "They had a blast, so that got them interested initially. And now they come to these shows. Once they get here and listen, it's a great experience for them and they can connect easier."

Helms noted that MSIP has touched tens of thousands of Montanans over the decades, and its longevity is a testament to how art enriches lives and belongs to the people. Helms, Asselin and other MSIP members say they hope the program will be around for another 50 years. In fact, the acceptance of and devotion to Montana Shakespeare in the Parks that Montanans across the state exhibit each year almost guarantees it is here to stay, Helms said.

"We are delighted and humbled this year to be reflecting on 50 years of generational theatrical performances that people have enjoyed," Helms said. "It's exhilarating to think what the next 50 years can do and what stories can be told from that."

New season of science-based lectures return to Hager Auditorium

Gallatin Valley Friends of the Sciences continues its popular lecture series with an always interesting discussion in January. Co-sponsored by Museum of the Rockies and Hopa Mountain, the first talk of the season is set for Wednesday, January 18th. "How to Keep Our Aging Skeletons Strong" will begin at 7pm. It will be held in MOR's Hager Auditorium.

Can new discoveries in the lab translate to greater bone strength as we age? Dr. Chelsea Heveran, MSU Assistant Professor of Mechanical Engineering, will discuss current progress in maximizing the health and strength of bone tissue throughout aging, as well as how the remarkable human skeleton is inspiring strategies for engineering living building materials.

Following on February 15th, the series continues with "Prioritizing Wild Places in the Greater Yellowstone Ecosystem" at 7pm.

Where are the remaining best natural habitats on private lands in the Greater Yellowstone area and can they be preserved? Dr. Andrew Hansen, MSU Professor and Director of the Montana Institute on Ecosystems, will discuss the status of prime habitat in the region and the role of conservation easements in preserving them for the future. The talks will be presented in person. Free and open to the public. Find Gallatin Valley Friends of the Sciences on social media or visit www.gallatinscience.org for additional details. The nonprofit was established in 2017 to explore cutting edge science topics, their latest developments, and their relevance to society. •

Bridger home to ales & acoustics in Bozeman, Three Forks

With the holidays behind us, it's time to put those gift certificates to use! Whether you were lucky enough to be gifted a few Bridger Brewing dollars, the local brewer is excited to welcome patrons to either of its area locations to enjoy a beer and a bite as our true Montana winter presses on. Both venues – the flagship Bozeman space or the new Three Forks Location – also offer nights of live music every week. Here's a look at who's performing in the first few weeks of 2023.

First up on Wednesday, January 4th, Trygh performs in Bozeman with music set to begin at 5pm. Order a round of your favorite brews along with a specialty pizza and settle in for an evening of acoustics.

Following on Thursday, January 5th, Montana Standard heads to Three Forks for a 7pm show. Known for their traditional bluegrass, the band's unique twin fiddles, tight vocal harmonies and rock-solid instrumentation produce an excitingly energetic sound. Their reverence for the traditions of Bill Monroe, Flatt &

Scruggs, The Stanley Brothers, Jimmy Martin and vintage country music set the stage for a great show.

The following week brings the return of Walcrik with a 5pm show on Wednesday, January 11th in Bozeman. Comprised of Andrew Morehouse and Tim Baucom, this locally based folk/bluegrass duo plays original, traditional and cover music.

Matt Walin & His Nervous Breakdown take the stage in Three Forks on Thursday, January

12th at 7pm. Fresh off the release of their debut release last summer, the four-piece produces lush, story-inspired Montana music that spotlights the trials and tribulations of rural life. Their first studio release, Ravens, is available now.

Bridger Brewing provides the Gallatin Valley community with unique hand-crafted brews, fresh artisan-style pizzas, as well as a new menu of protein-rich entrées exclusive to the Three Forks location. Find a current tap list and food menus at www.bridgerbrewing.com. •

Hot Springs features genre-bending poolside shows twice weekly

Regular live music comes standard at Bozeman Hot Springs. The venue features an outdoor stage with weekly live music showcasing regional and traveling acts every Thursday and Sunday at 7pm. Enjoy the area's best musicians during the opening month of 2022.

Local duo Brambles & Briar, featuring Jacob Rountree and Cole Thorne, opens the month on Jan. 1st. The alt-folk duo has a unique, experimental sound utilizing ukulele, percussive lap guitar, layered loops and intelligent harmonies.

Following on Jan. 5th is Taylor Burlage. Frontman of one of Bozeman's newest rock groups, The Dead & Down, Burlage plays a mix of originals and classic folk-rock covers, combining his vocals with multiple guitars.

On Jan. 8th, Lena "Laney Lou" Schiffer joins the Last Revel's Ryan Acker for a night showcasing their side project, The Canoe Dealers. The duo fronts a unique folk experience featuring vocal harmonies, banjo, and acoustic guitar with impressive songwriting to boot.

Check out the Savvy Duo on Jan. 12th. The rowdy four-piece is known for their rock covers from every era of music. For this set, band members Kristin (guitar/vox) and Adam (drums) will be breaking things down a little for a calmer (though still rockin') acoustic set.

The trio will provide an incredible tribute to one of rock's most legendary bands, creating a perfect show for Dead Heads and casual fans alike.

Jan. 19th features the one and only Jackson Holte with a captivating solo show. Frontman of the Missoula-based twangy rock group bearing his name, he will bring an acoustic set of relaxing country music. Expect a healthy blend of originals from the full band and recognizable covers. Also, a little fun fact: he currently holds the title of "coldest show played at the Hot Springs" from his March 2019 set when he played in -30 degree weather.

Blake Brightman performs Jan. 22nd. The singer/songwriter's stylings fall somewhere between country western and Mississippi blues, with her own modern spin. She fronts a five-piece of the same name.

Max Davies & Friends take the poolside stage on Jan. 26th. Guitarist with the incredible cosmic bluegrass group Kitchen Dwellers, Davies is playing a laid back acoustic set featuring both songs from the band and covers. Davies will also be joined by some other amazing local musicians.

Last but not least, the Pinky Duo tunes up the audience on Jan. 29th. Dustin Tucker and Luke Flansburg will bring the full band's energy to this toned down but still hugely entertaining set. The show will feature everything from acoustic Pink

Settle in for Trio Grandioso – A Grateful Dead Tribute on Jan. 15th. Featuring members of the always-incredible local Grateful Dead tribute Dead Sky, this arrangement brings the full band's sound down for a more laid-back setting.

Floyd covers to originals by both artists, among other selections.

Bozeman Hot Springs is located just south of Four Corners. Visit www.bozemanhotsprings.com for operating hours and further event details. •

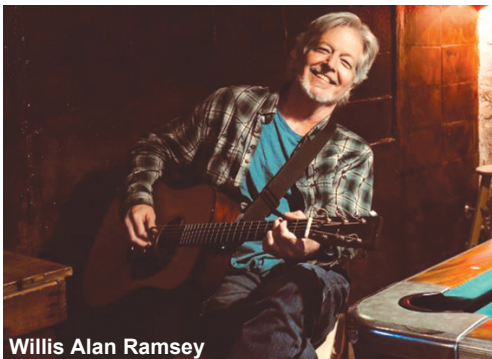

Live presents intimate shows by three distinct musical artists

Grab a seat for an intimate musical experience with Live from the Divide, a local venue whose space allows audiences to be a part of the performance with a regular lineup of national acts and regional favorites.

Sorry, "An Evening with Artist & Songwriter Audrey Hall" – is already Sold Out!

Willis Alan Ramsey performs on Jan. 21st featuring special guest Robert Cline, Jr. Both begin at 8pm with advance tickets available for $65.

The singer/songwriter is a legend among fans of Americana and progressive Texas country, known for blending folk, country and pop with witty, introspective lyrics. After recording a critically acclaimed, self-titled debut album for Leon Russell's Shelter label in 1972, Ramsey all but left the music business citing label conflicts and distaste for the industry.

Numerous artists have covered his contributions in the years since, including Captain & Tennille, Waylon Jennings, Jimmy Buffett and Shawn Colvin. Ramsey has popped up in a musical capacity over the last few decades, including a performance on Austin City Limits where he showcased a batch of new songs. Later this month, virtuosic singer/songwriter and instrumentalist Chuck Cannon performs Jan. 27th at 8pm. Advance tickets are $35.

The South Carolina native draws inspiration from the genres of R&B, rock n' roll and gospel, all major influences during the musician's formative years. He's released two albums to critical acclaim – God Shaped Hole and Love & Money – and has been covered by popular artists around the world. His performances are known for their comedic flair and attention to instrumental detail, lyricism and vocals.

Some upcoming shows include; Jeffrey Martin, March 21st and 22nd.

Tickets are sold at the door, but these small shows are known to sell out quickly! Advance tickets are available at www.livefromthedi-vide.com where you can also find a complete list of upcoming shows. The Live studio is located at 627 E Peach St. in Bozeman. •

Have FUN Dancing in '23 with trio of basic courses

Dancing is fun and anyone can learn how! It's also a superb physical conditioner. Learning to dance will open up a wonderful new world of new friends and a thriving social life. It's a great way to meet new people, gain self-confidence, learn a social skill and get some exercise. No experience or partner necessary.

Lauren Coleman's Have Fun Dancing announces its new course schedule for classes starting the week of January 9th. Courses for beginners will include Basic Salsa, Basic Swing and Basic Tango. Classes meet on different days of the week, depending on flavor of dance.

Basic Salsa will be held Monday evenings from 6:30–7:30pm. Find your inner latin lover with this lively dance to polyrhythmic music. Learn some fun and sexy moves! On Thursdays, Basic Swing meets from 6–7pm with Basic Tango to follow from 7–8pm. The former is a versatile dance with many turns while the feet keep the rhythm. Sometimes referred to as Jitterbug, it can be danced to a wide variety of music. The Tango course will be an introduction to the basics of this fascinating and unique dance from.

Tuition for all courses is $73 per person. Each will meet six times. Classes will be held at Have Fun

Dancing, located at 414 Bryant St. (off N Rouse) in Bozeman. The studio features a spacious floating and sprung hardwood dance floor in a unique and friendly atmosphere. Practices and dance parties are also offered throughout the season. Advanced classes in Mixed Latin and Continuing Tango will also be offered in the new year.

Rock n’ roll in the new year with sweeping slate of Chico shows

Winter activities come in an abundance with plenty of opportunities to get out and recreate during Montana’s coldest stretch. But some prefer to stay indoors as the snow falls and the wind howls. Plan a weekend trip to Chico Hot Springs in the new year for a chance to soak the joints, feast on some delicious grub and enjoy live music in the Saloon. Read on for a preview of the event calendar this month.

Ian Thomas & Band of Drifters are back January 6th and 7th. The group plays modern American roots music and encourage audiences to dance. Based mostly in Montana and Tennessee, the band also includes players from all over the country, keeping the music varied in arrangement, instrumentation and regional influences. The Drifters’ sets draw from country, folk and blues traditions with an emphasis on original songs, done in the old style.

The following weekend features El Wencho on Jan. 13th and 14th. For most people, the image of an “acoustic duo” conjures images of two soft spoken musicians singing folk rock and hippie jam songs. This is not the case with the Wench. Two original members of the Clintons, John and Josh joke, “we’re half the band, twice the party!” The guys are no strangers to throwing a rockin’ good time. Their show is a hot-dish or “badasse-role” of musical genres and style.

Paradise Valley favorites The Fossils return with a pair of performances Jan. 20th and 21st. Known around town for their authentic hippie music, The band guarantees a rockin’ good time. The members have been acquainted for years and are connected by their love of music.

Late this month, Valley Sons front back-to-back shows on Jan. 27th and 28th. The multi-piece will perform a variety of rock, reggae and blues tunes for its lively audience.

And looking ahead, The Dirty Shame are back at it with Chico shows on February 3rd and 4th. The outlaw country band has been a staple of the Montana live music scene for decades, known for their cutting originals and unique spins on songs by the likes of Willie Nelson, Waylon Jennings and Johnny Cash, among others. They released “Best Of” compilation A Few More for the Road last year.

Live Saloon music begins at 9pm. Chico Hot Springs is located in Pray, 20 miles south of Livingston. For more information and to make a reservation, visit www.chicohotsprings.com. •

Rock steady: Filling Station releases early ‘23 concert schedule

No matter what sort of music you’re into, the Filling Station regularly offers shows by local musicians and traveling acts. The concerts showcase artists from a variety of genres, welcoming diverse audiences to the north Bozeman space with performances held throughout the week. Here’s who worked their way onto the first calendar of the new year.

Bombshell Nightlight opens 2023 with a Tiny Iota & Bluest-assisted show on January 6th at 9pm. With vibes perform their brand of hypnotic folk. Openers Salt & Shadow kick off the music at 8pm. The alternative folk-indie rock group offers a very dynamic sound. Best described as a passionate and relatable, multi-dimensional act with poetically introspective lyrics, a unique finger picking style, perfectly placed percussive hits, haunting melodies and dream-like effects.

Mint! return as opening support for Rocky Fall on Jan 14th at 9pm. Prepare for an evening of ravin’, rockin’ sounds from this local underground trio.

Enjoy a night of river rock and mountain Americana with Boot Juice on Jan. 16th at 8pm. The seven-piece floats from bluesy rock n’ roll

Jacob Rountree

Mint! follow on Jan. 7th with help from Come Back K at 9pm. The local funk-rock band has taken the Bozeman scene by storm over the last few years. Order up a pint of your favorite local brew and support this local talent!

On Friday the 13th, Jacob Rountree & the Somethings to progressive bluegrass, inspired by the likes of Railroad Earth and Creedence Clearwater Revival.

Filth & Foul presents SwizZy B on Jan 19th at 7pm. The Puerto Rican hip-hop recording artist and emcee visits Bozeman as part of his “Ragers Only

WMPAC to host nights of comedy & contemporary jazz in Big Sky

Big Sky’s Warren Miller Performing Arts Center is delivering Southwest Montana audiences plenty of opportunities to experience live entertainment by national acts this winter.

Next up is a night of standup comedy with Chad Daniels on Saturday, January 7th. Two shows will be held at 6pm and 8pm with advance tickets ranging $20–$55.

With close to a billion streams of his six albums to date, and averaging a million more every week, Daniels is one of the most listened to comedians of all time. His third stand-up special and fifth album, Dad Chaniels, released in 2019 and his hugely popular podcast, “Middle of Somewhere,” co-hosted with Cy Amundson, releases weekly. Daniels’ latest album, Twelfth Night, is avail-of contemporary jazz with Ibero-American melodies and rhythms singing in Spanish, English and Portuguese, in a style that elegantly blends and surpasses language boundaries.

And looking to a new month, International Guitar Night returns to Big Sky on Tuesday, February 7th. The show begins at 7:30pm with advance tickets available for $20–$55.

Each year, founder Brian Gore invites a new cast of guitar luminaries from around the world for North American concert tours highlighting the diversity of the acoustic guitar. The 23rd Anniversary North American Tour of International Guitar Night features Finnish Guitarist Olli Soikelli, Soloist and Chamber Musician Stephanie Jones, Flamenco master Jesus Guerrero from Spain, and Canada’s traditional jazz guitarist and vocalist Jocelyn Gould.

Tour” in support of his EP of the same name. The versatility in his songwriting gives him the advantage of putting multiple styles and techniques to the test, from complex rhyme patterns to catchy hooks, while adding emotion-filled content in every bar.

Local songwriter Peter King follows Jan 20th at 9pm. The Dead Yellers’ frontman gears his original lyrics around the human condition, love, war and self-control. His originals tell the story of honest, blue collar life in a small town. King’s influences range from the lonesome classic country sound to that of a DIY punk rock group.

Taking the stage Jan. 27th is Jazz Cabbage at 9pm. New to the local scene, the jazz-funk fusion ensemble puts on one helluva show. Come check them out!

Benn & Abel close out the month on Jan. 28th at 9pm. The new age Americana band from Bozeman

Weekend bands, midweek acoustics pack Eagles’ calender

Our new calendars are proudly displayed, and at least some of us are ready to shake off the holidays with a night of revelry. Downtown Bozeman’s Eagles Bar continues to book the very best talent the Valley has to offer for their regular Wednesday acoustics and weekend jamming. Here’s who’s helping FOE kick off a brand new year of fantastic live music.

Take in the acoustic stylings of local favorite Mathias on January 4th. With powerful vocals and a percussive guitar style, he’s known for his dynamic live performances full of acoustic folk, rock, and funk tunes.

Lace up those newly gifted dancing shoes for a Live DJ set on Jan. 6th and 7th. The dance floor offers plenty of room to showcase the best moves, whether you’ve got a partner in crime or are going solo.

Luke Flansburg follows with a solo show on Jan. 11th. He’ll bring a wide variety of music ranging from funk to rock to blues. Also a member of Pinky & the Floyd, Tsunami Funk and MOTH, prepare for a fun set of covers and originals that will span the genres.

The following weekend sees the return of Dilly Dilly on Jan. 13th and 14th. The lively shows will feature a selection of your favorite rockin’ hits and plenty of room to dance.

Settle in for another night of acoustics on Jan. 18th with music by Trygh. The solo bassist is known for his dark spin on the folk genre, inspired by the cold mountains of Montana.

The Disruptors take the stage with back-to-back performances on Jan. 20th and 21st. The high energy band does their darndest to get audiences singing along with their wide selection of rock n’ roll tunes from the ‘60s to now.

Singer/songwriter Hannah Jo

Lally shows off her talents on Jan. 25th. From the back roads of Eastern Washington, enjoy an evening of country cuts and distinctive originals. She draws influence from the likes of Suzy Bogguss and Charley Pride, Waylon Jennings and Mary Chapin Carpenter, among others.

Closing out the first month of ‘23 is the original country rock of Dead Yellers. Founded by frontman Peter King, the music follows a theme of courage in the face of adversity, delivered in an upbeat, western roots format, ultimately leaving the audience feeling hopeful and happy. Sometimes joined by fiddle, pedal steel, bass and harmonica, this group always brings something unique to their performances.

Take part in the Eagles’ weekly Bluegrass Jam Session on Monday nights. Take a seat and enjoy, or bring an instrument and join in! The event begins at 7pm.

Exercise your pipes with Karaoke Night sponsored by Bozeman’s Best Entertainment Group, setting up at FOE every Thursday. Sing your heart out and cheer on your friends! Sign-ups start at 9pm.

Make sure to check out Bridger Mountain Big Band on Sunday nights. The ensemble performs at 7pm. The 17-piece jazz orchestra celebrates the music of Duke Ellington, Count Basie and more, with original arrangements and music of all genres from the 1900s to today. Check them out on Facebook for performance announcements.

Acoustic Wednesdays start at 8pm and weekend bands are on at 9pm. Head downtown for some great live music or stop in to support your local Eagles any night of the week. •
