BFS titles feature decade-spanning love story, neighborly extra-terrestrial

Bozeman Film Society continues to present independent film under the Big Sky with two upcoming screenings. First up is New York Times Critics Pick Past Lives on Wednesday, September 6th, at 7:30pm. The event will be held at Downtown Bozeman’s Ellen Theatre.

Nora and Hae Sung, two deeply connected childhood friends, are wrest apart after Nora’s family emigrates from South Korea. Two decades later, they are reunited in New York for one fateful week as they confront notions of destiny, love and the choices that make a life in this heartrending modern romance. Written and directed by Celine Song, the cast includes Greta Lee and Two Yoo. Presented in Korean and English. Rated PG-13, the film runs 106 minutes.

“A soaring romance that will make you catch your breath.” – The Hollywood Reporter

Following on Wednesday, Sept. 27th is sci-fi comedy Jules. The screening will be held at the Ellen and will begin at 7:30pm.

Milton (Ben Kingsley) lives a quiet life of routine in a small western Pennsylvania town, but finds his day upended when a UFO and its extra-terrestrial passenger crash land in his backyard. Before long, Milton develops a close relationship with the extra-terrestrial he calls “Jules.” Things become complicated when two neighbors (Harriet Samson Harris and Jane Curtin) discover Jules and the government quickly closes in. What follows is a funny, wildly inventive ride as the three neighbors find meaning and connection later in life – thanks to this unlikely stranger. Directed by Marc Turteltaub, the film is rated PG-13 with a runtime of 90 minutes.

“Featuring sterling performances from an uncharacteristically underplaying Ben Kingsley alongside Harriet Sansom Harris and Jane Curtin, Jules emerges as a low-key delight.” – The Hollywood Reporter

Past Lives and Jules screen at 7:30pm on Sept. 6th and 27th, respectively, at the Ellen. Reserved tickets are $13.50 for adults, with discounted admission available for seniors and students. Wine, beer and concessions will be available prior to the screenings.

Find ticketing access and learn more about the current season at www.bozemanfilmsociety.org – and Keep ‘Em Flickering! •

MSIP concludes summer tour with three local performances

Montana Shakespeare in the Parks is set to conclude its 51st summer tour with local performances of William Shakespeare’s Measure for Measure and Alexandre Dumas’ The Three Musketeers.

This is the company’s first time performing Measure for Measure since the year 2000. Categorized by scholars as one of Shakespeare’s “problem plays,” neither neat comedy nor tragedy, audiences will be captivated by the way this play explores themes of power, class dynamics and justice through a modern and inclusive lens.

A swashbuckling tale filled with action and adventure, The Three Musketeers will enthrall all generations of audience members as they get swept away to 17th century France, following a young hero’s journey as he embarks to fulfill his lifelong dream of becoming a Musketeer. Adapted by Robert Kauzlaric, this play is sure to delight audiences of all ages. This is the company’s first year producing The Three Musketeers. Performances of The Three Musketeers are set for 5pm on Saturday, September 9th, at Livingston’s Shane Lalani Center for the Arts and Tuesday, Sept. 12th, in Bozeman’s Grant Chamberlain Park at 5:30pm. Measure for Measure comes to Bridger Brewing in Three Forks at 5pm on Sunday, Sept. 10th.

Montana Shakespeare in the Parks is an outreach program of Montana State University’s College of Arts and Architecture and was founded on the firm belief that Shakespeare belongs to everyone. The accomplished company of performers, designers and staff work tirelessly to connect communities, many of which are rural, to the arts in local parks and public spaces free of charge, providing a reach and accessibility that is unmatched by any other program of its nature in the country.

The public is invited to experience the magic of Montana Shakespeare in the Parks and their free, world-class performances under the big skies of the West. For the most up to date tour schedule, visit www.ShakespeareInTheParks.org. •

Verge presents two-handed portrait of impassioned career artist

In collaboration with Empty () Space Company, Verge Theater continues to showcase local theater with a special residency at the Emerson Center for the Arts & Culture. Tickets are now on sale for John Logan’s Red, with remaining performances set for September 6th–10th. Wednesday and Thursday performances begin at 7pm. The Friday performance begins at 8:30pm following the Art Walk, with Saturday shows to follow at 3pm and 7pm. A closing Sunday matinee will take place at 3pm.

Master abstract expressionist Mark Rothko has just landed the biggest commission in the history of modern art, a series of murals for New York’s famed Four Seasons Restaurant. In the two fascinating years that follow, Rothko works feverishly with his young assistant, Ken, in his studio on the Bowery. But when Ken gains the confidence to challenge him, Rothko faces the agonizing possibility that his crowning achievement could also become his undoing.

Raw and provocative, Red is a searing portrait of an artist’s ambition and vulnerability as he tries to create a definitive work for an extraordinary setting. Suggested for ages 13 and up. The production features profanity, adult themes and mentions of self-harm and violence.

Under the direction of Bradford Rosenbloom, tickets for Red are available for purchase now. Cost for admission is on a pay-what-you-wish basis with a suggested price of $25. Visit www.vergetheater.com for reservations and further information about educational opportunities for aspiring thespians. •

Business & Community Conversation is on Wednesday, Sept. 13th. SCL Health, Now

Business Development, will be on hand to present. The forum will take place at SpringHill Suites. Members pay $23 for this presentation.

PechaKucha returns with grab bag of fun & informative presentations

The next PechaKucha Night features the fascinating history of the Nazi Enigma machine; the renovation of the Ellen Theatre’s backstage with the stories that lurk behind the curtain; and the hair-raising tales behind Missy O’Malley’s wig collection.

Barbara Keremedjiev, president and co-founder of the American Computer & Robotics Museum; John Ludin, executive director of the Ellen; and Missy join eight other presenters at 6:40pm on Tuesday and Wednesday, September 12th and 13th at Downtown Bozeman’s Ellen Theatre. The irrepressible Missy will be doing double duty as emcee of the evening.

Montana native Bob Buzzas tells the remarkable story of Mike Mansfield who spent 10 years working in the Butte mines before rising to become majority leader of the U.S. Senate; artist, writer, stand-up comic Dezri Rochin describes living with a “neurodiver-gent” mind; and Willie Eide presents on “Baseball, apple pie ... and bourbon?”

Flora McCormick will offer “5 rude awakenings I didn’t expect becoming a parent”; high school student Alex Ronsen will describe the fulfillment and challenges of volunteering as a peer counselor to kids with special needs; and Julie Geddes will present “How to Think Like a Pancreas” on the special challenges of living with Type 1 Diabetes.

At 57, John Larkin will describe his long, winding path through the tech revolution, culminating (at least for now) with Artificial Intelligence, with all its promise and potential to ruin everything. But, just to be sure we don’t go too far down the rabbit hole, local funyman Ritchie Boyd will ensure we go home with a laugh as he once again channels Groucho Marx.

The event is sponsored by Bozeman Art Museum. Tickets are available at www.theellentheatre.com.

atre.com, for $9 (including facility fee). Students may purchase tickets at the door for $5.50.

PechaKucha (peh-chak-cha) offers anyone with a passion or a vision – designers, artists, inventors, architects, adventurers, entrepreneurs – an opportunity to share their ideas with the community during a fast-paced, friendly social get-together. There’s just one catch: presenters have only 20 slides x 20 seconds each, a total of 6 minutes, 40 seconds! •

Brothers Comatose, John King headline music & arts festival’s sophomore event

Following its successful launch last year, the anticipated return of the Yellowstone Harvest Fest is set for Saturday and Sunday, September 9th and 10th. Ferry Landing Ranch will once again play host to the festival, located east of Livingston. The event is a great excuse to get outside and enjoy the outdoors with live music, food and drink, arts and crafts as well as vendor booths. Events will take place from 10am–8pm each day, bringing together music, the Yellowstone community and the beauty of Montana.

This year’s festival promises an unforgettable experience, featuring a fantastic lineup of 12 country and bluegrass bands, including headliners The Brothers Comatose and John King. The event also showcases other talented artists such as Jalan Crossland, Clay Street Unit, Michelle Rivers, Madeline Hawthorne, Matt Wallin & Nervous Breakdown, Marty Bush, The Teccas, Charlie Denison, Brice Ash and TJ Overcast.

Immerse yourself in the beauty of Montana at this family friendly festival, offering outdoor activities like hands-on archery and fly fishing demos, as well as over 50 arts and crafts vendors. Indulge in amazing food and beer from Katabatic Brewing, and enjoy a range of family activities from LINKS for Learning and Ferry Landing Ranch. Event organizers have pledged a 10% donation of festival proceeds to LINKS, an after-school and summer program for elementary school children. Don’t miss out on this unforgettable weekend of music, adventure and giving back.

Festival admission is $45 each day, or $65 for both with camping packages available. Children 12 and under are admitted free! Visit www.yellowstoneharvestfest.com for complete event schedule, advance ticketing access, and to learn more about the event. Follow on social media for regular updates.

Country star Craig Morgan performs at Armory in benefit of area veterans

Enjoy some fantastic live music and support a great cause with a special show at the Armory Music Hall this month. Located in the downtown hotel of the same name, the space offers Gallatin Valley event-goers a new option to experience arts and culture.

On Wednesday, September 13th, the Armory hosts country star and Army veteran Craig Morgan for a show in benefit of regional nonprofit First Hunt Foundation’s Connecting Heroes & Hunters program. The music begins at 8pm with local singer/songwriter Amanda Stewart. Doors at 7pm.

A multi-faceted entertainer, Craig Morgan has made a name for himself as a country music icon, TV personality, author, celebrated outdoorsman and patriotic Army veteran. One of country music’s best-loved artists, Morgan has amassed over 2 billion career streams and charted over 25 songs on Billboard, thrilling massive crowds with signature hits including “Bonfire,” “Almost Home,” “Redneck Yacht Club,” “International Harvester,” “This Ole Boy,” “Soldier,” “That’s What I Love About Sunday,” and his faith-filled tribute to his son Jerry, “The Father, My Son and The Holy Ghost.” The deluxe version of his God, Family, Country album features “How You Make a Man,” and was released on Veterans Day 2022, the same day he headlined a sold-out show at Nashville’s historic Ryman Auditorium.

The Connecting Heroes & Hunters program provides education and training for acquiring hunting skills to veterans and first responders 100% free of charge to all participants. Purchase of a ticket to this event will help bolster the nonprofit’s important work with Southwest Montana service members.

Armory Music Hall tickets are available for standing-room general admission and limited VIP seating. A complete list of upcoming performances and ticketing access is available at www.armorymusic hall.com.

Big Sky’s Len Hill Park hosts Pinky, first-ever ‘Metal in the Mountains’

The Arts Council of Big Sky caps another great summer of free Music in the Mountains with an evening featuring local tribute Pinky & the Floyd on Thursday, September 7th. The annual tradition again comes to Len Hill Park in Town Center and is one of the most anticipated nights of the series. There will be no opening band for this show with music beginning at 7pm.

Since its inception in 2008, the band has exploded in popularity, selling out nearly every show, wherever they travel. Their performances strike the perfect balance between intimacy and intensity, and the energy and stage presence is unprecedented. The band performs over 80 songs, and seven full albums worth of Pink Floyd music making them one of the premier Pink Floyd Tribute acts in the industry. You can expect albums in their entirety, and a little something from every Floyd genre – from Syd Barrett to Division Bell, and everything in between.

The Arts Council has added one more event to this summer’s ‘Music in the Mountains’ lineup. This one, however, will have a different – and louder – flavor than the rest of the music presented so far.

On Thursday, September 14th, settle in for Metal in the Mountains, an end-of-summer festival featuring three local heavy metal bands. The event includes Big Sky’s Scavenger as the headliner, with support from Belgrade’s Liquid Gnar and Big Sky’s own Stoneman’s Way. Music starts at 5:30pm in Len Hill Park.

“We’ve been planning this for a few months and are super excited to announce this lineup to our Music in the Mountains series,” said Brian

Hurlbut, the Arts Council’s Executive Director. “It will be great to showcase the area’s burgeoning heavy metal scene to a Big Sky audience.”

This year marks Scavenger’s ten-year anniversary since their first show at the Broken Spoke Bar in Big Sky. The riff-heavy metal band has played more than 150 shows since then at venues around Montana and beyond, showcasing their original material. Their first album, Cliff Manor, released in 2018, and the quartet will release its second album later this year. The band members – which include Timmy Bowers on drums/vocals, Ben Blodgett on bass/vocals, Joey Mathis on guitar, and Brent Philippi on guitar/vocals – have been part of the Big Sky community for decades.

“We’ve seen many shows in the park and it’s very validating to us all to get to showcase our music on that same platform,” said Philippi. “We are aware people look at metal music differently, but we’re committed to staying true to ourselves artistically while at the same time changing a few minds when it comes to heavy metal music.”

Liquid Gnar is based out of Belgrade and recently won the Belgrade High School Battle of the Bands competition, which included groups from all over Gallatin Valley. The band also performed at this year’s Rockin’ the Rivers Festival in Three Forks. The group’s latest single is “Eye of the Sun.”

Stoneman’s Way is a punk-influenced rock band based in Big Sky and Bozeman that released their debut album, Get It Right, earlier this year. The band frequently plays at venues around the area.

Len Hill Park opens at 6pm for the Pinky & the Floyd show, and 5pm for ‘Metal in the Mountains.’ These tobacco and vape-free events are family friendly with food and beverage trucks on site. Dogs and glass containers are prohibited. For more information and to check out what other events the Arts Council has going on, please visit www.bigskyarts.org.

Bridger wraps summer with rockin’ modern country showcase

Bridger Brewing has had an incredible inaugural summer concert series, with the Three Forks amphitheater quickly earning its place among Southwest Montana’s favorite outdoor venues. The music is set to conclude with one final performance of the season.

Budding country artist Chris Janson is set for a Sunday, September 17th, show alongside special guest Frankie Ballard. The music begins at 6pm.

Proud member of the Grand Ole Opry and multi-platinum songwriter and artist, Janson is part of country’s new breed. In touch with the lighter side of life with self-penned No. 1s “Fix a Drink,” “Good Vibes” and the triple-platinum “Buy Me a Boat,” as well as the more thoughtful truths of “Done,” “Things You Can’t Live Without” and the CMA Song of the Year nominee and ACM Video of the Year “Drunk Girl.” Both “Boat” and “Girl” were named to the Nashville Songwriters Association International’s prestigious “Songs I Wish I Wish I’d Written” list, which is why artists like Tim McGraw (“Truck Yeah,” “How I’ll Always Be”), Justin Moore (“Off the Beaten Path”), Cody Johnson (“Let’s Build a Fire”) and the iconic Hank Williams Jr. (“God Fearin’ Man,” “Those Days Are Gone”) reach for Janson’s songs for their own projects.

Beyond his artistry are his live shows, where all that heart-on-the-four-wheeler songwriting meets the fans where they come to rock. Rolling Stone proclaimed him “a live legacy in the making,” and Janson is a frequent presence at the nation’s biggest country festivals, tours and unexpected sit-ins. For a man known for his outdoors lifestyle and collaborations with Bass Pro Shops and Cabela’s, making music from his own life has established the harmonica-forward multi-instrumentalist the go-to guy for young country for the last decade. Janson is currently headlining his 2023 tour while his Outlaw Side of Me single “All I Need Is You” is his most-added radio hit to date.

Advance general admission tickets are available for purchase now. Visit www.bridgerbrewing.com for ticketing access and to learn more about more upcoming happenings. Cheers! •

Brick home to concert four-pack featuring industry stalwarts

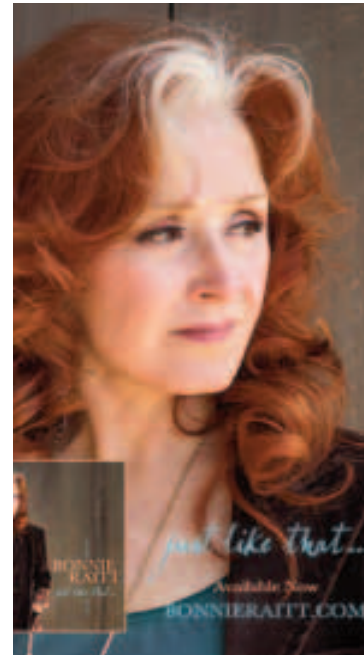

As the fall season approaches, local audiences have several opportunities to experience the national tours of some of the music industry’s brightest stars at Brick Breeden Fieldhouse.

First up, Jelly Roll brings his “Backroad Baptism” tour to Bozeman on Wednesday, September 6th. Opening support comes courtesy of Struggle Jennings and Caitlynn Curtis with the music set to begin at 7pm.

The chart-topping, multi-genre phenomenon scored his first No. 1 on country radio with his debut country single “Son of a Sinner” and earned a two-week Rock No. 1, cementing “his rising mainstream stardom” (Tennessean). More recently, he released “She” as well as his current radio hit, “Need a Favor” – both from his new album, Whitsitt Chapel. Having independently amassed more than 4 billion career streams, Jelly made his Grand Ole Opry debut in 2022 and continues to sell out venues across the United States. His hit single “Save Me” – a confessional, vulnerable expression of self-doubt set the stage for his new season of life and took him to new heights – continues to resonate with fans and tap into Jelly’s uniquely-connective ability to bring fans “therapeutic music.”

Returning to Southwest Montana on Saturday, September 9th, is Bonnie Raitt with her “Just Like That...” tour. Roy Rogers will open the 7pm show.

Touring her twenty-first album and first new release in more than six years, the Rock and Roll Hall of Famer continues to draw on the range of influences that have shaped her legendary career, while creating something that speaks to the circumstances and challenges of these unprecedented times. The mix of sounds and approaches on Just Like That... reveals how, fifty years after the release of her debut album, Raitt continues to personify what it means to stay creative, adventurous and daring over the course of a life’s work. The album won three Grammy Awards, including “Song of the Year” for the title track.

Rodney Atkins is set for a Friday, September 15th, show as part of Alpha Gamma Rho’s annual Testicle Festival. Jarrod Morris will be on hand to warm up the crowd for the 7pm show.

One of country music’s biggest stars, the chart-topping artist’s current solo studio album, Caught Up in the Country, reveals an artist who is confident enough to know that making your best music can require patience and experimentation. The results are his most daring collection so far, touching on emotions and sounds which continue to expand his range – from the twangy celebration of the album’s title track (featuring the roof-raising vocals of The Fisk Jubilee Singers) to the slow-burn cover of Jason Isbell’s “Cover Me Up.” With six No. 1 singles, eight Top 5s, and billions of career streams under his belt, Atkins continues to be recognized as one of the most powerful voices in country music.

And appearing in Bozeman one last time on Monday, September 25th, is Foreigner as part of their “Farewell Tour.” Music begins at 7:30pm.

With ten multi-platinum albums and 16 Top 30 hits, the band is universally hailed as one of the most popular rock acts in the world with a formidable musical arsenal that continues to propel sold-out tours and album sales, now exceeding 80 million. Responsible for some of rock and roll’s most enduring anthems including “Juke Box Hero,” “Cold as Ice,” “Hot Blooded,” “Waiting for a Girl Like You,” “Feels Like the First Time,” “Urgent,” “Head Games,” “Say You Will,” “Dirty White Boy,” “Long, Long Way from Home” and the worldwide #1 hit, “I Want to Know What Love Is,” Foreigner still rocks the charts more than 40 years into the game.

Advance tickets to these shows and other events are available for purchase now at www.montana.edu/brickbreeden or at the Fieldhouse box office. •

Shane Center Presents’ closes with eclectic duo performance

Livingston’s Shane Lalani Center for the Arts concludes their inaugural concert series ‘Shane Center Presents’ this month. Robin & Linda Williams are set to perform on Thursday, September 28th. Music starts at 7pm.

Robin and Linda Williams are closing in on a five decade-long career that has included 24 personal recordings, thousands of concerts on three continents, a Robert Altman-directed movie, hundreds of performances on NPR’s A Prairie Home Companion and other radio and television shows. As live performers they are second to none and are at home on whatever stage they find themselves, be it a tiny coffee house or bar, or a large, storied concert hall or festival. As gifted songwriters, the duo has earned the respect of their musical peers, their songs having been recorded by such well-known artists as Mary Chapin Carpenter, Tom T. Hall, Tim and Mollie O’Brien, Mary Black, The Seldom Scene and Emmylou Harris, to name a few.

‘Shane Center Presents’ has brought an eclectic roster of world-class musicians to the Dulcie Theatre this year, including Australian guitar virtuoso Joe Robinson, composer Philip Aaberg and NY NY Dueling Pianos. Following a welcoming response by the community, event organizers are already looking to 2024 for a new season of fantastic live music.

Individual ticket pricing for Robin & Linda Williams is $30 for adults, $23 for seniors/college students/military and $15 for youth. Visit www.theshanecenter.org or call the box office at (406) 222-1420 for tickets. Concessions available. UV air filtration in the Dulcie Theatre and lobby.

The inaugural season of Shane Center Presents is generously underwritten by Carol Glenn & Sal Lalani and Donald B. Gimbel. •

American Philosophy, Lost Ox & Scott Pemberton come to Filler

No matter what sort of music you’re into, the Filling Station brings in locally celebrated musicians and traveling acts of every stripe. The concerts showcase artists from a variety of genres, welcoming diverse audiences to the north Bozeman space with performances held throughout the week.

Opening the month is Hornbread on September 1st with opening support from The Prawns and Fairly Brief at 9pm. W inner of MSU’s 2023 “Battle of the Bands,” this energetic seven-piece ska band brings original tunes and trusted covers to life. Head down and check them out!

Helena’s American Philosophy follow on Sept. 2nd with openers Liquid Gnar and Scavenger at 9pm. The three-piece original rock band brings over a decade’s worth of material, pushing the envelope with high-energy live performances of adrenaline-raged hard rock. With a new dynamic mash up of hip-hop beats, punk rock guitars and gritty grungy bass, the band has enhanced their lineup of material and continues to deliver incredible live shows for their burgeoning fan base.

Lost Ox visits from Portland for their Sept. 8th show featuring an opening set from The Scurry at 9pm. The genre-blending jammers combine elements of funk, psychedelia, jazz, Americana and progressive rock. Rooted both in the jam-band resurgence of the 90s and the original 1960s psychedelic folk rock revolution, their style encompasses many familiar jam tropes, all executed and reimagined with an inspired, dauntless precision. The band has released three full-lengths – Wildheart, Earthsnake and Stuck – with a new album in the works.

Take in an evening with El Wencho on Sept. 15th at 8pm. The powerhouse duo delivers big sound that relates the Montana lifestyle through immersive lyrics, catchy melodies and driving rhythms. Their authentic music is an eclectic fusion of genres that draws on sonic elements from red dirt rock, blues, country, Americana and polyrhythmic Latin percussion. Live shows are an experiential combination of their dynamic Montana sound, engaging storytelling and comedic flair.

Electric River presents Scott Pemberton O Theory on Sept. 28th at 8pm. Rooted in the familiar yet utterly unique, this nimble power trio creates their own brand of progressive roots music blending deep jazz, blues, rock/grunge, funk and psychedelia – often during the same song. Driven by Scott’s wildly unorthodox approach to the guitar, improvisation and songwriting, every concert is an entirely fresh experience.

Looking to a new month, Pinky & the Floyd return to the Filler for a special fundraiser show in benefit of the Milton Menasco Foundation on October 6th. All event proceeds will directly support the foundation with additional details to be announced. Known for their performances of full albums, Pinky and the Floyd have fronted some legendary theatrical productions including “The Wall,” “The Division Bell” and “3 Different Ones” featuring Animals, Darkside and Wish You Were Here.

Advance ticketing information for these and other shows are available at www.fillertickets.com. Log on to the website for additional details and a full calendar of upcoming concerts. Follow the Filler on social media for event updates and other venue announcements. •

Ellen stage features nights of Americana rock & gypsy jazz

With live shows inching indoors as the summer season wraps, Downtown Bozeman’s Ellen Theatre is a great place to catch a show by touring musical acts.

Here’s a look who’s set to visit in the coming weeks.

Catch the Elisabeth Carlisle Band live in concert on Wednesday, September 20th at 7pm. All seats are $26.50 with student discounts available.

A singer/songwriter from Santa Cruz, she is known for her poignant lyrics and distinguished melodies. Her ballads can cut to the heart, and her coastal California roots bring energy and good Americana rock to her shows. Her bandmates from Sweden bring their years of professional experience from performing with artists like Jill Johnson, The Liberators, Charlie Musselwhite, The Men and The Harmony Aviators.

“A Swingin’ Friday Night” featuring Tim Kliphuis and the Rimrock Hot Club follows on Friday, September 29th at 7:30pm. The duo will celebrate the music of the famed musical duo, Stéphane Grappelli and Django Reinhardt. All seats are $29.75.

Kliphuis is a world-renowned violinist who has performed with some of the biggest names in jazz, including Bireli Lagrene and Angelo Debarre. His recent successes have led to a Sony Classical recording contract and a performance for the Dutch King and Queen. Rimrock Hot Club is a group of talented musicians who specialize in playing hot jazz from the 1920s and 1930s. They have been praised for their authentic sound and their energetic performances.

Together, Kliphuis and Rimrock Hot Club will recreate the sound of Paris in the 1930s, when gypsy jazz was at its peak. They will play a mix of traditional gypsy jazz tunes and original compositions. Fans are encouraged to bring their dancing shoes as there will be plenty of room to “cut a rug.”

Wine, beer and concessions will be sold in the lobby one hour before each event. Ticketing and further information about these and other upcoming happenings is available at www.theellentheatre.org. For additional inquiries, call the box office at (406) 585-5885. •

Local rock n’ rollers deliver end-of-summer shows to Livingston & Bozeman

Montana favorite supergroup The MAX returns to the local spotlight with a trio of upcoming shows to help close out the summer season. The local legends will first perform at Livingston’s Attic on Friday, September 8th, with music beginning at 8pm. Later in the month, the band returns to the Cat’s Paw on Friday and Saturday, Sept. 29th and 30th, during Montana State University’s homecoming weekend. The music starts at 9pm each night.

The MAX is a three-piece band from L.A. (also known as the Livingston area) that has entertained and delighted audiences across the country for decades. Since its inception in 1984, they’ve toured the US extensively and have become a mainstay on the local Montana scene since 1993, setting the bar for longevity and quality among the region’s many bands.

Featuring Kyle Brenner on guitar and vocals, Bobb Clanton on bass guitar and vocals, and Ethan Decker on drums, this “power pop party rock” trio from the Rockies puts out a massive sound for just three guys and has an incredible knack for pulling off spot-on covers of tunes young and old. The MAX has two independent album releases, Shadows in the Shade and Vinyl Valentine.

The Max has opened for Styx, REO Speedwagon, the Fabulous Thunderbirds, Atlanta Rhythm Section, Marshall Tucker Band and Foghat, and has shared the bill with the Red Hot Chili Peppers and Big Head Todd & the Monsters. They have played from Pittsburgh to Portland and everywhere in between.

Advance tickets to the Attic show are $15 and available through www.themaxrocks.com or at Whiskey Creek Saloon. There is no cover for the Cat’s Paw shows. •

Soak up scintillating Saloon sounds with weekend trek to Chico

Band of Drifters, Cactus Cuts & tribute @ Pine Creek

Another sunny season comes to a close at Pine Creek Lodge this month, an outdoor venue that allows local musicians and national acts to come together on the same stage in the name of incredible live music. If you haven't made it over to Paradise Valley yet this summer, there's still a long month of events to attend before they pack it up until next year! Here's a look at what's coming up.

The Sleepless Elite are next up on September 1st. The duo has inspiration rooted in musical theater, and the sound of artists like Paramore and Blondie, Blink-182 and the Strokes. Their unique sound can be heard on their latest release, Still Dreaming.

Following on Sept. 2nd are The Gravy Ladles. Serving up a heap- ing spoonful of Americana with home-cooked originals and spiced up covers, this trio brings soaring three-part harmonies over saxo- phone, fiddle, ukulele, djembe and more. They blend the good ole American music of bluegrass, blues, rock, reggae and funk.

Check out a midweek set with The Bo Show on Sept. 6th. The van-dwelling Montana musician plays solo and with fellow musicians from all over the country, sporting a constantly changing lineup of play- ers and musical styles.

Band of Drifters performs with support from Big Ol' on Sept. 7th. The group plays modern American roots music and encourage audi- ences to dance. Based mostly in Montana and Tennessee, the band also includes players from all over the country, keeping the music varied in arrangement, instrumentation and regional influences. The Drifters' sets draw from country, folk and blues traditions with an emphasis on original songs, done in the old style.

Tribute group 710 Ashbury takes the stage on Sept. 8th. The Helena-based group lays down all your classic Grateful Dead favorites with every spirited performance.

Bozeman's own Cactus Cuts are set for a Sept. 9th show along- side openers Abby Webster, Ryan Acker and Lee Henke of the Last Revel. The five-piece Americana folk band draws inspiration from the harmonious melodies of the Milk Carton Kids and the virtuosic guitar stylings of Doc Watson. The band weaves together intricate acoustic arrangements, compelling story- telling and lush vocal harmonies that are the perfect musical combination of modern bluegrass and old-time Americana.

Quenby and Dead Original warm up the crowd for Chicago- based Smells Like Nirvana on Sept. 13th. Composed of seasoned pros and die-hard fans, this live tribute to Nirvana is a haunting episode of grunge-filled angst and rock prowess played without click tracks or backing tracks – a rare trait in today's contemporary musical landscape, the philosophy Nirvana lived by.

Enjoy a solo set by tunesmith Jay Gavin on Sept. 14th. He writes songs for fans of real country music. The singer/songwriter is known for his natural authenticity, catchy hooks, foot stompin', autobiographi- cal everyman songs and good timin' live shows.

Wes Urbaniak & the Mountain Folk perform on Sept. 15th. The "musical love child of Tracy Chapman and Mumford & Sons," the frontman makes noise on homemade guitars, beats on them with his hands, and tools and creates acoustic and amazing music. Urbaniak has been touring the country for years, now with the Mountain Folk, sharing their Montana music performed on local- ly crafted instruments from Urbaniak's shop.

Visiting from Billings, Holland Dotson showcases her talents on Sept. 16th. With heavy influences from her Appalachian roots, she draws inspiration from artists like Tyler Childers, Colter Wall and Chris Stapleton to create a unique sound of familiar favorites.

Stomp your feet to the music of Walcrik on Sept. 20th. Blending roots, Americana, bluegrass and folk music, they'll have you up and danc- ing one minute, then listening intently to the lyric-driven songwrit- ing about life, love, loss and the American West.

Cole Decker tickles strings and performs for Lodge-goers on Sept. 21st. The Mississippi-born singer/songwriter pulls from his musical roots of old school country. He's influenced by the likes of Waylon Jennings and newer artists including Chris Stapleton, Brent Cobb and Jason Isbell.

Take in a Sept. 22nd show by North Fork Crossing with open- ing support by Jampoke. Their genre resides somewhere in a strange untapped musical realm between traditional bluegrass, psychedelic rock, Americana and Folk. The quintet are drawn to bluegrass reaching a younger generation, prid- ing themselves on their unique sound being the "evolution of string band music."

A returning favorite, Chandler Huntley impresses with his Sept. 23rd set. With a Southern voice and Travis-picking guitar style, he draws influence from Johnny Cash, Merle Haggard, Guy Clark, John Prine, Robert Earl Keen and other country greats, from the current and past.

Taylor Burlage Trio entertains with a whimsical performance on Sept. 28th. The frontman's songwriting takes on a texture reflective of the mountains he grew up in, using their power and imagery to craft songs that navigate life, loss, joys and heartbreak of the human condition. His debut album I Might Be Gone released in the spring.

Closing out a busy month of shows on Sept. 29th are Red NOT Chili Peppers with openers Emma & the Ledge. The band pays tribute to the ultimate funk rock quartet, a band that has transcended three decades of chart-topping success and developed one of the largest die-hard fan bases in the world. Expect a show featuring the hits and high energy performance that brought the Chili Peppers interna- tional acclaim. The Red NOTs offer a sincere devotion to that classic Chili Pepper sound fans have come to expect.

Also in Paradise Valley, Pine Creek presents its Brunch Live Music Series. The weekend offer- ing regularly showcases regional musicians from 11am–1pm. Order some food and find a spot! Upcoming acts include: Maggie Hickman on Sept. 2nd, Weston Lewis Sept. 3rd, Ryan Acker Sept. 9th, Cole Decker Sept. 10th, Chandler Huntley Sept. 16th, Jess Atkins Sept. 17th, Shelly Besler & Tony Polecastro Sept. 23rd, Peter King Sept. 24th, Kailee Failla Sept. 30th and Steph Yeager on Oct. 1st. Eagles favorites Bluebilly Junction are back Sept. 29th and 30th. The "rockabilly" group brings an arsenal of originals and personal- ized covers. The high-energy band tends to veer away from slow jams, other than the occasional tune.

History of Western fly fishing topic of annual Trout Lecture

From MSU News Service

Jen Brown, an environmental historian focused on the history of fisheries, animals, conservation and natural resource policy, will present “The History of Western Fly Fishing in Five Flies” at 7pm Thursday, September 14th, in Norm Asbjornson Hall, Room 165, at Montana State University. The event is part of the MSU Library Trout and Salmonid Lecture Series and is free and open to the public. A reception will follow.

Brown is an associate professor of history at Texas A&M University-Corpus Christi. She is the author of Trout Culture: How Fly Fishing Forever

Changed the Rocky Mountain West and the writer and producer of ‘The Gulf Podcast, which uses oral history to focus on the people and nature on the Texas Gulf Coast. She is also working on a book about dolphins, in which she tells the story of a largely forgotten release of two laboratory dolphins in Hawaii in 1977 to show how dolphins became beloved during the age of ecology. Brown has a bachelor’s degree in social science from the University of Montana-Western, a master’s degree in history from MSU and a doctorate in history from Washington State University.

Through the annual Trout Lecture, the library strives to address all aspects of trout and salmonids and to represent the diversity of angling culture. Thanks to donors, the Sept. 14th event is free and open to the public.

Seating is limited and preregistration is encouraged. Guests can register online at www.montana.edu/calendar/events/46951. For information on the MSU Library’s Trout and Salmonid Collection, visit lib.montana.edu/trout. •

Lend a hand for the Gallatin River’s annual tidying effort

The Gallatin River Task Force and Gallatin Watershed Council will once again join forces to host the annual Gallatin River Cleanup with volunteer slots open from Friday through Sunday, September 8th–10th.

During the event, teams of volunteers will be cleaning the watershed in the Gallatin Canyon and Big Sky, as well as along the lower watershed. The cleanup is a great opportunity to work together as a community to clean our beautiful Gallatin after the busy summer season on the river. Sign up for a volunteer slot as an individual or team through the Task Force website, or visit the Watershed Council site for volunteer opportunities on the lower watershed on 2–4pm.

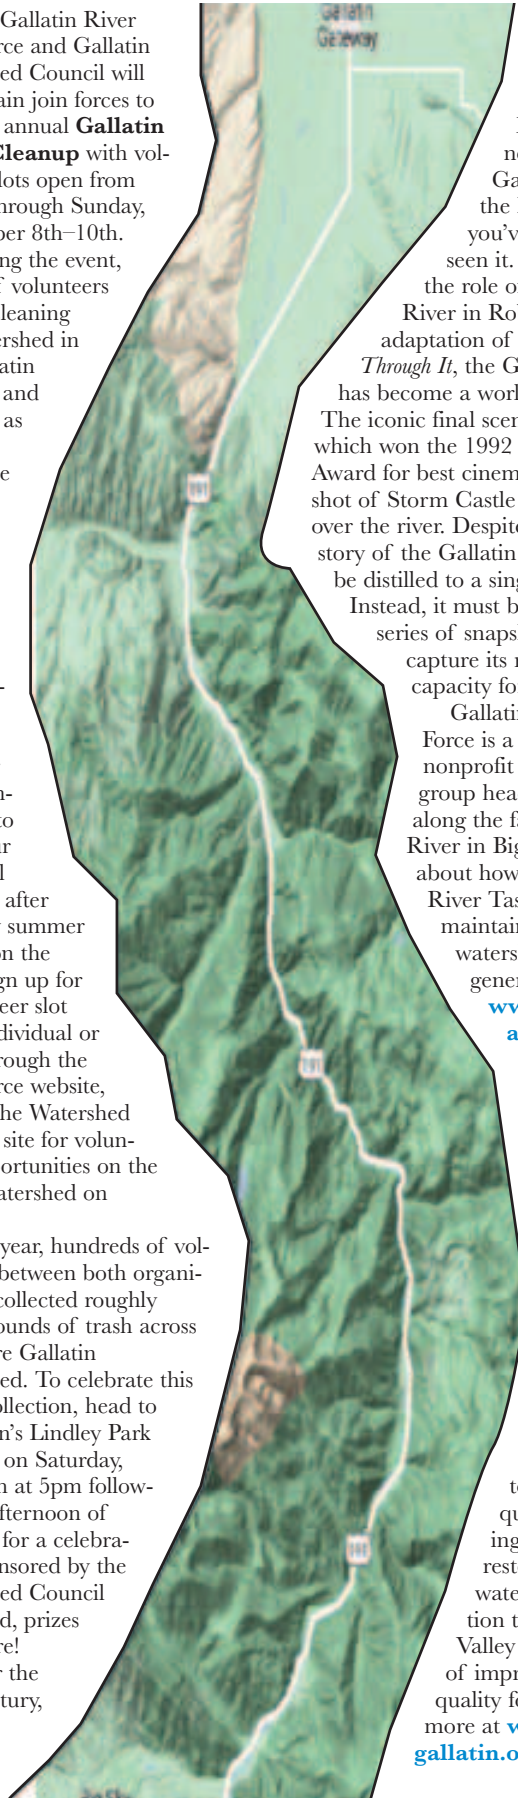

Last year, hundreds of volunteers between both organizations collected roughly 4,000 pounds of trash across the entire Gallatin Watershed. To celebrate this year’s collection, head to Bozeman’s Lindley Park Pavilion on Saturday, Sept. 9th at 5pm following an afternoon of cleanup for a celebration sponsored by the Watershed Council with food, prizes and more!

Over the past century, the Gallatin

River has become a famous hub for recreation. Even if you’ve never fished the Gallatin or rafted the Mad Mile, you’ve probably seen it. Since playing the role of the Blackfoot River in Robert Redford’s adaptation of A River Runs Through It, the Gallatin River has become a world-class brand. The iconic final scene of the film, which won the 1992 Academy Award for best cinematography, is a shot of Storm Castle Peak towering over the river. Despite its fame, the story of the Gallatin River cannot be distilled to a single image. Instead, it must be told as a series of snapshots, which capture its resilience and capacity for change.

Gallatin River Task Force is a locally led nonprofit watershed group headquartered along the famous Gallatin River in Big Sky. Learn about how the Gallatin River Task Force is maintaining a healthy watershed for future generations at www.gallatinriver.taskforce.org.

Greater Gallatin Watershed Council is a Bozeman-based nonprofit that works with local volunteers, landowners and community partners to bring water quality monitoring, stream restoration, and watershed education to the Gallatin Valley with the goal of improving water quality for all. TALENTED BOBCATS PRIMED FOR ANOTHER DEEP PLAYOFF RUN - 2023 BOBCAT PREVIEW

by Danny Waldo

It's been eight months since the Montana State Bobcats trudged off the field in Brookings, SD, one step short of a return trip to the FCS National Championship in Frisco, TX, but head coach Brent Vigen's crew is re-loaded and ready to make another deep playoff run in 2023.

Last season, Montana State surprised some after ascending to the top of the Big Sky Conference, finishing with a perfect 8-0 record in league play. There will be no such surprises this fall as league coaches and media members have both picked the Bobcats to repeat as league champions. However, the road to Frisco will not be an easy one as the 'Cats must replace key contributors on both sides of the ball, in addition to replacing one of the top assistant coaches in the country in offensive line coach Brian Armstrong, all while navigating the toughest schedule in the conference. Montana State faces four league opponents who joined the 'Cats in the FCS playoffs, in addition to a return trip to Brookings in Week 2 to face the defending national champion South Dakota State Jackrabbits.

But nobody outside of Bozeman is feeling sorry for the Bobcats given the success they've experienced in Vigen's first two seasons at the helm (24-5, 15-1 Conference), and the talent they have remaining on the roster entering the 2023 season. Seven Bobcats garnered Preseason All-Big Sky accolades, with six also earning Pre-season All-American nods. Junior quarterback Tommy Mellott has landed on the Preseason Walter Payton watch list, while junior defensive tackle Sebastian Valdez has earned a spot on the Preseason Buck Buchanan list. Both will be counted on heavily to lead their respective units, but each will have plenty of help in keeping the Bobcats on top of the Big Sky in MSU's quest to get back to Frisco in January. OFFENSE While the Isaiah Ifanse era is officially over in Bozeman, a number of capable backs remain to keep the Bobcat ground game churning in 2023. Montana

State boasted the top rushing attack in the nation last season, led by the two-headed monster at quarterback, Tommy Mellott (1,140 yds) and Sean Chambers (899 yds). Both return to MSU's backfield, as does third leading rusher Elijah Elliott (744 yds) and fourth leading rusher Lane Sumner (439 yds) who was limited by injuries for a good portion of the 2022 season. Additionally, Marqui Johnson, who contributed 426 yards on just 32 carries last fall, could see his workload increase in '23 giving the 'Cats another explosive option out of the backfield.

All of MSU's backs will benefit from the return of an experienced offensive line anchored by Justus Perkins, Rush Reimer, JT Reed and Omar Aigbedion, all of whom started at least one game last fall. The big question mark will be how will the rushing attack continue to evolve under the leadership of new offensive line coach Al Johnson, who comes to Bozeman via Wisconsin where he coached running backs in 2022 after starring on the Badger offensive line in the early 2000s. Johnson has big shoes to fill after the departure of Brian Armstrong who molded MSU's offensive line into one of the most formidable units in the country, and parlayed that success into a new gig at Fresno State.

Not only did the Bobcats' offensive line excel at creating advantages in the run game, they also proved worthy at providing time for Mellott and Chambers to spread the ball around to a variety of receivers, led by Willie Patterson, who led the 'Cats in receptions and yards in 2022. While Patterson has moved onto NFL Europe, a number of potential replacements return, most notably Clevan Thomas Jr. and Derryk Snell who each snagged 22 receptions last season, tied for third on the team. The Bobcats' passing attack could also see a boost in production thanks to a pair of FBS transfers in Lonyatta Alexander Jr. (Washington/Arizona St.) and Tyler McCullough (Colorado State), as well as the emergence of Christian Anaya, a redshirt freshman who saw limited action in 2022.

Overall, there is enough talent on the offensive side of the ball to keep the 'Cats at the top of most statistical categories in the FCS and provide the firepower needed to make another serious run at the national championship.

DEFENSE

The biggest question mark for Montana State's defense entering the 2022 season was who could replace the production of all-everything linebacker Troy Andersen, and Callahan O'Reilly was the answer. Now, in 2023 the Bobcats are looking for O'Reilly's replacement, and they may not need to look very far from the family tree, as younger brother McCade O'Reilly appears ready to step into the spotlight as part of another strong Bobcat linebacking corp. Senior Nolan Askelson will be the anchor of the Bobcat linebackers, and will don the Bobcats' famous No. 41 jersey for his final season, but he'll receive plenty of help from O'Reilly, as well as Danny Uluilakepa and junior college transfer Cole Bullock.

But the strength of the 'Cats defense may be found on the defensive line, where junior Sebastian Valdez has developed himself into one of the most disruptive forces in the FCS. Valdez is a preseason Buck Buchanan candidate after a strong 2022 where he logged 10 tackles for loss and 7.5 sacks from his defensive tackle position. Valdez is sure to face more double teams and attention from opposing offensive lines, freeing up defensive ends Brody Grebe and Kenneth Eiden IV to increase their sack totals from 2022. The duo combined for 7 sacks last season, but will be counted on to provide greater pressure in 2023.

The unit looking to prove itself the most coming into the 2023 season is the Bobcat secondary. Victims of a number of big plays in the passing game last season, the 'Cats secondary would love nothing more than to prove they are not the weakest link of what could be a salty defensive unit. Led by junior Simcon Woodard, who enters his third fall as a starter at cornerback, the Bobcats have the depth and experience to lock down opposing receivers and give the defensive line more time to pressure the quarterback. Level Price and Dru Polidore both saw extensive action at the safety position, and junior Rylan Ortt started the final six games at safety after returning from suspension. Ortt's production looks to increase with a full slate of games. A trio of young corners will be fighting for time opposite Woodard to man the cornerback position.

SPECIAL TEAMS

The Bobcats' special teams unit is experiencing addition by subtraction following the departures of Bryce Leighton and Blake Glessner and the arrival of FBS transfer Brendan Hall. Hall comes to Bozeman from SMU and boasts a booming leg that has earned him the nod at punter and placekicker for the 2023 season.

The kick return game is in flux to start the season as well due to offseason shoulder surgery that will sideline last season's leading returner Taco Dowler for at least the first four weeks of the season. A potential replacement for Dowler could be Colorado State transfer Tyler McCullough who boasts game breaking speed as well.

OUTLOOK

As hard as it may be to believe, Brent Vigen's third team in Bozeman may be his most talented. Vigen and his staff have made a concerted effort to increase roster depth at all positions to prepare for a deep playoff run, and their work continues to pay off. However, the Bobcats will face one of the most difficult schedules in the FCS, beginning with a Week 2 trip to Brookings, SD, to face the defending national champions. That contest versus SDSU should provide a great litmus test for where Montana State's national title hopes lie. If they can survive that test, then they should be able to handle their conference slate that includes road games at Sacramento State, Weber State, Idaho and Montana, all of whom were playoff participants a year ago, but the potential for a slip up is real and the likelihood of an undefeated conference season appears iffy. But with each of those four teams playing at least one common opponent, one would expect the Bobcats to earn their second straight Big Sky Conference championship, return to Frisco, TX, and take home their first national title since 1984.

The Bobcats' season kicks off with the annual 'Gold Rush' game, Saturday, September 2nd, vs. Utah Tech at 6pm in Bobcat Stadium. For a complete schedule of Bobcat athletics, log onto www.msusbobcats.com.

Last call for local produce & novelties as farmers' market season sunsets

Though we've seen some smoky skies in the waning weeks of summer, locals have still been able to enjoy the sunny outdoors we look forward to every season. That being said, the days of short sleeves and flip-flops are running thin. The farmers' markets of Southwest Montana bring the locals together in Bozeman, Livingston and communities beyond with regular outdoor events. Read on to see where you can get your final fixes of garden-fresh produce, fantastic food, novelty items, live entertainment and more.

The original Gallatin Valley Farmers' Market open its gates on Saturday mornings from 9am–noon, with season-ending events set for September 2nd and 9th.

The market takes place at the Gallatin County Fairgrounds in Bozeman. Serving the community for more than four decades, the popular market provides an opportunity and location for numerous local vendors of homemade food, handmade crafts, and locally grown produce to market, display and sell their goods to promote economic well-being and support the development of home-based businesses.

Concluding on September 5th and 12th, Bozeman Farmers' Market is held Tuesday evenings in Lindley Park. Market hours are from 5–8pm. Dedicated to the promotion of local growers, artisans, crafters, nonprofits, small businesses, food artisans and musicians, this local favorite is a fantastic way to support our community. These markets feature fresh produce from local farmers, arts & crafts, dinner options and more. Grab some groceries, get that gift made locally for an upcoming birthday, and kick back with a bite under the summer sky!

Western Sustainability Exchange's Livingston Farmers Market is held Wednesday nights in Miles Park Band Shell with finale events on September 6th and 13th. The event begins at 4:30pm and runs through 7:30pm rain, wind or shine. This destination event features locally grown produce and meats, baked goods, prepared foods, beer, arts and crafts vendors, and much more!

It's a great place to stock up on locally grown foods, shop from local artisans, or just relax and enjoy the view of the Yellowstone River and Absaroka Mountains.

Also on Wednesdays, the Big Sky Farmers Market takes over the Town Center Plaza from 5–8pm.

Remaining events are scheduled for September 6th, 13th, 20th and 27th. Every year, numerous vendors including local and regional farmers, professional artisans, young artists and entrepreneurs, and community organizations come together to help foster and maintain a market that's true to Big Sky mountain culture. Expect to find fresh produce, herbs, plants, flowers, baked goods, art, jewelry, and clothing, as well as Montana-made products like antler art, woodworking and so much more.

All markets are FREE of admission, so be sure to attend one of these awesome weekly events as summer concludes in support of your fellow citizens! Follow your market of choice on social media for event updates. •
