PK Night delivers fresh presenters & audience faves

Melanie Maganias, one of the country's top wedding photographers offers a photographic valentine portraying her love for Montana cowboys and Shannon Faunce teases us with the story of "How I Met Your Father" at the next PechaKucha Night at Downtown Bozeman's Ellen Theatre on Tuesday and Wednesday, February 13th and 14th. Both shows start at 6:40pm and feature the same presenters.

Doug Wales, a musician and former director of marketing and public relations at Bridger Bowl for 28 years, shares his love affair with Cuban music and details a remarkable project to develop an intercultural relationship between Cuban and US musicians.

Jelani Mahiria, another musician, and MSU assistant teaching professor, will describe his love of the West Boulder Valley and the role of place in anchoring self-love. Perhaps no one has a greater sense of place than retired architect George Mattson, who will reprise an audience favorite, "Growing up in Yellowstone."

Artist and river guide Kelsey Dzintars, whose sister Alexa was killed by a drunk driver while she was biking home from work five years ago, will share with us how her art and love of nature helped her survive the heart-wrenching loss.

Native Montanan Paul Borash will describe the joys and challenges of his nontraditional path in which he has focused on having "agency" over his own life by doing things that at first seemed impossible.

Anna Stone, a lefthander in a right-handed universe, will present on "Left, Right and Wrong: How Handedness Shapes Our World."

In her presentation, "From the Ground Up: A Life Transformed by Nature," Naomi Scott explores the life-giving connection between soil and well-being – how the health of the soil is inextricably linked to our physical and mental health.

In "The Forgotten Path to Church State Separation in America's Founding," Bruce Gourley, historian, author, speaker and photographer, will provide insight into the beginnings of the long debate about the separation of church and state that continues to this day.

In keeping with the Valentine's Day theme, Bill Eikman will reprise his crowd-pleasing presentation on why he loves his vasectomy.

Emcee will be Justin Barth, who offered a fascinating history of fire lookouts at the last PechaKucha Night in November. When he is not out enjoying the outdoors (and sometimes when he is) he works as development director for the Gallatin Valley Land Trust.

Bozeman Art Museum is sponsor of the February event. Tickets are available at www.theellentheatre.com for $9 (including facility fee). Students may purchase tickets at the door for $5.50.

PechaKucha (peh-chak-cha) offers anyone with a passion or a vision – designers, artists, inventors, architects, adventurers, entrepreneurs – an opportunity to share their ideas with the community during a fast-paced, friendly social get-together. There's just one catch: presenters have only 20 slides x 20 seconds each, a total of 6 minutes, 40 seconds! •

Annual auction returns to Big Sky, benefits art education

The Arts Council of Big Sky will once again be hosting its annual Auction for the Arts on Thursday, February 22nd, in the Grand Ballroom at the Montage Hotel in Big Sky. The event – now in its 12th year – includes a fixed price lottery sale, live and silent auctions, a quick-finish with selected artists, food, drinks and live music. The evening begins at 5pm.

This annual fundraiser for one of Big Sky's longest running non-profits has become one of the region's most anticipated events of the year, and features some of the best local, regional and national artists. Featured artists in 2024 include Clyde Aspevig, Stephanie Revennaugh, Josh DeWeese, Ralph Oberg, Ben Miller, Marianne Kemp and more.

It's a great way to support the Arts Council's mission of enriching the community through artistic experiences, as well as supporting working artists. Proceeds raised from artworks sales help fund the organization's education programs, including its pioneering Contribute-What-You-Can art class fee structure, providing accessible and affordable options for participants of all ages. The Arts Council debuted a brand-new classroom in March of 2022, which includes pottery wheels, two kilns and space for a variety of art classes.

"The new arts classroom has been a tremendous success since it opened, boasting more than 1,000 participants so far" said Arts Council Executive Director Brian Hurlbut. "It's a true asset to the community and has allowed a wide variety of aspiring artists to take classes."

Hurlbut noted that 40 percent of the art class participants have taken advantage of the lower fees in the Contribute-What-You-Can program. In addition, a third of the art class registrants have donated more to allow others to afford to participate.

"Raising additional funds for this program will allow it to continue," said Hurlbut. "Our goal is to provide access to the arts for everyone, and this program is the best example of that."

The event also includes a week-long preview of auction items with an opening reception slated for Feb. 16th. Event tickets are available for purchase now. For more information, please visit www.bigskyarts.org. •

IOB presents a Rodgers & Hammerstein's classic

Intermountain Opera Bozeman, in partnership with Haven, is set to present Rodgers & Hammerstein's groundbreaking theatre masterpiece Carousel early this month. Performances will take place February 2nd–11th. Friday and Saturday shows begin at 7pm, with Sunday matinees to follow at 3pm. All will be held at Downtown Bozeman's Ellen Theatre.

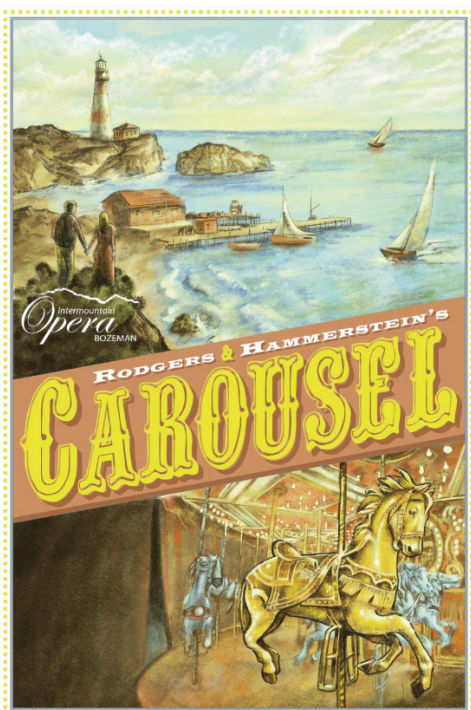

In a Maine coastal village toward the end of the 19th century, a swaggering, carefree carnival barker, Billy Bigelow, captivates and marries a thoughtful millworker, Julie Jordan. Billy loses his job just as he learns that Julie is pregnant and, desperately intent upon providing a decent life for his family, he is coerced into being an accomplice to a robbery. Caught in the act and facing the certainty of prison, he takes his own life and is sent 'up there.' Billy is allowed to return to earth for one day 15 years later, and he encounters the daughter he never knew. She is a lonely, friendless teenager, her father's reputation as a thief and bully having haunted her throughout her young life. The community instills a sense of hope and dignity in both the child and her mother in a dramatic testimony to the power of love.

Featuring unforgettable songs like "If I Loved You" and "You'll Never Walk Alone," this production is a stunning tribute to the power of love, strength and family. Be swept away by this classic tale, brought to life at the Ellen with dazzling choreography and breathtaking performances.

Under the stage direction of Katherine M Carter, Carousel features a robust cast of performers and choral artists with the help of a talented backstage creative team.

Tickets for these performances are available for purchase now. To reserve seats for Carousel, or any other upcoming performance, visit www.intermountainopera.org.

Established in 1979, Intermountain Opera promotes and shares the joy of opera in Montana and surrounding areas by providing affordable, high quality opera performances to audience members of all ages. IOB also provides educational outreach to area schools and communities. •

Soon, this naïve newbie falls prey to a trio of lionized frenemies led by the charming but ruthless Regina George. But when Cady devises a plan to end Regina's reign, she learns the hard way that you can't cross a Queen Bee without getting

Random Acts, Symphony join for illuminating family parade

Everyone is welcome to attend the Winter Bloom Lantern Parade, Bozeman's free lantern parade celebrating creativity, community and magic. It will be held on Saturday evening, February 10th, at Gallatin Regional Park. The event is led by Random Acts of Silliness with music by the Bozeman Symphony.

The public is also welcome to line the parade route to watch the brilliance of beautiful handmade lanterns made by Gallatin Valley artists, Montana State University art students, and area residents wind through the night and spark joy. The procession will include music from Bozeman's Symphonic Choir and members of the Greater Yellowstone Threshold Choir.

Other event sponsors include Design.5 Landscape Architecture and Sarah Day. In case of extreme cold or high winds, the parade will take place on Saturday, Feb. 17th.

Doc Series profiles Cuban music students

On Thursday, February 1st, at the Emerson Center for the Arts & Culture, the Bozeman Doc Series continues with the Montana premiere of the new documentary from Oscar-winning filmmakers Rob Epstein and Jeffrey Friedman, Musica!. The film screens at 7pm.

Friedman and Epstein have become treasured musicologists, first with their loving biography Linda Ronstadt: The Sound of My Voice (2019) and then with Taylor Mac's 24-decade History of Popular Music (2022). Now, they turn their cameras towards Cuba, profiling four students at the Amadeo Roldan Conservatory. Though it has long been the nation's most prestigious music school in a music-crazy nation, the conservatory struggles to maintain instruments for their students. Enter Horns to Havana, a New York-based initiative that brings parts and instrument-repair expertise to the island. Epstein and Friedman spent four years following four recipients of Horns to Havana instruments: Kevin, Lili, Rodrigo and Dariana. Though they come from widely divergent backgrounds, each shares a driving ambition to grow as a musician, even as daily life in Cuba becomes more challenging.

Musica! world-premiered at the recent Telluride Film Festival.

"This film is about the importance of music and art in people's lives and how it can give meaning and purpose to our lives, and you can really see it in these young musicians who are so devoted to their craft. There are great connections to Cuban music and New Orleans music, and we try to reflect that in the film," Friedman said.

"Joyful... an intimate portrait of some remarkable formative talents." – Mill Valley Film Festival

Doors open at 6:30pm. Tickets are available at the door or in advance at www.bozemandocseries.org, where you can also buy Season Passes and 7-film punch cards, learn more about the series and view trailers for upcoming films. The series will continue every other week through April. •

Armory hosts Bozeman return of funky bluegrassers

The Armory Music Hall and Electric River Presents are pleased to announce Dustbowl Revival along with special local guests Trout Basket performing in Bozeman on Saturday, February 17th. The rip-roaring night of funk, soul and bluegrass begins at 8pm.

Dustbowl Revival has always been about pushing the boundaries of what American roots music can be. After celebrating over a decade of sonic adventuring and playing thousands of shows together in ten countries and counting, the group collected a devoted fan base coast-to-coast. After throwing five of their own virtual Sway-At-Home festivals during the shut-down featuring nearly forty artists, the always evolving group of string and brass players led by founding members Z. Lupetin, Josh Heffernan and Ulf Bjorlin are excited to welcome a new wave of talent to the band, after emerging from a pandemic touring hiatus.

After spending years on the road, selling out hometown shows at LA's famed Troubadour, headlining festivals and wowing crowds from Denmark to China, Dustbowl Revival never stopped making their joyful, booty-shaking soul songs and cut-to-heart folk-rock ballads that lift up their transcendent live shows. Even so, with the bands emotional new single "Beside You" and 2020's ambitious full length Is It You, Is It Me, they wanted to strike into new terrain. As they mined new energetic material from the place where folk and funk music meet, they teamed up with producer Sam Kassirer (Lake Street Dive, Josh Ritter) and engineer Brian Joseph (Bon Iver, Sufjan Stevens). The latest album strikes a more personal note than ever before, representing the latest stage in a band that never stops exploring new sounds.

With a big brass-and-strings band building around the voices, Is It You, Is It Me isn't afraid to explore the personal and political tension that the group may have shed away from facing before. The album tackles uneasy topics, often where the political feels personal, especially in the defiant "Get Rid of You," which was inspired by the student activists who emerged from the tragic Parkland High School shooting in Florida. Where the band really sets on a new course is on lushly cinematic, orchestrated set pieces like "Mirror," "Runaway" and, most notably, the current fan favorite and live showstopper "Sonic Boom," about the struggle to reveal who you really are in the hidden, rose-colored world of social media. There's a new widescreen expansiveness to these songs that wouldn't be out of place in a packed arena or orchestra hall with a full neon light show. Acting like a nimble rock orchestra, during the recording process, each member played multiple instruments, and the group brought in new musicians on symphonic brass, and local friends to sing as a spur-of-the-moment choir.

If one thing is clear, Is It You, Is It Me represents another large leap forward for Dustbowl Revival, coming after their acclaimed self-titled 2017 album. Produced by Grammy-winner Ted Hutt (Old Crow Medicine Show, Drop Kick Murphy's), it transitioned the group from a "roots dance party band" that continues to thrive on the festival circuit, to a nuanced ensemble embracing more soulful territory without losing their original fire. That self-titled record was a direct bridge to the newest work, rising to number one on the Amazon Americana chart and featuring a funky favorite "Honey I Love You" where the band joyfully teams up with blues master Keb Mo'. Their heartache folk number "Got Over" surprised the band by racking up over seven million streams and counting online. "Beside You" stayed in the Americana charts for months and "Enemy" became a staple on SiriusXM, especially during the 2020 election. To top it off, Billboard Magazine added that Is It You, Is It Me is "the biggest sonic work of the Venice, Calif.-based troupe's career."

Dustbowl Revival's story started humbly. Nearly thirteen years ago Z. Lupetin, a Chicago native who attended college in Michigan came to L.A. to be a screenwriter, grew disillusioned with his job in advertising, and placed a hopeful ad on Craigslist. He sought to find fellow musicians who shared his roving love of Louis Armstrong, Bob Wills, Old Crow Medicine Show, Paul Simon, Aretha Franklin and the brass bands of New Orleans, but also wanted to write songs like Americana pioneers Wilco, Lucinda Williams and even Bruce Springsteen.

"Maybe we don't know where this journey will take us or how long it will last," acknowledges Lupetin, "That's my take on the importance of what we try to do. Music elevates us, lifts us up, makes us change our minds, takes us out of our comfort zones. If just one person can be moved by just one song, that's enough."

Armory Music Hall tickets are available for $35 in advance or $50 at the door. This is a 21+ show. A complete list of upcoming performances and ticketing access is available at [www.armorymusic hall.com](http://www.armorymusic hall.com). •

Symphony's next showcases Beethoven, Ravel

The Bozeman Symphony's third classical concert performance of the 2023-24 season, "Norman Conducts Beethoven's Symphony No. 3," late this month. Performances will be held on Saturday, February 24th, at 7:30pm and Sunday, February 25th, at 2:30pm. Both will be held at the Willson Auditorium in Downtown Bozeman with pre-concert talks scheduled to begin one hour prior.

The programs features Beethoven's Symphony No. 3 "Eroica," considered to be one of the groundbreaking musical events of the 19th century, and guest pianist Rodolfo Leone performing Ravel's Piano Concerto in G major.

Classical music fans are invited to watch Music Director Norman Huynh's interpretation of Beethoven's Symphony No. 3 in E-flat major "Eroica." Conveying both turmoil and triumph, this piece is known as a crucial turning point for both Beethoven and symphonic composition, which was pivotal in the transition from the Classical period to the Romantic Period. The one-two punch of Eroica's opening Chords is followed by the solemn, majestic Marcia funebre (funeral march). The buoyant Scherzo departs from the intensity of the previous two movements, and the final movement uses music from Beethoven's own Overture to the ballet, The Creatures of Prometheus.

Renowned pianist Rodolfo Leone returns to Bozeman to perform Maurice Ravel's "lighthearted and brilliant" Piano Concerto in G major. Described as a true sound philosopher, the Italian-born pianist is a top prize winner of several major piano competitions. He made his orchestral debut in 2013 and has performed extensively with numerous orchestras throughout Europe, North America and China. Leone is currently based in Los Angeles where he earned both a Master of Music degree and an Artist Diploma at the Colburn Conservatory of Music.

Ravel's Piano Concerto in G major begins with Allegrement, opening with a slapstick snap, a jaunty piccolo and a bright, bouncy trumpet. Although present in the background from the opening bars, the piano makes its first solo declaration with a languid, bluesy melody. Throughout the first movement, rapid-fire bursts of energy are alternated with rhapsodic, jazz-influenced episodes. The serenity of the Adagio assai belies the tremendous effort it requires from the pianist. A snappy snare drum roll announces the Presto, a return to the jazzy energy of the Allegrement.

Performances will be held on Feb. 24th at 7:30pm and Feb. 25th at 2:30pm, at the Willson Auditorium in Downtown Bozeman. Individual tickets are available for purchase online at www.bozemansymphony.org or by phone at (406) 585-9774. Tickets at the door based on availability. Adult tickets begin at $29 with student-discounted tickets available.

Performances would not be possible without the support of sponsors Cal and Tricia DeSouza, Kimberlie and Bruce Jodar, Barbara and Ben Phinney, Ken and Mary May, and Sharon Eversman. •

Ellen welcomes Int’l Guitar Night, Paula Poundstone

Host to stage and screen entertainment of all varieties, Downtown Bozeman’s Ellen Theatre is also a great place to catch a show by touring musical acts and more. Here’s a look at who’s coming up this month.

Next up is the return of International Guitar Night, featuring an eclectic lineup of tune-smiths. The concert will be held on Wednesday, February 7th, with the music set to begin at 7:30pm. All seats are $34.

Celebrating its 24th outing, this year’s lineup features acoustic rock interpreter Luca Stricagnoli (Italy), award-winning classical guitarist Le THU (Vietnam), composer, guitarist and professor Marco Pereira (Brazil), and blues slide guitarist and vocalist Minnie Marks (Australia).

“International Guitar Night is an annual event that never disappoints,” says Ellen Executive Director John Ludin. “In fact, throughout the year, patrons often ask, ‘When are they coming back?’ If you’ve never seen IGN, this is a gathering of four amazingly gifted guitarists, each incredibly talented who captivate on their own and then blow away the audience when they perform together.”

Take in a night of fabulous live comedy courtesy of Paula Poundstone on Saturday, February 17th. The famed comic’s set begins at 8pm. All seats are $44.

Poundstone is known for her smart, observational humor and legendary spontaneous wit. She is the star of several HBO specials, including Cats, Cops and Stuff and Paula Poundstone Goes to Harvard. She is a regular panelist on NPR’s comedy news quiz, “Wait Wait... Don’t Tell Me!” and is heard weekly on her successful comedy podcast,

Nobody Listens to Paula Poundstone. Also an author, Poundstone’s awards and accolades make a long list, being included in innumerable documentaries and literary compendiums noting influential comedians of our time.

Enjoy a leap-year performance by the MozART Group on Thursday, February 29th. The energizing quartet will take the stage at 7:30pm. All seats are $48.

All four members are well educated instrumentalists who graduated from prestigious Academies of Music in Warsaw and ódz, but decided to play classical music in a humorous way. The MozART group created a worldwide unique musical cabaret, where the music – not the words – are the source of joy and laugh. Take a classical composition as canvas, analyze its structure and theme, surround it with musical associations, brilliant, outstanding ideas and while listening to the final product the listener is constantly surprised, amazed, laughing and moved to tears.

“We exist despite the sober formality of great concert halls, despite the boredom of classical musicians’ life, despite fanatic lovers of classical music, despite fans of rock, rap or pop who are afraid of classical music. We treat our Muse with a humorous irony and we’re sure, she will have nothing against it!” – MozART group

Looking to a new month, Damn Tall Buildings are set for a Friday, March 1st show. Visiting from New York, the music will begin at 7:30pm. All seats are $24.

In their early days, the Brooklyn-based project didn’t rehearse – they busked. Now, whether live or on record, the band still radiates the energy of a ragtag crew of music students playing bluegrass on the street. But anchoring that energy is their instrumental chops, their strong songwriting, and their varied influences that stretch beyond bluegrass, even beyond American roots music altogether. Whether sharing lead vocals and instrumental solos or blending their voices into loose, joyous harmony, the four members of Damn Tall Buildings blend elements of bluegrass, blues, roots-rock, and vintage swing to create a captivating, high-energy sound.

Wine, beer and concessions will be sold in the lobby one hour before the show. Ticketing and further information about other upcoming happenings is available at www.theellentheatre.org. For additional inquiries, call the box office at (406) 585-5885. •

MSU hosts 3rd-annual campus Rail Jam

The Associated Students of Montana State University are partnering with the Bridger Ski Foundation, Bridger Bowl and Rockstar Energy to host the third annual MSU Campus Rail Jam on Saturday, February 3rd, from 5–9pm. The event will take place at a new location – the Dobbie Lambert Turf Complex north of West Lincoln Street and east of S 19th Ave. The event is free and open to the public.

“This is a slopestyle event,” said Chris Pruden, leadership and engagement program manager for the Office of Student Engagement.

“Think about a miniature version of a terrain park at a ski hill on campus.”

The competition is open to the MSU and Bozeman communities. Competitors are chosen based on submitted videos demonstrating athletes’ abilities to navigate a course.

This year, the event will feature activities and attractions, including a T-shirt craft station sponsored by the MSU Bookstore, beverage giveaways by Rockstar Energy, raffles, food trucks and presentations by student organizations.

“This is a fully local event,” said

Pruden. “We are using the expertise and enthusiasm from our community partners like Bridger Bowl and the Bridger Ski Foundation.”

Other sponsors include World Boards, Stronghold Fabrication, the MSU Residence Hall Association and Stio.

MSU students and community members can register to compete by visiting the 2024 rail jam application form, accessible at <http://www.montana.edu/news/23424>.

Take plunge in benefit of Special Olympics MT

Get out into the snowy elements in support of Montana’s Special Olympics athletes with a harsh dip into icy winter waters! The annual President’s Polar Plunge will take place Saturday, February 17th at Glen Lake Rotary Park, just off Manley Road.

Sponsored by a number of local businesses and community members, plungers will take to the glacial waters at 1pm. Check-in will be held from 11:30am–12:30pm. Note: There is NO parking at the Recreation Area. Please arrange a drop-off or take the provided shuttle service. Thousands of plungers have raised nearly $350,000 annually with these statewide events. Let’s take this haul to the next level!

Attendees need not submerge themselves should they still like to offer their support on the sidelines while observing daring members of the community freeze for a purpose. The event is meant to band people together from this and neighboring communities in an effort to raise awareness. The Plunge entertains, while advocating for and representing the place we all call home.

Questions? Visit go.somt.org/presidentsplunge24 for registration and additional event information.

Special Olympics Montana is a nonprofit organization determined to provide year-round sports training and athletic competition in a variety of Olympic-type sports for children and adults with intellectual disabilities, giving them continuing opportunities to develop physical fitness, demonstrate courage, experience joy, and participate in a sharing of gifts, skills, and friendship with their families, other Special Olympics athletes, and the community.

Science talk explores altitude’s impact on research

Continuing its popular lecture series, Gallatin Valley Friends of the Sciences presents an always interesting discussion this month. Co-sponsored by Museum of the Rockies and Hopa Mountain, the second talk of the season is set for Wednesday, February 21st.

“Science at High Altitude” will begin at 6pm. It will be held in MOR’s Hager Auditorium.

How has the sport of mountaineering fundamentally transformed scientific knowledge? Dr. Michael Reidy, a historian of science and Chair of the Department of History & Philosophy at MSU, will discuss how the advent of mountaineering in the nineteenth century helped direct the sciences of evolution, geology and meteorology by turning mountains into vertical laboratories. He will explain how the relationship between mountaineering and science continues to direct the understanding of ecology, high-altitude physiology and climate science, and how MSU and the Bozeman community are contributing to exciting developments.

The informative talks will be presented in person on select Wednesdays this winter and into spring. The presentations are free and open to the public, with seating on a first-come, first-served basis. Face masks are recommended but not required.

Find Gallatin Valley Friends of the Sciences on social media or visit www.gallatinscience.org for additional details and information about future talks. The nonprofit was established in 2017 to explore cutting edge science topics, their latest developments, and their relevance to society.
