LFS highlights Yellowstone wolves with Q&A

The Livingston Film Series is delighted to present a special screening of Yellowstonebased documentary Mollie's Pack on Thursday, March 13th. The film begins at 7pm at the Shane Lalani Center for the Arts.

On January 12, 1995, wolves returned to Yellowstone 50 years after their extirpation. Mollie Beattie, the first female director of the US Fish & Wildlife Service, carried the first Canadian born wolf, Alpha Female Wolf No. 5, into the Park's experimental acclimation enclosure. From that day forward, their lives would be forever connected. This is the true story of Mollie's Pack.

Mollie's Pack is a thrilling feature documentary derived from primary 16mm film footage - recovered and restored for the first time and in-depth interviews with the key players at the center of the historic Yellowstone Wolf reintroduction. The narrative follows the eternally interconnected stories of Mollie Beattie and Wolf #5.

Beattie's unprecedented journey included a brief stint as a fashion model in New York and a life-changing Outward Bound expedition that inspired her to pursue a career in environmental science and conservation. In January 1995, she initiated the reintroduction of wolves to Yellowstone, one of the most controversial and ambitious wildlife restoration projects in recorded human history. It was a "Grand Experiment."

Enjoy a post-film discussion with Doug Smith, Yellowstone Park Wolf Project Manager and film participant.

Continuing its latest season of screening independent features, documentaries, local films and vintage classics, doors open at 6:30pm with screenings to follow at 7pm. Admission is free, but donations are gratefully accepted. Concessions available. For more information, please visit www.theshanecen-

Shane presents abso-bloomin'lutely loverly musical

Local thespians are on stage in Livingston this month with a trip to 1912 London. The Shane Lalani Center for the Arts presents a production of Lerner and Loewe's My Fair Lady through March 23rd.

Hailed by critics and audiences for its heart and its wit, My Fair Lady is a beautiful musical about transformation, patronage, gender politics and class, based on George Bernard Shaw's play, Pygmalion.

My Fair Lady is a true classic by which all other musicals are measured. The tale of a low-class flower girl transformed into an elegant society lady features one of musical theatre's greatest scores, including "Wouldn't It Be Loverly?," "The Rain in Spain," "I Could Have Danced All Night," "On the Street Where You Live" and many more.

Eliza Doolittle is a young flower seller with a thick Cockney accent which keeps her in the lowest rungs of Edwardian society. When professor (and committed crank) Henry Higgins tries to teach her how to speak like a proper lady, an unlikely friendship begins to blossom.

My Fair Lady runs weekends through March 23rd. Performances take place in the Dulcie Theatre. Show times are Fridays and Saturdays at 7:30pm, with Sunday matinees to follow at 3pm. An additional 7:30pm performance will be held March 20th. Tickets are on sale now. Make reservations through www.theshanecenter.org or call the box office at (406) 222-1420.

My Fair Lady is generously sponsored by Paradise Flowers, State Farm's Dan Rust and Sarah Skofield, and Dale Hopkins of the Kitchen Shop. •

Blue Slipper stages seaside character study

Livingston's Blue Slipper Theatre presents the next production of its new season with Harold Pinter's Old Times this month. Performances are set for March 7th–16th. Friday and Saturday shows will begin at 8pm, with Sunday matinees to follow at 3pm. The local production is directed by Marc Beaudin.

Its story features only three characters: Deeley, Kate and Anna – played by Hugh Kinslow, Valerie Kinley and Sherry Pikul, respectively. On the surface, Old Times offers the simple premise that Anna has come from Italy to visit an old friend Kate, and her husband Deeley in their house by the sea. Yet almost from the beginning there are tensions between the three characters, and an apparent contest for Kate's affection.

While hostilities are rarely overtly expressed, the characters seem to be locked in a struggle for power which reaches back in to the past. Through conversations and reminiscences, their histories and personalities are exposed, but it seems unlikely that everything we hear is accurate, particularly as many of the accounts contradict each other. The question arises about whose memories are actually true.

Tickets for Old Times are $20 or $15 for students/seniors (plus fees) and are available at www.blueslipper.org. Seating at the Blue Slipper, located at 113 E Callender St, is limited. Please call (406) 222-7720 for more infor-

Ellen silver screenings distract from seasonal thaw

Downtown Bozeman's Ellen Theatre will present a number of upcoming film screenings of the classic and family favorite variety this month. Gather friends and loved ones for some popcorn and the following endearing titles.

First up is the extended edition of The Lord of the Rings: The Two Towers at 7:30pm on March 14th.

Picking up where The Fellowship of the Ring left off, The Two Towers plunges you deeper into the heart of the epic struggle against the dark lord Sauron. As the Fellowship is fractured, Frodo (Elijah Wood) and Sam (Sean Astin) continue their perilous quest to destroy the One Ring, guided by the treacherous Gollum. Meanwhile, Aragorn (Viggo Mortensen), Legolas, and Gimli find themselves amidst the war-torn kingdom of Rohan, where King Théoden has fallen under the influence of the sinister Saruman.

A film Trivia Night follows on March 15th with a screening of Dune at 7:30pm.

Follow Paul Atreides (Timothée Chalamet). a gifted heir to a powerful legacy, as he ventures to a treacherous desert world where destiny, betraval and war collide. With the universe's most coveted resource at stake, survival demands courage, strategy and the power to conquer fear. Witness the breathtaking battle for Arrakis - where legends are forged and the fate of civilizations hangs in the balance.

On March 21st, enjoy the extended edition of The Lord of the Rings: The Return of the King at 7:30pm.

This cinematic masterpiece, based on J.R.R. Tolkien's timeless classic, brings the battle for Middle-earth to its breathtaking climax. Witness Frodo and Sam's perilous journey into the heart of Mordor as they struggle to destroy the One Ring, while Aragorn leads the desperate defense of Minas Tirith against the overwhelming forces of Sauron. This extended version offers even more of the stunning visuals, intricate storytelling and emotional depth that made the Lord of the Rings a cinematic legend. Acclaimed classic Lawrence of Arabia screens on March 23rd at 2pm.

The epic of all epics, released in 1962, the film cements director David Lean's status in the filmmaking pantheon with 3 hours and 47 minutes of grand scope, brilliant performances, and beautiful cinematography. The all-star cast includes Peter O'Toole, Anthony Quinn and

All seats for these films are $9.50. Wine, beer and concessions will be sold in the lobby one hour before each event. Ticketing and further information about these and other upcoming happenings is available at www.theellentheatre.org. For additional inquiries, call the box office at (406) 585-5885.

MSU celebrates Women's History Month

The Montana State University Women's Center is pleased to announce the second annual Wikipedia Edit-Thon: Women in Montana on Tuesday, March 4th. Co-sponsored by a number of university departments, the event will be held from 10am-4pm in Renee Library.

This is a powerful way to invest students in information literacy and contributing to citizen research programs. This year's theme will be used to highlight women on Wikipedia and bring attention to those who have contributed to Montana's history, humanities, agriculture, computer science, engineering, medicine and art. This year's edit-a-thon will be conference style with speakers, panels and editing instruction segments throughout the day. Participants can join for as many sessions as they like.

Following on Wednesday, March 5th, the Women's Center will present a Sack Lunch Seminar in celebration of International Women's Day. The event will be held from noon-1pm in the SUB Legacy Lounge.

Join students from around the world as they share their cultural celebrations and recognition of International Women's Day as well as their experiences living in the United States and attending MSU.

Sack Lunch Seminar "Disparities in Access to Healthcare for Indigenous Women in Montana" will be held on Wednesday, March 12th. It will be held from noon-1pm in the SUB Legacy Lounge.

Dr Maggie Thorsen, Associate Professor of

Sociology, will speak about the limited and unequal access to maternal health care in the United States, particularly for rural and Indigenous people. In this talk she will share insights from her research on Montana and findings from across the United States, to highlight the ongoing barriers to and facilitators of accessing care during pregnancy and childbirth, as well as the health implications of limited maternal health care for women and communities. 'Unruly Women: Policing the Female Body - Then & Now" is set for Wednesday, March 26th. The seminar will be held from noon-1pm in SUB 168.

Throughout history, women have had to fight for bodily autonomy and basic human rights. After so much effort and sacrifice, why does misogyny remain? Why has access to reproductive care been once again restricted? Why does violence against women persist despite repeated generational movements? Join Associate Professor, Jennifer Hill, as she explores the lives of past and present Montana women, providing insight into the systems supporting misogyny and the multiple ways women have continued to resist these violations over time.

The MSU Women's Center is a department in the division of Student Success and was created to promote greater responsiveness to the needs of university women. Lectures are FREE and open to the public. For more information about these and other events, visit www.montana.edu/women. •

Macdonald's riveting documentary takes that

Doc Series profiles brown bears, Lennon & Ono

On Thursday, March 6th, at the Emerson Center for the Arts & Culture, the Bozeman Doc Series continues with the critically acclaimed new documentary, The Shepherd and the Bear. The film screens at 7pm.

Set high in the majestic French Pyrenees, the documentary explores a conflict provoked by the reintroduction of brown bears in the midst of a traditional shepherding community. The film follows an aging shepherd who struggles to find a successor as bears prey on his flock, and a teenage boy who becomes obsessed with tracking the bears. Through its breathtaking cinematography and immersive storytelling, The Shepherd and the Bear is a modern folktale about tradition, community and humanity's relationship with a vanishing natural world.

"Lyrical, visually and aurally ravishing... Balances its sympathy for mountain folk with an ecological vision that is wordlessly embedded in every shot." - Screen Daily

"A richly satisfying reminder of the power of longitudinal verite" - Filmmaker Magazine

Following on Thursday, March 27th, at the Emerson, the Doc Series proudly presents the Montana premiere of the critically acclaimed new documentary, One to One: John & Yoko. The film screens at 7pm.

On August 30, 1972, in New York City. John Lennon played his only full-length show after leaving The Beatles, the "One to One"

benefit concert at Madison Square Garden, a

Yoko Ono. Oscar-winning filmmaker Kevin rollicking, dazzling performance from him and legendary musical event and uses it as the starting point to explore eighteen defining months in the lives of John and Yoko. By 1971 the couple was newly arrived in the United States - living in a tiny apartment in Greenwich Village and watching a huge amount of American television. The film uses a riotous mélange of American TV to conjure the era through what the two would have been seeing on the screen: the Vietnam War, The Price is Right, Nixon, Coca-Cola ads, Cronkite,

The Waltons. As they experience a year of love and transformation in the US, John and Yoko begin to change their approach to protest – ultimately leading to the "One to One" concert, which was inspired by a Geraldo Rivera exposé they watched on TV. Filmed in a meticulously faithful reproduction of the NYC apartment the duo shared, One to One: John & Yoko offers a bold new take on a seminal time in the lives of two of history's most influential artists. 'Revelatory... I've seen documentaries reveal fascinating dimensions of John Lennon, but One to One: John & Yoko, may be the most accomplished and arresting of these tightly angled Lennon profiles... the rare rock doc that's a must-see." - Variety

Doors open at 6:30pm. Tickets are available at the door or before the show online at www.bozemandocseries.org, where you can also buy Season Passes and 7-film punch cards, learn more about the series, and view trailers for upcoming films. The series will continue every other Thursday through April. •

MSU symposium addresses future of Al research

From MSU News Service

Exploring the possibilities and challenges of large-scale research in the age of artificial intelligence and machine learning will be the focus of a conference co-hosted by Montana State University on March 27th-28th in Bozeman.

"The Future of Research in the Age of AI" is the first of three symposia being held by the American Historical Association in 2025. William Thomas, dean of MSU's College of Letters and Science and vice president of AHA's research division, said the conference will showcase largescale research by eminent scholars and provide an opportunity for participants to learn how to successfully conduct research with new technologies and techniques.

The conference is free and open to anyone with an interest in large-scale research. Registration is "Large-scale research is on a scale that no single scholar on their own can accomplish," said Thomas, a professor of history. "In my field, large-scale research is becoming increasingly prevalent because historical data, such as emails and legal records and other social and cultural records like social media posts, are themselves massive. We're not organized yet as scholars to work with this scale of material, and we need to be."

John Paxton, director of MSU's Gianforte School of

Gallatin Valley Circle of Computing, said the conference will help researchers develop the skills they need to leverage technology more effectively.

"As the volume of humanitiesrelated data continues to rapidly increase, humanities scholars need an understanding of artificial intelligence, as well as the ability to utilize high-performance computers in order to conduct research," Paxton said.

At MSU, the Research Cyberinfrastructure Core Facility provides centralized support, systems and services for researchers who have high-performance computing needs.

Conference presenters include some of the nation's leading historians in research, Thomas said. They are:

Thavolia Glymph, Peabody Family Distinguished Service Professor at Duke University and former president of the American Historical Association

- Lauren Tilton, E. Claiborne Robins Professor of Liberal Arts and Digital Humanities at the University of Richmond

Matthew Connelly, professor of history at Columbia University

Katrina Jagodinsky, associate professor of history at the University of Nebraska-Lincoln Walter Hawthorne, professor of African and digital history, and both at Michigan State University Loren Moulds, assistant professor at the University of Virginia Law Library.

MSU faculty will serve as panelists or moderators at the conference, including professor Clemente Izurieta, assistant professor Ann Marie Reinhold and Distinguished Professor John Sheppard of the Gianforte School of Computing; Cat Dale, associate professor in the School of Film and Photography; Michelle Miley, director of the Writing Center and associate dean of the College of Letters and Science; Cascade Tuholske, assistant professor in the Department of Earth Sciences; and Kristen Internann, director of the Center for Science, Technology, Ethics and Society. Thomas and Sarah Weicksel, incoming executive director of the American Historical Association, will open and participate in sessions throughout the conference.

In addition to the College of Letters and Science, the symposium is co-sponsored by MSU's Norm Asbjornson College of Engineering, College of Arts and Architecture, Gianforte School of Computing, Buffalo Nations Food Systems Initiative, Center for Faculty Excellence, Museum of the Rockies and the MSU Library.

More information and a full schedule of events is available at www.montana.edu/lettersandscience/future-ofresearch-in-age-of-ai/. •

Fairgrounds host to community garage sale

A plentiful winter with abundant snowfall may suggest otherwise, but the days of spring cleaning are quickly approaching. Locals are already getting a head start in preparation of one of Bozeman's favorite springtime events - Garagarama! There's no better place to find hidden treasures and new-to-you wares than this community consignment sale.

The Optimist Club of Bozeman will present the annual event at the Gallatin County Fairgrounds on Saturday, April 5th from 8am-3pm. This yearly sale features an array of garage sale booths as well as breakfast and lunch available for purchase. As it has in years past, the event will feature a silent auction with great items from local vendors. The day of will include raffles, great food and family fun! All this for a nominal admission with ALL proceeds benefitting local youth.

If you'd like to show your support by donating items to the Optimists' annual garage sale extraordinaire or are interested in available booth space, please call (406) 599-3535.

Donations include furniture, household items and garage items, but does not include mattresses, tires and most appliances. Pick-ups available on a case-by-case basis. On April 5th, head down and support our community's kids while finding a ton of fantastic deals in the process! Visit www.optimistclubofbozeman.org for additional details. Be sure to follow on Facebook for updated event information. The Optimist Club of Bozeman is an area nonprofit and "friend of youth," devoting its time and energy to raising funds for local youth groups, organizing youth-oriented community events, and giving out non-traditional student scholarships and sports gear scholarships. Chartered in 1947, the Bozeman Optimist Club holds two major fundraising activities – its annual Christmas tree sales and Garagarama. Monies raised support a number of local organizations and activities that directly benefit area youth. •

HUGE VARIETY OF

GVCC conference explores life's final journey

Compassion invites community members to participate in their annual conference, Mountains of Courage: Conversations on Death & Dying. The single-day conference is designed to explore the end of life journey by providing a relaxed setting for individuals and caregivers to discover available resources, tools and information. The conference will be held on Saturday, March 29th, at the Hilton Garden Inn from 9am-4pm. Early registration is encouraged as space is limited. The registration fee includes lunch. Doors open at Presenters and panelists will include health professionals, spiritual counselors, social workers, community support services and caregivers. Participants will have the opportunity to explore practical issues, emotions, myths and traditions and learn how to shift the current paradigm. They will learn about practical tools and resources to assist in making informed decisions when faced with end of life

Keynote speaker Michael Fratkin, MD, FAAHPM will present "Humility & Healing: How Psychedelic Assisted Therapy May Address Demoralization in Palliative & End-of-Life Care." Dr. Fratkin, a compassionate palliative care pioneer, offers profound insights into navigating the emotional and spiritual challenges of serious illness, grief and approaching death. His work inspires a more thoughtful and healing approach to this often-overlooked part of life. Other presenters include

Suzanne O'Brien, leading a discussion about how to have a good death while reviewing her new book, The Good Death. Lorca Smetana will present 'Human Resilience - Where Grief Wants to Meet Us.' Join in-person and virtually as event hosts and participants courageously explore this important journey together.

The host for the conference is Gallatin Valley Circle of Compassion (GVCC), a volunteer group of local community members who are professionally and/or personally touched by the human experience of death and dying. Their mission is to connect, educate and support our community on matters related to death and dying. GVCC's intention for the conference is that participants will feel empowerment, courage, a sense of calm and confidence, and the ultimate realization that one does not have to be alone on this Conference fees are $80 with VIP packages also on sale. Lunch is included in the cost. CEUs are available. Workshop information, additional conference details, and registration are available at www.gallatinvalleycircleofcompassion.org. •

Pine Creek shows don't disappoint with featured audience faves

While the outdoor stage continues to thaw, popular local venue Pine Creek Lodge plays host to a number of shows for those looking to visit their favorite venue as the snow melts. Events are still indoors but the music is as enjoyable as ever.

North Fork Crossing bring back-to-back performances on March 7th and 8th. Their genre resides somewhere in a strange untapped musical realm between traditional bluegrass, psychedelic rock, Americana and folk. The quintet are drawn to bluegrass reaching a younger generation, priding themselves on their unique sound being the "evolution of string band music."

Check out the Max Davies Trio on March 14th. These three are no strangers to the stages of Bozeman and Livingston and are ready to perform some quality control in Paradise. Enjoy an evening of music with members of Kitchen Dwellers, Matt Wallin & His Nervous Breakdown, and Pinky & the Floyd.

Performing March 15th is Missoula's Blue Point. The group brings together elements of traditional bluegrass, old-time and Americana with harmony-driven tunes. Their repertoire includes everything from traditional bluegrass cannon, to originals that stem from those deep places within the human condition we all know and feel.

The Sleepless Elite return to the Lodge for a March 21st show. The duo-turned-foursome has inspiration rooted in musical theater, and the sound of artists like Paramore and Blondie, Blink-182 and the Strokes. Their unique sound can be heard on their latest full-length, Still Dreaming, and new short-form release, The B.C. EP.

Showing off her talents on March 22nd is Lena Schiffer. She's a folk singer and songwriter known for her decade-long journey with bluegrass group, Laney Lou & the Bird Dogs. She is driven by a distinctive fusion of folk, indie and Americana influences.

Advance tickets for these shows are available now, but space is limited. All music begins at 7pm. Please visit www.pinecreeklodgemontana.com to learn more about these and other upcoming off-sea-

WMPAC presents engaging stage entertainment

Big Sky's Warren Miller Performing Arts Center offers Southwest Montana audiences plenty of opportunities to experience live stage entertainment this winter season.

Next up is the throat-singing Alash Ensemble on March 4th. Masters of Tuvan throat singing, a remarkable technique for singing multiple pitches at the same time, they're also masters of traditional Tuvan instruments. They are deeply committed to traditional Tuvan music and culture, and at the same time they are fans of western music. Believing that traditional music must constantly evolve, these talented musicians subtly infuse their songs with western elements, creating their own unique style that is fresh and new but still true to their Tuvan musical heritage.

Following on March 8th is a performance by James Sewell Ballet. The visionary creation of Sally Rousse and James Sewell has redefined contemporary ballet for more than three decades. This final performance marks over ten years of captivating WMPAC audiences with a unique blend of classical ballet's elegance, modern dance's freedom and vaudeville's innovative spirit.

Piano duo Anderson & Roe perform on March 16th. Known for their adrenalized performances, original compositions and innovative music videos, Greg Anderson and Elizabeth Joy Roe are reshaping the piano duo experience for the 21st century. They bring their signature style to Big Sky that the Miami Herald describes as "rock stars of the classical music world." The duo aims to make classical music a relevant and powerful force globally, captivating audiences with each performance.

Enjoy percussive dance and cultural performance by Step Afrika! on March 22nd. Fusing explosive footwork, vibrant choreography and contemporary African movement, their performances are unforgettable. Drawing from percussive dance styles of historically African American fraternities and sororities, traditional African dances and modern dance forms, each show becomes a powerful blend of rhythm, storytelling and community. With interactive elements that include songs, humor and audience participation, every performance is unique and filled with boundless energy.

All events begin at 7:30pm. For further information or to purchase tickets for these performances and other upcoming events, visit

Bridger brews up suds paired with weekly musician sets

While the masses await the next lineup for Bridger Brewing's outdoor amphitheater, their Bozeman and Three Forks locations continue to host musician nights this winter. Here's a look at who's performing in the coming weeks.

Bozeman Shows

First up is Jack Ooster on March 5th. Playing a mix of atmospheric folk, soul, blues and jazz, the local musician blends multiple genres to create a sound that is truly his own.

Jacob Rountree follows on March 12th. The alternative/indie songwriter is contemplative vet playful, with a lyric-forward style reflective of his love for philosophy, poetry and quantum physics. His contagious soul presents itself through raw vocals of impressive range and beautiful timbre, mesmerizing percussive finger-style guitar and a balance of catchy yet complex, polyrhythms.

Catch a solo set by Jack Gilk on March 19th. The Montana guitarist will perform a selection of Americana and country tunes for the midweek audience.

Brendan Nolan takes the stage March 26th. The Montana musician performs a wide variety of blues, rock and country. His catalog features Delta-style blues dobro guitar, as well as traditional sixstring instruments with a mixture of covers and original material.

Three Forks Shows

Entertaining on March 6th is Brendan Nolan. He performs a wide variety of blues, rock and country. His catalog features Deltastyle blues dobro guitar, as well as traditional six-string instruments with a mixture of covers and original material.

Marcedes Carroll entertains March 13th. She brings a variety of flavor to her live shows, performing tunes ranging from Turnpike Troubadours to Ella Fitzgerald to Led Zeppelin, along with plenty of originals. She released new album, We Lost Track of the Stars, last year.

Three Eyed Jack guitarist Mike Killeen brings a show on March 20th. Expect an evening of classic and country rock, as well as some hand-picked originals.

Soulful Americana bluegrass band Jody & the Woodflowers follow on March 27th. Blending heartfelt vocals with rich instrumentation to create a timeless sound, their repertoire spans sweet, haunting ballads, early American country harmonies, love songs, as well as lively fiddle tunes and instrumentals. They draw influence from folk traditions and modern Americana greats like Alison Krauss and Gillian Welch.

Bozeman music begins at 5:30pm, and 6pm in Three Forks. Bridger Brewing provides the Gallatin Valley community with unique hand-crafted brews, fresh artisan-style pizzas, as well as a full menu of protein-rich entrées exclusive to the Three Forks location. Find a current tap list and food menus at www.bridgerbrewing.com. •

Pinky pays double tribute to fallen member

Pinky & the Floyd will play two live tribute performances at The ELM on the same day. The shows are set for Friday, March 28th, at 5pm and 9pm. Tickets are on sale now.

In September of last year, the band tragically lost their most iconic member, Joe Kirchner. Known for his searing keytar solos, contagious stage presence and large pink beehive wig, Joe became the face (and driving force) behind Pinky's popularity for the past 16 years. His loss has not only affected the band, but left a huge hole in the entire music community of Montana.

Pinky will honor their lost friend with two stunning tribute concerts in his name. Both the matinee and late show will feature archival photos and video footage from throughout Joe's life, as well as some very special guests from Pinky's past. You will also be surprised to hear Joe's actual keytar audio mixed in with the band's live sound during select iconic Joe moments. This one-of-a-kind production will only happen in Bozeman, and is not to be missed!

Since its inception in 2008, the band has exploded in popularity, selling out nearly every show, wherever they travel. Their performances strike the perfect balance between intimacy and intensity, and the energy and stage presence is unprecedented. The band performs over 80 songs, and seven full albums worth of Pink Floyd music making them one of the premier Pink Floyd tribute acts in the industry. You can expect albums in their entirety, and a little something from every Floyd genre - from Syd Barrett to Division Bell, and everything in between.

Event proceeds go to the Joe Kirchner Memorial Foundation – a nonprofit organization dedicated to honoring the legacy of Joe Kirchner by empowering the Bozeman music community and providing support and resources for musicians, music industry professionals and their families. There will also be exclusive Pinky/Joe merchandise for sale to support the fundraising efforts.

The ELM is located at 506 N 7th in the heart of Bozeman. Peruse current happenings and buy advance tickets at

LFTD offers singer/songwriter smorgasbord

Get up close and personal with Live from the Divide, a local venue whose space allows audiences to be a part of the performance with a regular lineup of national acts and regional favorites. Country singer/songwriter Dan

Rodriguez performs on March 4th. The Detroit native cut his teeth in the live music business after his moving to Minneapolis in his young adult years. Though one of his songs ("When You Come Home") was featured during a 2014 Super Bowl spot, his prolific 2018 EP 25 Years introduced Rodriguez to a broader national base. He has shared the stage with The Civil Wars, Matt Nathanson, NeedtoBreathe, Augustana and Jon McLaughlin, among others. He released new single "Wander" last month.

The Two Tracks follow on March 6th. The band draws inspiration from the rural surroundings of their home in the foothills of the Bighorn Mountains of Wyoming. Their live show features an array of sounds, from introspective ballads to foot-stomping anthems – songs that reflect their earthy authenticity and a genuine love for the craft. Their latest release, It's a Complicated Life, is available now.

Singer/songwriter Leon Majcen takes the stage March 8th. Based in Nashville, the musician offers a unique blend of Americana, folk and country music, drawing on his experiences and his love of the outdoors to craft songs that are both poignant and powerful. With heartfelt lyrics, soulful vocals and deft guitar work, Majcen has built a strong following in Music City and beyond. His new EP Highway One released last month.

Montana-born Chloe Gendrow showcases her music on March 15th. She comes to the Live stage ahead of the spring release of a new EP recorded with producer Nick Anthony. After spending time in Alaska, Gendrow has been deeply influenced by the state's rugged isolation and the heavy Americana/bluegrass scene that thrives there. Singles "Smoke Break" and "Wired Differently" showcase a musical evolution - rich in melancholy and charged with the kind of stark beauty that only remote landscapes can inspire.

Grab a seat for the next Yellowstone Women's Music Collective Songwriter Showcase on March 19th. The evening will feature performances by Stephanie Yeager, Riddy Arman and Quenby Iandiorio.

The collective is a group founded in 2023, centered around the goal of connecting, supporting and inspiring women in music through collaboration, education and visibility in the community. With over 60 members, this group showcases incredible talent found within the Montana music

Country musician Bob Sumner fronts a March 27th show. The singer/songwriter cites the musically progressive sensibilities of his heroes when talking about the spirit of his new album, Some Place to Rest Easy. The album takes as much inspiration from the audio production of Randy Travis as it does the lyrical soul of Big Thief's Adrianne Lenker – a melding of eras, sounds, concepts and stylings that's informed by the past, but never bound by it. The album balances the stirring lyrical depth fans have come to expect with a more buoyant, lively feel.

Closing out another month of performances on March 28th is Satsang. The dynamic musical ensemble weaves together elements of folk, soul and conscious lyrics to create a captivating sonic experience. Drawing inspiration from a diverse array of musical traditions, their sound is characterized by rich harmonies, infectious rhythms and thought-provoking lyrics. With a reputation for captivating live performances and a dedicated fan base, Satsang continues to inspire audiences with their soul-stirring music and heartfelt lyrics.

All shows begin at 8pm, with doors one hour prior. Tickets are sold night of, but these small shows are known to sell out quickly! Advance tickets are available at www.livefromthedivide.com where you can also find a complete list of upcoming shows. The Live studio is located at 627 E Peach St. in Bozeman. •

Springtime country, rock n' roll with Chico Saloon

Warm up during those lingering winter days with a visit to Chico Hot Springs. The local resort offers accommodations for overnight visitors and features regular entertainment in the Saloon. Check out the upcoming live music schedule.

Shakedown County returns for a March 1st performance. Visiting from Great Falls, the foursome is one of Montana's favorite country dance bands that delivers audiences energetic renditions of all the classics and beyond. Expect a supercharged night of country-rock.

Gallatin Valley tribute group 710 Ashbury follow with a pair of shows on March 7th and 8th. The Helena four-piece lays down all your classic Grateful Dead favorites with every spirited performance.

Committed to preserving the legacy of the popular genre-skewing rock band, 710 features a talented group of veteran Montana musicians.

Check out Ian Thomas & Band of Drifters on March 14th and 15th. The group plays modern American roots music and encourage audiences to dance. Based mostly in Montana and Tennessee, the band also includes players from all over the country, keeping the music varied in arrangement, instrumentation and regional influences. The Drifters' sets draw from country, folk and blues traditions with an emphasis on original songs, done in the old style.

Rock, rhythm & blues artists Gary Small & the Coyote Brothers perform March 21st and 22nd. If you love blues, rockabilly, surf, and plain ole good times music, then you're in the right place they're known as "Purveyors of Good Boogie Music." The Coyote Bros are a diverse band defined by its rockabilly, blues, cajun, surf, reggae, and anything else they deem cool.

Later this month is Helena's Ten Years Gone on March 28th and 29th. The band is all about performing great, danceable music - everything from classic rock to alternative, funk, country, pop and dance. They always bring a crowd and an

Ellen hosts nights of Irish bluegrass, modern guitar

Home to entertainment of all varieties, Downtown Bozeman's Ellen Theatre is also the perfect venue to catch a show by touring musical acts and more. Here's a look at who's on the calendar.

Enjoy a night of Irish bluegrass with JigJam on Friday, March 7th. Show starts at 7:30pm. All

When virtuoso Irish playing jumps the pond running through the wide open fields of bluegrass/Americana, JigJam is born. Bluegrass and American folk music originated from the group's home, and now the band is taking it back. Foot stomping, high energy fun is what you're in for with this musical powerhouse live in Founding members from Offaly -Jamie McKeogh (lead singer, guitar) and Daithi Melia (5-string banjo, dobro) are joined by Tipperary-born Gavin Strappe (mandolin, tenor banjo). Hopping aboard for their current tour is Kevin Buckley (fiddle) to make up this iGrass (Irish Bluegrass) quartet. Described as "The best Irish band in bluegrass" and "sparkling, infectious," these lads have been hailed as "Ireland's answer to New Grass

Returning to the Ellen on Wednesday, March 19th, is the California Guitar Trio. The performance begins at 7:30pm. All seats are $38.50.

Since 1991, the group has enthralled listeners with a singular sound that fearlessly crisscrosses genres. The trio's questing spirit drives it to explore the intersections between rock, jazz, classical and world music. It even throws in the occasional surf or spaghetti Western tune for good measure! In addition to dazzling musicianship and interplay, the trio's shows are full of captivating stories and humor that enable concertgoers to feel like they're part of the music. The group's goal is to transcend their instruments, so people focus on the music first, and its considerable technical prowess a distant second.

Looking to a new month, the Second String Orchestra deliver a complimentary performance on Saturday, April 5th. The music begins at 7pm.

The ensemble will perform Dvorak's 9th Symphony. Their dedicated group of adult amateur musicians, led by Dr. Matthew Makeever, offers this free musical experience to the community. Bring the whole family to the beautiful Ellen Theatre for a night of live classical music.

Wine, beer and concessions will be sold in the lobby one hour before the show. Ticketing and further information about other upcoming happenings is available at www.theellentheatre.org. For additional inquiries, call the box office at (406) 585-5885. •

Red Ants announces '25 lineup

Tickets now on sale for the Montana event

Summer festival season is upon us! The Red Ants Pants Music Festival has announced its powerhouse 2025 lineup for the 14th annual event set for this summer. Named the "Montana Event of the Year" by the Montana Office of Tourism, Red Ants Pants is widely known for its lasting impact of mission-based work to increase women's leadership, promote rural communities, and support working family farms and ranches through the programming of the Red Ants Pants Foundation. The event will take place July 24th-27th on the Jackson Ranch just outside of White Sulphur

This year's main stage lineup includes Grammy Award-winning Gillian Welch and David Rawlings, Steve Earle and Reckless Kelly, St. Paul & the Broken Bones, Stephen Wilson Jr. and Brittney Spencer.

Also performing this summer are The National Parks, Wonder Women of Country, Humbird, East Nash Grass, Caleb Caudle & the Sweet Critters, Jon Muq, Kellie Loder, Tylor & the Train Robbers, Marcedes Carroll, Foreshadow and Give It to 'Em FLORABELLE! Kalyn Beasley will headline the annual kickoff

In addition, Red Ants Pants will include 14 side stage performances along with demo area activities designed to teach, showcase and celebrate traditional work skills.

"We are so excited about our 2025 lineup that we decided to release it earlier than ever this year. From GRAMMY award-winning Americana greats to some incredible rising stars, it's an honor to bring folks together in the middle of Montana," said festival producer Sarah Calhoun. "In addition to this incredible lineup, one thing that sets our festival apart is the mission behind the music. We want to thank Red Ants Pants Music Festival fans for their support as ticket sales help invest in the work of the Red Ants Pants Foundation to increase women's leadership, support working family farms and ranches, and enrich rural communities."

Thanks to past attendance at the festival, the Red Ants Pants Foundation has delivered more than $190,000 in community grants to more than 100 entities across Montana to support missiondriven work.

Locals don shamrock best for early Saint Paddy's Day run

With an unrelenting winter winding down, it's time for one of Bozeman's favorite springtime traditions. The streets will soon be lined with vibrant shades of green just ahead of St. Patrick's Day for the annual return of Pub 317's Run to the Pub! As is customary for this immensely popular event, thousands of 10K and halfmarathon racers are expected to don their finest emerald attire before gathering at the starting line on Saturday, March 15th.

Participants will include those looking to run a personal best on the '25 course, creative costume enthusiasts, and everyone in between. Registering for the event earns participants a technical race shirt, finisher's medal and a well-deserved beer (for those 21+) at the finish line after party in Downtown Bozeman. Live entertainment will once again be provided by DJ Missy O'Malley.

A trademark of the annual race, two lucky registrants will be awarded a trip to Ireland to compete in the Dublin Marathon. The drawing will be held during the after party, allowing a pair of Bozeman racers an opportunity to represent Montana on the interna-
